The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o overcast, f fog; w dew.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 1° or 1½° lower; and finally, the thermometer, which has furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during the last 20 years and upwards, is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.—FINANCE.

Calcutta, the 15th April 1879.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Letter from the Accountant-General, No. 712, dated 7th March 1879, proposing that the money which is now in certain cases deposited in district treasuries in sealed bags should in future be credited in personal ledger accounts.

Letter from the Director of Public Instruction, dated 1st May 1878, submitting a report on the Educational Trust Funds in Bengal.

Read again—

Resolution by this Government, dated 18th December 1878, proposing, for the approval of the Government of India, a scheme for the periodical audit and inspection of the accounts of Municipal and Local Funds.

Resolution by this Government, dated 26th December 1878, directing that all Government securities held by public officers in Bengal in any official capacity, and not being mere security deposits, should be endorsed to the Accountant-General and the Financial Secretary to the Government of Bengal jointly, and placed in the custody of the Accountant-General.

Resolution by this Government, dated 7th January 1879, laying down rules for securing a final settlement of all discrepancies in Municipal and Local Fund balances, and the regular and periodical verification of them in future.

RESOLUTION.—Before the introduction of the scheme of Provincial Services, attempts were made by the creation of local funds to give to Provincial Governments and local officers an interest in the development of certain sources of revenue of minor importance, but such attempts were necessarily of very limited scope. The revenue credited to local funds was, as a rule, entirely at the disposal of the local Government, or of officers to whom the local Government delegated its authority, on the sole condition that it should be devoted to certain specified purposes, and expenditure of whatever nature from such funds was incurred under the orders of the local authorities and did not require the previous sanction of the Government of India.

The existence, however, of a large number of separate funds was found in many instances to give rise to much inconvenience. The receipts, expenditure and balances of these funds, as set forth by the officers administering them, seldom agreed with those shown in the Accountant-General's books; there was not unfrequently no proper audit of the expenditure; sources of income were overlooked; many of the petty funds did not appear in the Accountant-General's books at all; and Government, and even the heads of the departments to which the funds appertained, were sometimes unaware of their existence.

2. The introduction and subsequent extension of the scheme of Provincial Services did away with the necessity for the existence of many of these funds; and with the approval of the Government of India a large number have already been closed, their receipts and expenditure amalgamated with the provincial receipts and expenditure, and the balances of the funds credited to Provincial Revenues.

Extensive reforms have also been introduced during the past year in the system of management of the funds which are still shown separately on the Accountant-General's books.

In a Resolution dated 18th December 1878, a system of audit and inspection of the accounts of municipal and local funds was fully set forth and has been submitted for the approval of the Government of India.

In a Resolution, dated 26th December, it was ordered that all Government securities held by public officers in Bengal, in any official capacity, and not being private property or deposits by way of security, should be endorsed to the Accountant-General and the Financial Secretary to this Government jointly, and placed in the custody of the Accountant-General.

In a Resolution of 7th January 1879, rules were laid down for securing a final settlement of all discrepancies in municipal and local fund balances, and the regular and periodical verification of such balances in future.

3. To complete the series of reforms in connection with local funds, it only remains to take measures for ensuring that the receipts, expenditure and balance of every such fund shall appear in accounts of a public nature in such form as shall admit of the necessary control over them being exercised by Government, or by the head of the department to which they belong. It might seem sufficient to order that a separate account shall be kept up in the Accountant-General's books for each fund, but many of the funds which have hitherto not appeared in those books are of an extremely petty nature, and it is not expedient to complicate the public accounts of the province by requiring the Accountant-General to keep a distinct and separate account for each petty fund.

In a Resolution by the Government of India in the Financial Department, No. 1275, dated 19th June 1877, it was moreover ordered that in future no new fund should be constituted without the special permission of the Government of India, and it would clearly be useless, even if it were not highly inexpedient, to propose to bring on the Accountant-General's books at once the fifty-five petty funds whose existence has recently been reported by the Director of Public Instruction, and of which the receipts do not in some instances amount to Rs. 20 per annum each.

4. The confusion into which the management of these funds has fallen is clearly shown in the following extract from the letter of the Director of Public Instruction, dated 1st May 1878:—

"I have the honor to submit the report upon the administration of Educational Trust Funds in Bengal, which was called for in your No. 1301, dated 4th May 1877.

In so doing, it is incumbent on me to offer an explanation of the delay of one year that has intervened between the date of that letter and the submission of the report. The investigation has in fact been a tedious and intricate one. It was known to me that many other Trust Funds were in existence besides those detailed in your letter: I therefore began by forwarding a copy of the Government letter to all District Committees, asking them to give a history of any Educational Trust Fund under their control, together with an account of its present position and application. This enquiry was almost entirely barren of results. District Committees, under whose direct management, to my own knowledge, Trust Funds had been placed, replied in many instances that they had no such funds under their control. From one district, in which it was afterwards discovered that there were five Trust Funds, the answer came that the Committee were aware of none. This result arose in some cases from a confusion as to the exact meaning of the term "Trust Fund;" in others, from ignoring those funds which were administered by the Magistrate or other local body more or less closely connected with the District Committee; in others, again, from causes less intelligible. It became necessary, therefore, after some months had been lost, to begin the enquiry afresh from the records of this office. Unfortunately, it has not been the practice to keep a special record of all Trust Funds; and hence it has frequently happened that, after the original correspondence about a fund has been closed, and the management of the fund has passed away into the hands of some other body, its existence has been lost sight of. When any fund was known or remembered to exist, as in the case of those named in your letter, it was a comparatively easy matter to trace the papers connected with it. Even in such cases it was not always free from uncertainty; and the correspondence with Government, which, as stated in the memorandum accompanying your letter, you have occasionally found yourself unable to trace, has often been equally difficult of detection in the records under my charge. Especially obscure has the search been when the foundation of the trust dated from a time prior to the separate establishment of the Director's office. But the chief difficulty and the longest labour resulted from the detailed examination of the office records in quest of funds whose existence was only brought to light by means of that examination. It will be seen that the history of some of the funds in the subjoined list involved the examination of papers of fifty years back. The search was, as far as it could be made, exhaustive and complete; and it has been justified by the fact that traces of funds have been sometimes discovered in places which appeared least likely to reward such a search. Almost at any time within the last four months has this letter been apparently ready for submission to Government, when the existence of a new fund would be discovered leading to further references and a fresh postponement."

5. The Lieutenant-Governor is of opinion that no further delay should be permitted in laying down a system for the guidance of all officers who have in their official capacity to deal with trust money appertaining to funds of a petty nature. Every Local or Trust Fund, the operations of which extend over a series of years, and whose average receipts exceed Rs. 1,000 a year, must appear as a separate fund with a separate balance in the Accountant-General's books, and will be subject to the rules laid down in the Resolution of 7th January 1879, already quoted, for the settlement and verification of receipts, expenditure and balances; under these orders the only funds for which separate accounts will not be kept by the Accountant-General will be Trust Funds whose annual receipts do not exceed Rs. 1,000 each.

For Trust Funds the average annual receipts of which do not exceed Rs. 1,000, and for Trust Funds which are only created for a temporary purpose, such as funds created by public subscription for the relief of sufferers by a fire or inundation, it will not be necessary to keep separate accounts on the books of the Accountant-General.

Every officer administering one or more of such funds will keep a book entitled "Account of trust moneys administered by the (official title of officer)." In this book will be entered a complete list of all Trust Funds of which the officer has charge, with a serial number attached to each. A brief account of the nature of the fund will also be given, showing the probable annual income of the fund and the purposes to which it is to be devoted, and quoting the correspondence or documents which relate to the creation of the fund. The page of the book will also be given in which the statement of the receipts and expenditure remitted to, or drawn from, the public treasury will be found. Sufficient space must be left after the end of the list to admit of the necessary entries regarding any new fund which may subsequently be created, and several blank pages must follow the statement of receipts and expenditure of each fund, so as to admit of the accounts being carried on in the same book for a number of years. All trust money remitted to the treasury by the officer, and belonging to funds entered in this book, will be credited to a personal ledger account, to be headed "Trust moneys of the (official title of officer)," and the order of remittance should expressly state in each case that the money is to be so credited. In order to prevent the unnecessary multiplication of personal ledger accounts on the books of the Accountant-General, all trust money in any district in the hands of a single officer and of his subordinate must appear in that officer's account only. For the purpose of this rule the Magistrate and the Collector are to be treated as a single officer.

As a rule, no money will be credited to this account unless it be remitted to the treasury by the officer in charge of the fund, and no payments will of course be made except upon his order. The sum of the balances shown in the book called the "Account of trust moneys administered by (official title of officer)" will agree with the balance shown in the personal ledger account of the treasury. As a rule, the officer administering a fund will find it convenient to pass all receipts through the personal ledger account, but this course need not be followed where its adoption would give rise to inconvenience. When the scheme for the inspection of the accounts of municipal and local funds is introduced, the local auditors will be required to inspect from time to time the accounts of all Trust Funds; but in the meantime it must be understood that all inspecting officers, when visiting the office of a subordinate who has charge of Trust Funds, will examine the "Account of trust moneys" to see that it is properly kept up, and that the total balance agrees with that shown in the treasury books. The Accountant-General will now issue such further orders as he may consider necessary to ensure the periodical agreement and verification of balances. Every officer must submit once a year to the head of his department, or to Government, a brief account of the Trust Funds managed by him during the year, stating in the shortest form the object of the funds, the receipts and expenditure during the year, and the balances at the end of the year. Any head of a department who may receive such reports will transmit them to Government with such remarks as he may consider necessary.

6. Precisely the same procedure may be followed in all cases where a public institution, in which a Magistrate or other officer of Government is interested, is allowed to place its balance in the treasury for safe custody, and in this way the necessity for depositing money which does not appear in the accounts in sealed bags or boxes in the public treasury will be avoided.

It will of course be understood that the procedure here set forth will not apply to any case in which a single deposit of trust money is made. As a rule, no trust money will come under these rules unless the transactions in connection with it are likely to extend over a period exceeding one year.

7. Every officer administering a Trust Fund should now take steps to prepare the list and brief description of funds referred to in paragraph 5 of this Resolution.

On completion of this list, he will submit it through the head of his department to the Accountant-General, on whose approval the "Account of trust moneys administered by the (official title of officer)" may be opened at once. No new fund should be added to this list without the previous sanction of the Accountant-General.

8. The orders now given will have the effect of removing from the Accountant-General's books the separate record of several petty funds, but any necessary subsidiary orders concerning them will be issued by the Accountant-General.

Most of the small Trust Funds belong to the Education Department, and it will be convenient that the exact form of the book, to be entitled the "Account of Trust Funds administered by the (official title of officer)" should be settled by the Accountant-General in communication with the Director of Public Instruction.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be forwarded to the Accountant-General, to all Commissioners of Divisions, all District Magistrates, and to the Director of Public Instruction, for information and guidance, and to the Judicial, Political, Revenue, and General Departments of this office for information.

For instance, the marks on a cask of Dhobah Rum stand thus:—

2. Spirit for exportation by sea may be removed without payment of duty from a licensed distillery to the Custom House, and from the Custom House, on the person so removing them executing the bond required by section 144 of the Act for the payment of full duty in case of failure to export within four months, or to satisfy the Chief Customs Officer that the spirit has been landed at some other port within British India, not being a free port. The bond is taken by the Chief Officer of Customs.

3. A member of some established house of business at the port of exportation must be one of the parties bound, and the parties bound are jointly and severally answerable for any amount which may ultimately fall due under the bond.

4. The Chief Officer of Customs may refuse the security tendered, without assigning any reason, except in the event of an appeal from his decision.

5. The distillery and apparatus is considered as pledged for any amount which may become due under the bond.

6. On a bond being duly executed, and its execution certified by the Chief Officer of Customs, the Collector of Excise Revenue will grant a pass for the spirit bonded, without payment of the duty.

7. On the spirit being brought to the Custom House for exportation, the exporter must declare, in writing, by what bond it is protected, and produce the pass of the Collector of Excise Revenue and the distillery invoice. The spirit is then gauged for quantity, and proved to ascertain the strength, by a Custom House Officer. If the quantity and strength so ascertained be the same as that marked on the casks (the casks being the same which were removed from the distillery), the spirit is allowed to pass for export by sea, and the quantity is written off on the bond. If the quantity and strength be not the same as that marked on the casks, duty is levied on the difference, as provided by section 147 of the Act.

8. The following rules should be observed for gauging casks lying with the bung-rod, whether the spirit be required for exportation or for local consumption. Government officers must, however, bear in mind that the results obtained from simple measurement by the bung-rod are only approximate. Other instruments and professional skill are needed to ascertain the exact contents of a cask. [N.B.—The bung-rod has four sides; of these two opposite sides are marked in inches and tenths for taking diameters; a third is marked in imperial gallons for taking the "capacity" according to the diagonal line; the fourth relates only to the calculation of superficial circular gallons, and is not ordinarily used.]

(1) Take care that the cask is laid perfectly horizontal with the bung exactly at the top.

(2) Measure by the side of the rod showing imperial gallons, from the centre of the inside of the bung-stave to the lower chunt (i.e. where the head fits into the staves) at each end of the cask. The mean between the measurements so ascertained is the "capacity" of the cask.

(3) Measure by the side of the rod marked in inches the diameter from the inside of the bung-stave to the stave directly below it at the bottom. This gives the "bung diameter."

(4) Measure by the same side of the rod the depth in inches of liquor in the cask. This gives the "wet inches."

(5) Turn to the page of the Ullage tables* which is headed with the ascertained "capacity," look along the top for the column corresponding to the "bung diameter," and under this opposite the "wet inches" (shown in the left hand column) will be found the "ullage" or liquid contents of the cask.

* The tables referred to are a reprint from the "Imperial Ullager," and can be had on application to the Board of Revenue.

9. When the entire bonded quantity is written off upon the bond, the Chief Officer of Customs should cancel the bond.

10. It is for the exporter to see that the exports made from time to time under a bond are properly written off, or certified on the bond; and he must testify, by his signature to the entries, that the exports are correctly written off.

11. If, at the expiration of the period named in the bond and in section 144 of the Act, the entire quantity of spirit covered by the bond has not been accounted for as required in the Act, and written off as provided in the preceding clause, the Chief Officer of Customs will proceed to recover the duty due upon the quantity of spirit which may not have been so accounted for, unless the currency of the bond shall have been renewed.

12. Time-expired bonds may be renewed at the discretion of the Chief Officer of Customs for a further period not exceeding four months from the date of the expiration of the first currency. On the expiration of the second currency, the Chief Officer of Customs will proceed to adjust such time-expired bonds and levy duty on the quantity of spirit unaccounted for.

13. A maximum allowance, according to the following scale, is made on account of ullage and leakage on spirit removed under bond from a distillery in the interior for exportation by sea, and on spirit imported from the Madras Presidency into Orissa :—

For a distance not exceeding 100 miles,	5	per centum.
For a distance above 100 miles, but not exceeding 200 miles	7½	ditto.
For all distances exceeding 200 miles...	10	ditto.

14. In the case of spirit exported under bond to another port within British India (not being a free port), in adjusting the bond, an allowance for wastage and leakage during the sea voyage is made, for a voyage of one month, at the rate of two per cent., and for any longer voyage, at three and a half per cent.

15. Spirit for use as ships' stores during the voyage may be shipped, free of duty, on vessels clearing to a foreign port. Passes for such spirit are, however, detained at the Custom House until the vessel for the use of which it is intended is actually under clearance, when they are made over to the shipper's servants. Such shipments must be made under bonds, to be cancelled on production of a certificate from the preventive officer on the ship that no portion of the spirits covered by the bond has been consumed in port. The bond is in the form C prescribed by section 144 of the Act, mutatis mutandis.

NOTIFICATION.

The 31st March 1879.—The following rules under the provisions of sections 9 and 155 of the Sea Customs Act VIII of 1878 having been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, are published for general information, as required by section 204.

Section 9.—The designation of the various officers of Customs appointed by the local Government under the provisions of sections 6 and 7 of the Act shall ordinarily be—

Collector of Customs.
Deputy Collector of Customs.
Assistant Collector of Customs.
Superintendent of the Preventive Service.
Preventive Officers, or Officers of the Preventive Service.
Appraisers.
Superintendent of Salt Golahs.

2. The Collector of Customs shall be competent to exercise all or any of the powers conferred, and to perform all or any of the duties imposed, upon an Officer of Customs by this Act. Where, as in Calcutta, the Collector is also the Chief Customs Officer, he shall also be competent to exercise all or any of the powers conferred, and to perform all or any of the duties imposed, on the Chief Customs Officer by this Act.

3. The Deputy Collector and Assistant Collector of Customs shall be competent, in the temporary absence of the Collector of Customs, to exercise all or any of the powers conferred on that officer. Ordinarily the Assistant and the Deputy Collector, and all the other officers referred to in section 1, are subordinate to the Collector of Customs, and, except as hereinafter provided, shall be competent to exercise such of the powers conferred, and to perform such of the duties imposed, upon Officers of Customs by this Act, as the Collector may require of them, and to perform all or any of the duties, whether mentioned in this Act or not, as are ordinarily comprised in the management of a Custom House.

4. The Preventive Officers are specially employed for the purpose of preventing smuggling. Their duties consist in guarding vessels, and in preventing the shipment or landing of cargoes before a proper pass has been produced, or until the requirements of the Act have been carried out in respect of such cargo. Their ordinary duties are those enumerated in sections 17, 53, 54, 67, 68, 69, 70, 76, 83, 129, 141, 143, 169, 170, 171, 178, 178, 181, and 194.

5. The duties of Appraisers are principally connected with the examination and classification of goods, and are ordinarily those referred to in sections 27, 29, 31, 32, 33, 34, 37, 39, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, and 194.

6. The power to adjudge confiscation and the power to impose a penalty shall be limited, in the case of the Deputy Collector of Customs, Calcutta, to the powers indicated in clause (b) of section 182, and in the case of all Assistant Collectors of Customs, to those indicated in clause (c) of section 182.

7. If any dispute arises between any Officer of Customs and any Master of a vessel, or owner of goods, or other persons, relating to the importation, exportation, and warehousing of any goods, or to the proper rate of duty payable in respect thereof, or to the levy of any duty or penalty thereon, or to any seizure or forfeiture thereof, the Collector of Customs shall decide such dispute, subject to an appeal to the Chief Customs Authority, as provided in the Act.

8. For the purpose of determining claims to drawback under the provisions of sections 42 and 43, the date of importation of any goods shall be deemed to be the date on which the bill-of-entry thereof was delivered to the Customs Collector under section 86.

9. In order to obviate the loss and damage which is known to be caused to the owners of goods landed from ships under sections 83, 84, and 85, for which no claim is made within the period prescribed, and which are therefore liable to sale under section 88 of the Act, the Customs Collector may permit the Master of the vessel, or his agents applying to act for him under section 5 of the Act, to take delivery of all such unclaimed goods upon paying all duties and charges which are due upon such unclaimed goods, and also entering into a bond whereby he, or his agents so acting for him, shall undertake to meet all claims which may be preferred in respect of any goods so delivered to the Master of any vessel or his agents as aforesaid.

10. When any goods are seized by an Officer of Customs for any infringement of the provisions of the Act, and any penalty or confiscation shall have been adjudged in consequence, it shall be competent to the Customs Collector to award to such seizing officer a part of the penalty imposed, or a part of the sale-proceeds of such confiscated goods, not exceeding two-fifths of the whole, after deducting the Government duty, if any, and any charges which may have been incurred in conveying the goods to the Custom House.

11. Whenever an amendment of the valuation stated in a bill-of-entry is permitted under the last clause of section 32, and excess duty, together with a penalty, is levied in consequence, the whole or a part of such penalty shall, at the discretion of the Chief Officer of Customs, be payable to the officer who detected the under-valuation of the goods.

12. No refund of duty on account of the re-landing or short shipment of goods shall be granted unless application is made within three months from the date on which information of such short shipment or relanding was given to the Customs Collector under the provisions of section 140.

13. Preventive Officers are required to bring to the immediate notice of the Conservator of the Port or of one of his subordinates any infringement of the rules for the prevention and suppression of fires on ships within the port of Calcutta, especially of those regarding the use of lights and fires that they may observe while on duty on board ships in port.

14. The following rules are prescribed in connection with the parcel-post system between Ceylon and Calcutta, and between the Straits Settlements and Calcutta :—

(a) On the arrival of any parcels from a foreign port, the Postmaster shall give notice to the Collector of Customs of such arrival, and shall not take any steps to deliver such parcels until the arrival of an officer deputed to attend by the Collector.

(b) Immediately on the receipt of notice from the Postmaster, the Collector shall send to the post-office an Appraiser, or other competent officer, to determine the amount of Customs duty payable on the parcels.

(c) The Customs Officer is, as a general rule, to be guided by the declaration of the senders with regard to the contents of parcels; but should he have reason to doubt the correctness of such declaration, he may order the detention of the parcels, and the Postmaster shall on his requisition detain them, pending receipt of the Collector's orders as regards their examination.

(d) The Appraiser shall be provided with a book containing parcel-post passes in triplicate, as per form annexed. Of these passes, the Appraiser shall fill up, sign, and give to the Postmaster, in exchange for the amount of duty, one form, and shall fill up a second, which will be retained in the book as a counterfoil. The third form shall be filled up by the Appraiser, but signed by the Postmaster, and delivered to the Appraiser at the post-office entry of the goods. On this latter document the duty is to be passed to account, the cashier giving a receipt for the money, and the Import Supervisor certifying that it has been duly entered in the registers. The short copy counterfoils are to be signed each day by the accountant as an acknowledgment that the sums realized have been duly paid in from the Appraisers' Department.

Spirit rendered unfit for human consumption.

Section 155.—1. Spirit imported into British India for use exclusively in arts, manufactures, or chemistry, which has been rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption, is subject only to an ad valorem duty of 10 per cent. under Article 32, Schedule A of the Indian Tariff Act, XVI of 1875.

2. Whenever such spirit is imported from the United Kingdom into any port of the Bengal Presidency, before it can be admitted at the reduced rate of duty as aforesaid, the importer must satisfy the Collector of Customs at that port that the spirit has been rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption, by the production of a certificate from a competent Customs or Excise authority of the United Kingdom that the spirit has already been subjected, under proper supervision in the United Kingdom, to a process by which it has been rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption.

3. If the importer cannot so satisfy the Collector of Customs, the latter shall cause such spirit to be examined, and, if necessary, rendered unfit for consumption in the manner hereinafter described as applicable to spirit imported from other countries than the United Kingdom.

4. Whenever such spirit as aforesaid is imported from other countries than the United Kingdom into any port of the Bengal Presidency, the Collector of Customs at that port shall send a sample of such spirit to the Chemical Examiner for examination and report, at the expense of the importer, and if the Chemical Examiner shall certify that the spirit has been rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption, the Collector of Customs shall admit it at the reduced rate of duty.

5. Whenever imported spirit is to be rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption by Officers of the Customs Department, the ingredient to be used for admixture with the spirit shall be caoutchoucine, and it shall be mixed with the spirit in the proportion of one part and half a volume of the caoutchoucine to 98½ parts of volume of the spirit which shall not be of less strength than 30 per cent. over-proof.

6. But when it can be proved to the satisfaction of the Board of Revenue that the presence of caoutchoucine will render the spirit unsuitable for the purpose for which it is required, special sanction may be obtained for the use of wood-naptha instead of caoutchoucine. In this case one part of volume of crude wood-naptha shall be mixed with nine parts of volume of spirit having a strength not less than 30 per cent. over-proof.

7. The caoutchoucine or the wood-naptha, however, before its admixture with the spirit, must be tested by the Chemical Examiner to Government, who must certify to the Collector of Customs that it is of the proper strength, fitted, if used in the proportions mentioned in rule 5 or 6, to effectually and permanently render unpalatable and unfit for human consumption the spirit with which it is mixed.

8. Any expense which may be incurred by the Collector of Customs in rendering spirit unfit for human consumption, or in ascertaining that it has been so rendered, must be paid by the importer.

9. The use of spirit methylated or caoutchoucined according to these rules is not permitted in the manufacture or preparation of tinctures, medicated spirits, hypo-nitrous ether, or other pharmaceutical preparations, or in the manufacture or preparation of any other article capable of being used as a beverage, or internally as a medicine, with the exception of sulphuric ether, chloroform, and chloral hydrate.

NOTIFICATION.

The 9th April 1879.—It is hereby notified for general information that, under the provisions of section 269 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act X of 1877), the Lieutenant-Governor has passed the following rules for the maintenance and custody, while under attachment, of live stock and other moveable property above the value of 20 rupees:—

I. The attaching officer shall give the debtor, or, in his absence, any present adult member of his family, the option of having the attached property kept on his premises or in some other place in the village, on condition that a suitable place for its safe custody be provided by him.

II. If no such suitable place be provided, the officer shall remove the property to the Court at the decree-holder's expense. In the event of the decree-holder failing to provide the necessary funds, the attachment shall be withdrawn.

III. Whenever attached property is kept at the place where it is attached, the officer shall forthwith report the fact to the Court, and shall, with his report, forward an accurate list of the property seized, such that the Court may thereon at once issue the proclamation of sale prescribed by section 287.

IV. If the debtor shall give his consent in writing to the sale of the property without awaiting the expiry of the term prescribed in section 290, the officer shall receive the same and forward it without delay to the Court for its orders.

V. When property is removed to the Court, it shall be kept by the Nazir on his own sole responsibility in such place as may be approved by the Court. If the property cannot, from its nature or bulk, be conveniently kept in the Court premises, or in the personal custody of the Nazir, he may, subject to approval by the Court, make such arrangements for its safe custody under his own supervision as may be most convenient and economical, and the Court may fix the remuneration to be allowed to the persons, not being officers of the Court, in whose custody the property is kept.

VI. When property remains at the place where it is attached in the custody of the attaching officer, and any person other than the judgment-debtor shall claim the same or any part of it, the officer shall nevertheless, unless the decree-holder desires to withdraw the attachment of the property so claimed, remain in possession, and shall direct the claimant to prefer his claim to the Court.

VII. If the decree-holder shall withdraw an attachment, or if it shall be withdrawn under Rule II or Rule IX, the attaching officer shall inform the debtor, or, in his absence, an adult member of his family, that the property is at his disposal.

In the absence of any person to take charge of it, or in case the officer shall have had notice of claim by a person other than the judgment-debtor, the officer shall, if the property has been moved from the premises in which it was seized, replace it where it was found at the time of seizure.

VIII. Whenever live-stock is kept at the place where it has been attached, the judgment-debtor shall be at liberty to undertake the due feeding and tending of it under the supervision of the attaching officer, but the latter shall, if required by the decree-holder, and on his paying for the same at a rate to be fixed by the District Judge, and subject to the orders of the Court under whose orders the attachment is made, engage the services of as many persons as may be necessary for the safe custody of it.

IX. In the event of the judgment-debtor failing to feed attached live-stock, the officer shall call upon the decree-holder either to pay for feeding it on the spot or for the expenses attending its removal to the Court. If the decree-holder shall fail to provide for either, the officer shall report the matter to the Court without delay.

X. When attached live-stock is brought to Court, the Nazir shall be responsible for the safe custody and proper feeding of it, so long as the attachment continues.

XI. If there be a Government pound in or near the place where the Court is held, the Nazir shall be at liberty to place in it such attached live-stock as can be properly there kept, in which case the pound-keeper will be responsible for the property to the Nazir, and shall receive the same rates for accommodation and maintenance thereof as are paid in respect of impounded cattle of the same description

XII. If there be no pound available, or if, in the opinion of the Court, it be inconvenient to lodge the attached live-stock in the pound, the Nazir may keep it in his own premises, or he may entrust it to any person selected by himself and approved by the Court. The Nazir will in all cases remain responsible for the custody of the property.

XIII. Each Court shall from time to time fix the rates to be allowed for the custody and maintenance of the various descriptions of live-stock with reference to seasons and local circumstances. The District Judge may make any alteration he deems fit in the rates prescribed by Courts subordinate to him. Where there are two or more Courts in the same place, the rates shall be the same for each Court.

XIV. The officer deputed to attach moveable property should be furnished with a certificate stating the period for which the Court fee required under Rule I, Article 4, Parts II, III, IV of the Court Fee Rules has been paid, and he shall give notice thereof to the judgment-debtor or other person at whose instance he remains in possession at the place of attachment, and if such person shall desire that the property shall remain at that place for a longer period, he shall be bound to pay into Court in advance the further fee as required by Rule IV.

NOTIFICATION.

The 10th April 1879.—In supersession of the rules for the Gilchrist Scholarships published in the Calcutta Gazette dated the 16th December 1868, the Lieutenant-Governor orders the publication of the following rules for general information.

A. MACKENZIE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

GILCHRIST SCHOLARSHIPS.

AMENDED RULES FOR THE SCHOLARSHIPS INSTITUTED BY THE GILCHRIST EDUCATIONAL TRUST.

(These Rules will take effect at and from the Examination to be held in January 1880.)

Two scholarships, each of the value of £100 per annum,* and tenable for four years,† will be annually awarded to candidates born in India, who shall become eligible by competitive examination, under the following conditions:—

1.—Of the parents of each candidate, one at least shall not be of pure European descent.

2.—Every candidate must furnish proof satisfactory to the local authorities that he has completed his sixteenth year, and that his age does not exceed twenty-two years.

3.—Every candidate must furnish proof satisfactory to the local authorities that in regard to personal character and social position he is qualified to be admitted to competition for a scholarship.

4.—The subjects of examination are identical with those prescribed for the Matriculation Examination of the London University, and will include (1) Latin; (2) any two of the following languages—Greek, French, German, and either Sanskrit or Arabic; (3) the English language, English History, and modern Geography; (4) Mathematics; (5) Natural Philosophy; and (6) Chemistry. The examination papers will be those prepared in these subjects respectively for the Matriculation Examination of the University of London; and the number of hours assigned to each of the papers will be the same as those assigned to the same paper by the University of London. These papers will be sent out from England in sealed covers through the India Office, to the charge of Sub-Examiners appointed by Her Majesty's Government.

5.—The examination will be held, under the charge of a Government Sub-Examiner, at each of the Presidential Capitals simultaneously; and shall commence on the third Monday of January in each year. The place and hours of examination will be appointed by the local authorities.

6.—The Sub-Examiner will open the sealed covers containing the examination papers in the place of examination, at the hour prescribed for the candidates to assemble. He will be present throughout the whole of each examination, and will at the end of each collect the answers written by every candidate during the time allowed. He will transmit these answers in sealed covers, through the India Office, to the Secretary of the Gilchrist Trust, who will cause them to be carefully considered and compared by Examiners of established reputation named by the Trustees in each of the respective subjects. The Trustees will name, whenever practicable, the Examiners or Sub-Examiners acting in those subjects respectively for the University of London. The Examiners will consider the papers with as little delay as possible, and will make their award thereupon, assigning to each paper a number of marks suitable to its merits. Such award will be transmitted forthwith by the Secretary, through the India Office, to the local authorities in the Presidential Capitals, to be by them announced to the candidates.

7.—The first scholarship will be awarded to the candidate whose aggregate of marks stands highest; provided that he passes in each of the six subjects above mentioned, and that his aggregate of marks amounts to not less than one-half of the total. Such candidate will have his choice whether he will pursue his curriculum of study in the University of Edinburgh, or in the University College, London.

8.—The second scholarship will be awarded to the candidate whose aggregate of marks stands second; provided that he passes in each of the six subjects, and that his aggregate of marks amounts to not less than one-half of the total. Such candidate shall pursue his curriculum of study in that one of the two institutions abovenamed, which shall not have been chosen by the other candidate.

9.—If the two highest candidates are equal in aggregate number of marks, the privilege of choosing between these two institutions shall be determined between them by lot.

10.—The successful candidates will be expected to arrive in London, and to present themselves to the Secretary of the Gilchrist Trust, not later than the first week in the October following their appointment.

* The Secretary of State has also sanctioned the grant of the sum of £100 for passage to each of the scholars proceeding to England, and £50 for a return passage to such of them as may forfeit their scholarships. The Trustees will also pay a sum not exceeding £50 for the return passage of each successful scholar, whose passage may not have been otherwise provided for.

† The Trustees will be prepared to give favourable consideration to the case of any Indian scholar who, having taken his Bachelor's degree with honors, is desirous of obtaining an additional year for the purpose of proceeding to the degree of Master or Doctor.

11.—The scholarships will be considered as commencing from the 1st of July following the award of the examiners; and will be paid, in quarterly instalments, on the first days of October, January, April, and July.

12.—Each scholar shall attend in every Session at least three courses of lectures at the institution in which he studies (unless especially excused by the Trustees from doing so during the first year), and shall transmit to the Secretary to the Gilchrist Trust, at the conclusion of each Session, a certificate from each of the Professors whose lectures he has attended, stating that his diligence and conduct have been satisfactory. Should he not be able to produce such a certificate, or should he be proved guilty of discreditable conduct elsewhere, he shall be considered to have forfeited all claim to the remaining instalments of his scholarship.

13.—Each scholar will be expected to present himself at the first examination in one of its four faculties—Arts, Science, Law, or Medicine—before the termination of the second (Academical) year* from the commencement of his scholarship, unless excused from doing so by the Trustees, and if he do not so present himself (unless by permission of the Trustees), or if he fail to pass, he shall be considered as forfeiting his claim to the remaining two years' instalments of his scholarship.

14.—The foregoing scheme will be subject to revision from time to time; the Trustees reserving to themselves the power of altering the conditions of the scholarships, or of altogether withdrawing them if they deem it expedient to do either. But no change will be made in such a manner as to affect the interests of candidates already appointed to scholarships, or in any case without twelve months' notice.

POWERS OF SETTLEMENT OFFICERS.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved that the Bill to define and limit the powers of Settlement Officers be further considered in order to the settlement of its clauses.

The motion was agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. Dampier said the first amendment he had to propose was the substitution of the following definition of "Settlement Officer" for that which stood in the Bill, the object being merely to carry out what was agreed to at the last meeting of the Council:—

"Settlement Officer" means the Collector or any officer in charge of the revenue jurisdiction of a district, and includes any Assistant Commissioner, Deputy Collector, or Sub-Deputy Collector whom the Collector or other officer as aforesaid may authorize to conduct the enquiries and proceedings connected with any settlement of land revenue, and any officer who may be appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor to make any such settlement."

The motion was agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. Dampier said in the amendment upon section 4, it had been decided to retain the reference to section 51 of Regulation VIII of 1793 in deference to the sense of the Council as expressed at the last meeting, although he believed that doing so would make no difference whatever. But in the reference to the Rent Laws, Act X of 1859, and Bengal Act VIII of 1869, an important alteration had been made. The section as it stood in the Bill provided that nothing in those Acts should affect settlement proceedings; but as a matter of fact a great deal in those Acts must affect settlement proceedings, everything in fact except the sections relating to the enhancement of rents; and, therefore, instead of saying that nothing in those Acts should affect settlement proceedings under Regulation VII of 1822, &c., the following section which he proposed to substitute for section 4 of the Bill specified the enhancement sections of those two Acts:—

"Nothing contained in section 51 of Regulation VIII of 1793, or in sections 13, 14, and 17 of Act X of 1859, or in sections 14, 15, and 18 of Bengal Act VIII of 1869, shall affect any settlement proceedings under Regulation VII of 1822, or under any other law for the time being in force for the regulation of settlements of land revenue."

The motion was agreed to.

On the motion of the Hon'ble Mr. Dampier, verbal amendments were made in sections 5 and 6.

The Hon'ble Ameer Ali said, with reference to section 6 of the Bill, it would be remembered that, when the Bill was introduced, he mentioned certain objections to this section as it stood on the ground that it might press heavily on ryots. It might happen in many cases that the holding of a ryot might deteriorate whilst the productive powers of the surrounding land might increase, and therefore, if the productive powers of the surrounding land were taken to furnish the test of the production of the land of the ryot, it would press heavily on that particular ryot. But the hon'ble member in charge explained the reasons which induced him to put in the clause in the Bill, and Mr. Ameer Ali found those reasons to be very cogent. In many cases an original holding could not be identified; in many cases additions were made by purchase, and diminutions were made by the ryot selling off a portion of his land, and therefore it seemed necessary that a clause of this kind should be enacted, and he acknowledged the force of those reasons. But he found that the clause which was now proposed referred only to those cases where the original holding could not be identified. He therefore did not see the necessity of leaving the Settlement Officer to proceed on four or five grounds of enhancement. If the holding could not be identified, that contingency should be mentioned in clause 4 of the section, otherwise it would press heavily on the ryot. It would throw upon him the onus of proving that the rates upon which the basis of the enhancement was made were not normal rates, were not rates which prevailed in the surrounding neighbourhood, that the land had deteriorated; and therefore Mr. Ameer Ali submitted that, if the section was to be applied equally to the class of cases in which the holding would not be identified, those words ought to be inserted, so that the Settlement Officer should not capriciously exercise his discretion. If the holding could be identified, he could proceed on the ground stated above; if not, on this special clause. No one, Mr. Ameer Ali believed, had the interests of the people more at heart than the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill; but he believed it his duty to bring these circumstances to the notice of the Hon'ble Member, as well as to draw the attention of the Council to them, because Settlement Officers would not be guided in their proceedings by the debates which took place in Council, but by the actual instructions contained in the law. Therefore he thought that, if the Council wished to make the law intelligible, the words which he had suggested, viz. "when the area of the tenure cannot be ascertained," should be introduced in clause 4 to enable Settlement Officers to form an opinion with reference to the kind of lands to which that clause should be applied.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said this was the one amendment suggested which he had not been able to accept. The proposal came to this, that the Settlement Officer should never be allowed to make use of the ground of enhancement contained in clause 4 unless he found it impossible to identify the holding; in other cases, he would have to proceed as in clause 3 was directed. He admitted that it was the difficulty of identifying holdings as required in clause 3 which led to the introduction of this Bill; but as clause 4 had been worded, it seemed to him that it should not be limited only to those cases in which the holding could not be identified. One of the objections to so doing would be this, that in every case in which the ryot wished to contest the assessment of rent under clause 4, he would say that if the Settlement Officer had taken proper trouble he might have identified the holding and the rates at which it was originally settled. The burden of such an objection it would be impossible for the Settlement Officer to bear; it had been found necessary in recent settlement proceedings to pick out certain ryots against whom to bring suits, and the Collector had succeeded in identifying the holdings and the dates of creation of some 10 or 12 ryots, but it was after weeks, if not months, of laborious search among papers, which would be quite impossible for each of a numerous body of ryots. If the amendment now proposed was passed, then every ryot in an estate might, in contesting the assessment under clause 4, say—"If the Collector had only taken sufficient pains he could have identified my holding as originally created, and therefore he has acted illegally in enhancing my rent under clause 4, instead of clause 3." The insertion of the words proposed would be sufficient to upset settlements under clause 4.

There was another very radical defect which was apt to occur under clause 3 of which MR. DAMPIER would give an instance. At the settlement 40 years ago, certain rates were adopted. Say that the zemindar at the time of the settlement had given a holding to A at Rs. 10 jumma; the zemindar then slept over his rights; he did not bustle about to keep enhancing rents every time there was a rise in the value of produce, but he allowed every new ryot to come in at the rates fixed at the last settlement, which were well known and household words. Amongst the new ryots who came in, one B might get a holding precisely identical with that which A had got 20 years before. By that time the rise in produce had very much increased; say it had doubled. The result was that the old ryot A held his land at Rs. 10, which represented one-half of the value of produce at the time his holding was created; whereas B, who did not come on the estate till 20 years later, and had exactly a similar holding, also held at Rs. 10; but the value of produce had risen to Rs. 40 by the year in which B's rent was fixed; B's rent therefore represented only one-fourth of the value of produce. Thus on re-settlement or enhancement the rent of the older ryot might be enhanced to half the value of the produce as it was now estimated, while the rent of B, who came in 20 years later, could only be enhanced to one-fourth the present price of produce. In other words, the younger ryot would be much more favourably situated than the older, which was contrary to all the principles of the rent laws. For these reasons Mr. Dampier was opposed to the amendment.

The HON'BLE AMEER ALI's amendment was put and negatived.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said at the last meeting the Council did not agree as to the principle upon which the rents of under-tenants were to be adjusted, and eventually his amendment to section 8 was rejected, and the original section struck out of the Bill altogether. But it seemed to him, and his hon'ble friends who helped him in drawing up the amendments on the notice paper since the last meeting of the Council, that it would make the Bill much more complete to introduce some sort of rules on the subject. The Council had been prepared to accept the clause which was originally drawn up by the Select Committee, to the effect that every talookdar should be allowed 10 per cent. at least. He had then pointed out that a zemindar might fraudulently create half a dozen under-tenures, each of which would be entitled to 10 per cent., and there would certainly be something very much less left than the revenue which the Government ordinarily took. On reconsideration, however, he was willing to assent to the 10 per cent. allowance, as that had been allowed by previous laws. It seemed best to divide under-tenures into two classes—those whose tenures were binding upon the Government, and those which were not so binding. Even if a series of six binding under-tenures were created, and they were each allowed 10 per cent., the Government would have some 50 per cent. less out of the gross assets. And therefore, where the under-tenure was one which was binding on the Government, he would allow each under-tenant in the series at least 10 per cent. profit upon the rent which he received.

In passing on to clause (c) the distinction between under-tenures which were binding and those which were not binding upon the Government should be carefully borne in mind. This clause related to tenures which were actually in existence, but under circumstances under which they were not binding upon the Government, i.e. where the person who created the tenure had no authority to create it as against the Government. In such cases it would be admitted that there was no reason whatever why the Government should lose any of its revenue. His hon'ble friend opposite, Baboo Mohini Mohun Roy, said that the proper way was to ignore such under-tenures, but unfortunately Regulation VII of 1822 required that the Settlement Officer should record what he found actually existing. If he found these tenures existing, and that they were good against the zemindar, and only not binding against the Government, the rents payable by the holders must be recorded. The Settlement Officer would take care, under clause (a), to record that they were not binding against the Government. Then how was he to settle what rent was payable by each under-tenant in the series? To MR. DAMPIER personally it seemed that no rule could be laid down: it could only be said that all the circumstances should be considered by the Settlement Officer, and that he should record such rent to be demandable as appeared best to his judgment with reference to the circumstances of the case. The objection which existed against the Settlement Officer deciding the rents appeared to MR. DAMPIER to be particularly weak as applied to cases of this class. The Government was put aside; the under-tenures were not binding against the Government, and therefore the Settlement Officer could no longer be said to be a Judge in his own cause; he was merely arbitrating amongst other parties with which the Government was not concerned. There was another safeguard which he thought might be introduced. If hon'ble members would not trust the Settlement Officer, to make everything complete MR. DAMPIER had inserted the last four line of the proviso. If the under-tenant contested by suit the rents recorded, the court might proceed to settle the rents of under-tenures which were not binding upon the Government, as if no mention was made of them in the Act, but with one exception, viz. that the suit must be instituted within four months. It seemed to him that this would afford ample protection in such cases against any want of discretion or of experience in the Settlement Officer. The hon'ble gentlemen who had assisted MR. DAMPIER since the last meeting of Council proposed to introduce what would be found in the first half of the proviso:—

"Provided that in adjusting the rents of different grades of under-tenants, where there are more than one, the Settlement Officer shall, as far as may be, assign to each and to the zemindar the same relative proportion of the difference between the Government demand of revenue and the gross rent payable by the ryots as they severally enjoyed before the settlement proceedings commenced."

MR. DAMPIER had drawn out a table from which he thought it would be seen that this provision would not work. Yesterday he had before him a case from Backergunge, to which he had attempted to apply this provision, and he found that it would not work. His hon'ble friends had, he believed, prepared an amendment to meet his objections; but if that amendment could not be adopted, he would wish to leave out the first part of the proviso above quoted. His motion now would be to insert the following section after section 6:—

"6A. The rent recorded as demandable from an under-tenant shall be determined in accordance with the following rules:—

"(a)—Whenever the Settlement Officer shall find any person holding as an under-tenant he shall first ascertain and record whether the under-tenure so held is binding as against the Government.

"(b)—If the Settlement Officer finds the under-tenure to be so binding, the rent recorded as demandable from such under-tenant shall in no case be higher than an amount which shall be 10 per cent below the aggregate of the rents recorded as payable to him from the subordinate under-tenants and ryots whose holdings fall within his tenure.

"(c)—If the Settlement Officer shall find that the under-tenure is not binding as against the Government, he shall first determine the proportionate amount of the demand of land revenue to be assessed upon the lands included in the under-tenure in accordance with any orders of Government for the time being in force regulating the demand of land revenue, and shall record the rent payable by such under-tenant at such a sum (not being less than such proportionate amount of land revenue or more than the aggregate of the rents recorded as payable to him from the subordinate under-tenants and ryots whose holdings fall within his tenure) as may seem fair and equitable with reference to the character and circumstances of the tenure.

"But nothing in this clause shall be held to limit the discretion of the Civil Court in determining in any suit under section 10A the rent of an under-tenant of the class described in this clause."

The HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE observed that it would, perhaps, simplify matters if hon'ble members would speak to the principle before any particular form of amendment was proposed. He himself was quite contented with the amended section as drafted by the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill, and he thought it unobjectionable that, in cases where the Government was not interested, the Settlement Officer should be left to fix the rents of under-tenants in the first instance, leaving discontented parties to go to the Civil Court. If, however, that view should not commend itself to the Council, he was prepared to move a further amendment, which would, he thought, be open to none of the objections anticipated by the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill.

BABOO MOHINI MOHUN ROY said it appeared to him that the matter which it was proposed to lay before the Council for its consideration was much too important to be brought in simply as an amendment to the Bill; the provisions which were intended to be introduced were certainly of a character which required that they should be carefully considered by the Select Committee, and the Council should not be asked hurriedly to adopt them. He would ask, with reference to the first clause of the section, that the Settlement Officer should first ascertain and record whether the under-tenure was binding against the Government, what validity would be given to the Settlement Officer's finding on that point [MR. DAMPIER—none]. Then he did not see any practical use in adjusting the rents of each under-tenant. There were various other matters of importance to be considered, and he therefore thought the question should be referred back to the Select Comm ittee for re-consideration.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said all the proceedings of Settlement Officers ever since 1859 had been without finality of any sort, with one exception, viz. the fixation of Government revenue, and now he was asked in respect of this one item, "what was the use of recording the rents to be paid by under-tenants if it was to have no finality?" Unless the Council were to repeal Regulation VII of 1822, they could not prevent the Settlement Officer, when recording his proceedings, from recording the rent payable, and whether the tenure was binding on the Government; that was an obligation put upon him by law. If the Council would not let the Bill pass with a clause requiring the Settlement Officer to record whether an under-tenure was binding on the Government, he would record everything to the best of his judgment all the same under Regulation VII of 1822, but then the under-tenant would not be obliged to bring his suit within four months; he might do so five years after, and thus difficulties might arise.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT observed that he must say the whole course of this Bill had been very irregular and unusual. The whole of the work of the Select Committee had been as a matter of fact thrown upon the Council. HIS HONOR had repeatedly been compelled to point out the great inconvenience resulting from Select Committees sending up their measures so hastily and so incompletely prepared that the whole work of amending the Bills, section by section and word by word, had to be gone through at the regular meetings of the Council. It was impossible that the work could be properly and efficiently done at the public sittings, and they were in consequence apt to adopt hasty and crude amendments which had not been properly considered, and had to undo at one meeting what they had done at another. It was not only that time was wasted, but the work could not be properly done. The Select Committees should send up their Bills in such a condition, that amendments and discussions such as they had had at the last two meetings should be wholly unnecessary, but as they now after much discussion had come to definite conclusions upon every point except one, he thought it would be a pity to accept the proposal to recommit the Bill to the Select Committee. He thought they might now come to a decision upon that one point, without adopting that course, and therefore he proposed to put this amendment, and if the sense of the Council was against it, then he would put the amendment which he understood would be made to leave out clause (c) altogether.

The question was then put that clauses (a), (b), and (c) of section 6A, with the last clause of the proviso verbally amended, do stand part of the Bill.

The motion was agreed to.

On the motion of the HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER, the following was substituted for section 7 :—

"7. When the rent demandable from any under-tenant or ryot is recorded at an amount below that to which the rent of such under-tenant or ryot might have been enhanced under this Act, it may be recorded that such under-tenant or ryot shall from time to time be liable to pay increased rent from such dates as may be fixed by the Settlement Officer, until the rent paid by him reaches the amount which the Settlement Officer may determine to be properly payable by him under this Act."

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved the substitution of the following for section 9 :—

"9. Whenever a higher rent has been recorded as demandable from any under-tenant or ryot than the rent previously paid by him, the Settlement Officer shall cause to be published a copy of the jummabundi, or extracts therefrom, specifying in respect of each such under-tenant or ryot the rent recorded as payable by him, and, in the case of a ryot, the clause or clauses of section 6 of this Act under which his rent is enhanced.

"Such publication may be lawfully made by affixing a copy of the jummabundi, or of such extracts therefrom as the Collector may think fit, at the mal cutcherry of the village to which the jummabundi relates, or at some other conspicuous place therein, and by proclamation by beat of drum in the said village to the effect that the said copy or extracts have been so affixed, and that the jummabundi can be inspected at the office of the Settlement Officer."

This section had been amended in deference to the opinion of his colleagues. It provided that instead of a notice, with the jummabundi annexed, notice of enhancement should be given by publication of the jummabundi in the same way that the preceding sections provided that notice with the jummabundi annexed should be published. It was really only a question of form.

The motion was agreed to.

On the motion of the HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER, the following was substituted for the second clause of section 10 :—

"No such suit shall be instituted otherwise than within four months after the publication of the jummabundi, or extracts as aforesaid, in the village in which the lands which are the subject of the suit or any part thereof are situated."

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved the introduction of the following after section 10 :—

"10A. In all suits instituted to contest the rent recorded as demandable under this Act the Court shall, if it modifies or sets aside such rent, proceed to determine the rent payable by the plaintiff in accordance with this Act, and if any arrears of rent at the rates determined by the Court are found to be due, shall make a decree in favour of the defendant, with such costs as may seem proper."

It had been suggested by his hon'ble friend to the right (Mr. O'Kinealy). The object was merely to save a second suit for arrears after the rent had been fixed by the Court.

On the motion of the HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER, verbal amendments were made in section 11. In moving them he said that he wished to say a word on behalf of the Select Committee. He did not wish to be captious, but what did occur was this. The Bill had very much developed, and it had been considered necessary, from circumstances, to go on with extreme haste. It was true the Select Committee had met only a certain number of times, but for his own part there had not passed a single day, he believed, since the Bill was read in Council, that he did not write a letter about it to one member of the Committee, or have a personal interview about it with another. If the time had not unavoidably been so limited, he ventured to say His Honor the President's remarks would not have been called for. No Bill within his experience in Council had received so much time and attention of hon'ble members, in comparison to the time during which it had been before Council.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said he would have been very happy to have extended the time within which the Select Committee was required to submit their report, not only to save trouble to the Council, but because, he must say, he did not consider this a satisfactory or convenient way of doing business.

The Bill having been finally settled, HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT directed that it be republished for general information.

COURT OF WARDS.

On the motion of the HON'BLE MR. BUCKLAND, the Bill to amend the law relating to the Court of Wards was further considered in order to the settlement of the clauses of the Bill.

The HON'BLE MR. BUCKLAND moved that in section 5, line 1, the words "landed property" be substituted for "estates." The object of this amendment was to prevent the Bill from coming in conflict with section 2 of Act XL of 1858, under which the civil court had jurisdiction over the property of minors except in the case of proprietors of estates paying revenue to Government. The substitution of the word "estates," as defined in the Bill before the Council, would have this effect.

The motion was agreed to.

The HON'BLE MR. BUCKLAND moved that section 13 be omitted; and he begged briefly to explain the reasons for this motion. On looking into the debates in connection with the passing of the Bill of 1877, he found that this section, which stood as section 80 of Act IV of 1870, was objected to by the Hon'ble Kristodas Pal and other members of the Council, and after an adjournment of the debate for a week, Mr. H. Bell, who was then in charge of the Bill, agreed to omit it for three reasons—it was too stringent, it was unjust, and it was also unnecessary, as it never had been applied in any case whatever, it being sufficient to rely on the provisions of section 12 of the Bill now before the Council. The reinstatement of the section was proposed at the last Meeting of the Select Committee, and was accepted on that occasion. But, on further consideration, it seemed to MR. BUCKLAND unnecessary, and at any rate he thought the special attention of the Council should be directed to it if the section was to remain in the Bill.

The motion was agreed to.

The HON'BLE MR. BUCKLAND moved to substitute the words "the owner of such property" for the words "the property which would be liable for the debts of the deceased proprietor" at the end of section 29. The words now proposed were recommended by the learned Advocate-General, with reference to the discussion which took place at the last meeting of the Council on the amendment proposed by the hon'ble member opposite (Mr. Dampier), and they appeared to meet the object of the Bill.

The HON'BLE OFFICIATING ADVOCATE-GENERAL said that, if the charge which the Collector was entitled to make was to be considered as a charge upon the estate of a deceased proprietor, then he took it that the words at the close of the clause should be "against the legal representative of the deceased." Then the Civil Procedure Code marked out what was necessary to be done in enforcing a decree which might be obtained. But if it was a charge upon the successors of the deceased, that is to say, a charge against them as owners, then he thought the proposed alteration of the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill would be sufficient. It might, perhaps, be advisable also to use these words in addition to the words he proposed: "or the person or persons whom the Collector declared to be in possession of such property." It was quite possible that the owner might not be in possession of the property, and it was desirable that the Collector should obtain repayment of those charges at once. The ADVOCATE GENERAL also pointed out that the section would require alteration by inserting before the words "a demand" a declaration that they should be recoverable

"as arrears of revenue" in order to meet the definition of "demand" in Act VII of 1868.

After some conversation, amendments were agreed to, which made the clause run as follows:—

"If the property is not afterwards taken under the charge of the Court, all expenses incurred by a Collector acting under this section, shall be recoverable as arrears of revenue, and constitute a demand under Bengal Act VII of 1868 or any similar law for the time being in force, from the owner of such property, or the person or persons whom the Collector shall find to be in possession of such property."

In sections 31, 32, and 33, lines 7, 9, and 11, the HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved the substitution of the word "may" for "shall." Under the first of these sections, for instance, if the Collector reported the proprietor of an estate to be of unsound mind, he should report the matter to the Court, and the Court was bound to order the Collector to apply to the civil court. There appeared to be no reason why the court should be obliged to apply for a commission de lunatico inquirendo if it did not see reason to do so. The amendment in the other two sections was for the same reason.

The motions were severally agreed to.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved the omission of the words "disqualified under section 5" in section 51, lines 2 and 3, and in section 54, lines 3 and 4; also the omission of the word "such" in section 55, line 2, and the addition of the following words at the end of section 56 "or to a proprietor who has consented to leave his property under the charge of the Court of Wards, as provided in the second clause of section 10." The result of the three amendments would be that in every suit against a ward, except in the case of a major ward who left his property voluntarily in charge of the Court, the manager was to be the next friend for the purposes of the suit.

The motions were severally agreed to.

On the motion of the HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER, the words "arrears of revenue and constitute a demand" were substituted for "demand" in section 63, line 6.

The HON'BLE AMEER ALI enquired whether orders made under section 58 were appealable.

The HON'BLE MR. BUCKLAND replied that they would be appealable, if passed by the Collector to the Commissioner of the division and the Board of Revenue, and if passed by the Board to the Lieutenant-Governor.

On the motion of the HON'BLE MR. BUCKLAND, the Bill was then passed.

JUTE WAREHOUSES AND FIRE-BRIGADES.

ON the motion of the HON'BLE MR. O'KINEALY, the report of the Select Committee on the Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to jute warehouses and fire-brigades was taken into consideration, and the Bill was settled without amendment.

The Bill was then passed.

PASSENGER-BOATS.

THE HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE moved for leave to introduce a Bill to repeal certain sections of Bengal Act IV of 1866, and to provide for the levy of fees upon passenger-boats. He said that a few weeks ago this Council passed a Bill purporting to place passenger-boats plying within the port of Calcutta under the control of the Conservator of the Port. The duty of controlling and registering such boats was at present in the hands of the Commissioner of Police under sections 63 to 65 of the Calcutta Police Act. The object of the Bill lately passed was, as the Council were aware, simply to enable the Lieutenant-Governor to transfer to the Port Commissioners those executive duties which the Commissioner of Police now performed, and to impose a scale of fees upon registration sufficient to cover the cost of that improved administration which was now found to be necessary. The rules under which the Port Commissioners were to work were to be passed by the local Government, as he had explained to the Council, both under the Indian Ports Act and under the proposed Bill; under the proposed Bill with reference to the scale of fees intended to be levied, and under the Ports Act with reference to the control and regulation of the boats. It never entered into any one's thoughts that by deciding to employ the ministerial agency of the Port Commissioners, the local Government was divesting itself of its legal and general power of control. The Legislative Department of the Government of India was, however, of opinion that "the Bill, in empowering the Conservator to regulate boats plying for hire within the limits of the port, conflicts with the provisions of the Indian Ports Act, 1875, section 7, clause (k), which gives the same powers to the local Government. To leave this power with both would (in the opinion of the Legislative Department) defeat the object of the Indian Legislature." Now he had looked very carefully over the Bill again, and could nowhere find that it "left power with both," or "made over" in any way to the Port Commissioners the power of control which was vested in the local Government. Section 2 of the Bill ran thus—

"No passenger-boat or steam ferry shall ply for passengers either wholly within, or partly within and partly without, the limits of the port of Calcutta, unless duly registered at the office of the Conservator of the Port under such rules, and on payment of such annual or other fees, as the local Government may from time to time prescribe by notification published in the Calcutta Gazette."

He could not, therefore, see how either the local Government, which distinctly reserved to itself the power to make all rules, and merely constituted the Conservator its minister and agent, had divested itself of control, or how the control was left to both. The Conservator merely stepped into the position at present held by the Commissioner of Police. He need scarcely assure the Council that it was never intended that the Lieutenant-Governor, attended by all his Secretaries, should go down personally to Chandpal Ghât, there to sit and measure dinghees as they came up, paint their numbers on the manjees' tickets, and make over to them their licenses. Nor did it appear after all that the Government of India itself imagined that such procedure as that was absolutely necessary, for the Secretary to that Government in the Legislative Department went on to say "that the Bill would be just as effective if turned into the form of a rule under the Ports Act."

Now this was a very serious charge to bring against the mover of the Bill and against the Executive Government, which was responsible for introducing it before this Council. It implied that they came before this Council, and took up the time of all the honorable members on several occasions, and the time of the Select Committee on more days than one, to discuss a Bill which after all was perfectly unnecessary. Fortunately he could say that there never was a petty measure brought before the Council, the necessity for which was so strongly pressed upon Government by its legal advisers, as this Bill which the Legislative Department deemed so utterly unnecessary. They had first the joint opinion of Mr. Paul, the Advocate-General, and of Mr. Evans, a gentleman specially chosen to sit on the Supreme Legislative Council on account of his legal skill, to the effect that so long as sections 63 to 65 of the Police Act remained in force, rules passed under the Ports Act could in no way affect passenger-boats plying for hire in Calcutta, and fresh legislation was absolutely necessary. They said: "We think the words 'cargo and other boats' (in section 7 of the Ports Act) must be taken in a restricted sense, and do not authorize the local Government to deal with passenger-boats, the licensing of which is already dealt with under the Police Act." Not content with that, the Government took the advice of their other legal advisers. They had the opinion of two Legal Remembrancers, that as "sections 63 to 65 of Act IV of 1866 expressly provided for the registration of passenger-boats, therefore it was not competent for the Government to make rules under Act XII of 1875 which would in any way conflict with the Police Act." He trusted therefore that he had shown the Council that they had had primâ facie justification for troubling them with the Bill. But the Council would ask, "Why, having now the opinion per contra of the Legislative Department of the Government of India, endeavour to override this expression of opinion? Why now again come forward and ask for leave to introduce a fresh Bill?" They had heard a great deal of late years about the limits of the legislative powers of this Council: but whatever limit there might be upon those powers, there could, with all due deference to the Legislative Department, be no doubt whatever that no rules which the local Government might pass could have the effect of repealing sections of the statute law. He did not know how any rules that they could pass under the Ports Act could suffice to repeal sections 63 to 65 of the Police Act; and they had in the papers before them a distinct and positive opinion of the Advocate-General and other legal gentlemen, that so long as those sections existed there was at least a doubt whether rules under the Ports Act could affect passenger-boats at all, and a further decided opinion that no rules which the local Government could pass would suffice to impose charges in the shape of fees for licensing and registering passenger-boats. He was therefore compelled, with the permission of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, to come before the Council to ask for leave to introduce another Bill which should avoid what he could not but conceive to be the very technical difficulties discovered by the Legislative Department of the Government of India in the Bill so lately passed. The Bill now proposed would simply repeal certain sections of the Police Act, and enable the local Government to levy fees, omitting all words regarding control. If they found that the courts in any case decided that the rules under the Ports Act to which they would now have to trust for regulating those boats were insufficient, they would have to go up to the Government of India to ask for leave to introduce another Bill. He was obliged to press for urgency for this measure. The local Government never had had any reason to doubt that the former Bill would pass. The Port Commissioners had already entertained an establishment for carrying out the improved registration proposed. They never had had the slightest idea that there would be any difficulty in transferring the work of registering passenger-boats from the Commissioner of Police to them. Improved control was necessary, looking to the loss of life arising from the very insecure boats at present plying, and he would therefore ask for leave to introduce this measure, and he would then ask that the rules for the conduct of business in the Council be suspended that he might have a Committee appointed and the Bill pushed on as fast as possible.

His Honor the President said he felt some sort of apology was due from the Government for having asked the Council to pass a Bill which was declared on high authority to be ultra vires, and at the same time unnecessary. He could only assure the Council that before moving in the matter of the Bill which had just been vetoed, Government had done everything in its power to satisfy itself that its action was legal and necessary. He had taken the opinion of the learned Advocate-General and of Mr. Evans, one of the most eminent members of the bar of Calcutta, himself a member of His Excellency's Council; and he had also the opinions of two successive Legal Remembrancers: and the opinion of all these competent men was entirely in accordance with that of the local Government; but then, on the other hand, while these gentlemen declared the action of the local Government to be legal and necessary, there was the opinion of the Legislative Department of the Government of India to the effect that it was illegal and unnecessary. It was not His Honor's position to sit in judgment on the very opposite opinions of these conflicting authorities; and though he might have a very clear and decided personal opinion as to which was right and which was wrong, it would not be becoming for him to press it. It was his duty to accept the opinion of the Legislative Department whatever he might think of it, and he was therefore compelled, much against his will, to trouble the Council to pass a short Bill, which he hoped might satisfy the Legislative Department of the Government of India.

The motion was agreed to, and, after suspension of the rules, the Bill was referred to a Select Committee, consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. O'Kinealy, the Hon'ble Ameer Ali, and the mover, with instructions to report to the next meeting of the Council.

The Council then adjourned.

NOTIFICATION.

The 9th April 1879.—It is hereby notified for general information that, under the provisions of section 269 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act X of 1877), the Lieutenant-Governor has passed the following rules for the maintenance and custody, while under attachment, of live-stock and other moveable property above the value of 20 rupees:—

I. The attaching officer shall give the debtor, or, in his absence, any present adult member of his family, the option of having the attached property kept on his premises or in some other place in the village, on condition that a suitable place for its safe custody be provided by him.

II. If no such suitable place be provided, the officer shall remove the property to the Court at the decree-holder's expense. In the event of the decree-holder failing to provide the necessary funds, the attachment shall be withdrawn.

III. Whenever attached property is kept at the place where it is attached, the officer shall forthwith report the fact to the Court, and shall, with his report, forward an accurate list of the property seized, such that the Court may thereon at once issue the proclamation of sale prescribed by section 287.

IV. If the debtor shall give his consent in writing to the sale of the property without awaiting the expiry of the term prescribed in section 290, the officer shall receive the same and forward it without delay to the Court for its orders.

V. When property is removed to the Court, it shall be kept by the Nazir on his own sole responsibility in such place as may be approved by the Court. If the property cannot, from its nature or bulk, be conveniently kept in the Court premises, or in the personal custody of the Nazir, he may, subject to approval by the Court, make such arrangements for its safe custody under his own supervision as may be most convenient and economical, and the Court may fix the remuneration to be allowed to the persons, not being officers of the Court, in whose custody the property is kept.

VI. When property remains at the place where it is attached in the custody of the attaching officer, and any person other than the judgment-debtor shall claim the same or any part of it, the officer shall nevertheless, unless the decree-holder desires to withdraw the attachment of the property so claimed, remain in possession, and shall direct the claimant to prefer his claim to the Court.

VII. If the decree-holder shall withdraw an attachment, or if it shall be withdrawn under Rule II or Rule IX, the attaching officer shall inform the debtor, or, in his absence, an adult member of his family, that the property is at his disposal.

In the absence of any person to take charge of it, or in case the officer shall have had notice of claim by a person other than the judgment-debtor, the officer shall, if the property has been moved from the premises in which it was seized, replace it where it was found at the time of seizure.

VIII. Whenever live-stock is kept at the place where it has been attached, the judgment-debtor shall be at liberty to undertake the due feeding and tending of it under the supervision of the attaching officer, but the latter shall, if required by the decree-holder, and on his paying for the same at a rate to be fixed by the District Judge, and subject to the orders of the Court under whose orders the attachment is made, engage the services of as many persons as may be necessary for the safe custody of it.

IX. In the event of the judgment-debtor failing to feed attached live-stock, the officer shall call upon the decree-holder either to pay for feeding it on the spot or for the expenses attending its removal to the Court. If the decree-holder shall fail to provide for either, the officer shall report the matter to the Court without delay.

X. When attached live-stock is brought to Court, the Nazir shall be responsible for the safe custody and proper feeding of it, so long as the attachment continues.

XI. If there be a Government pound in or near the place where the Court is held, the Nazir shall be at liberty to place in it such attached live-stock as can be properly there kept, in which case the pound-keeper will be responsible for the property to the Nazir, and shall receive the same rates for accommodation and maintenance thereof as are paid in respect of impounded cattle of the same description.

XII. If there be no pound available, or if, in the opinion of the Court, it be inconvenient to lodge the attached live-stock in the pound, the Nazir may keep it in his own premises, or he may entrust it to any person selected by himself and approved by the Court. The Nazir will in all cases remain responsible for the custody of the property.

XIII. Each Court shall from time to time fix the rates to be allowed for the custody and maintenance of the various descriptions of live-stock with reference to seasons and local circumstances. The District Judge may make any alteration he deems fit in the rates prescribed by Courts subordinate to him. Where there are two or more Courts in the same place, the rates shall be the same for each Court.

XIV. The officer deputed to attach moveable property should be furnished with a certificate stating the period for which the Court fee required under Rule I, Article 4, Parts II, III, IV of the Court Fee Rules has been paid, and he shall give notice thereof to the judgment-debtor or other person at whose instance he remains in possession at the place of attachment, and if such person shall desire that the property shall remain at that place for a longer period, he shall be bound to pay into Court in advance the further fee as required by Rule IV.

NOTIFICATION.

The 10th April 1879.—In supersession of the rules for the Gilchrist Scholarships published in the Calcutta Gazette dated the 16th December 1868, the Lieutenant-Governor orders the publication of the following rules for general information.

A. MACKENZIE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

GILCHRIST SCHOLARSHIPS.

AMENDED RULES FOR THE SCHOLARSHIPS INSTITUTED BY THE GILCHRIST EDUCATIONAL TRUST.

(These Rules will take effect at and from the Examination to be held in January 1880.)

Two scholarships, each of the value of £100 per annum,* and tenable for four years,† will be annually awarded to candidates born in India, who shall become eligible by competitive examination, under the following conditions :—

1.—Of the parents of each candidate, one at least shall not be of pure European descent.

2.—Every candidate must furnish proof satisfactory to the local authorities that he has completed his sixteenth year, and that his age does not exceed twenty-two years.

3.—Every candidate must furnish proof satisfactory to the local authorities that in regard to personal character and social position he is qualified to be admitted to competition for a scholarship.

4.—The subjects of examination are identical with those prescribed for the Matriculation Examination of the London University, and will include (1) Latin; (2) any two of the following languages—Greek, French, German, and either Sanskrit or Arabic; (3) the English language, English History, and Modern Geography; (4) Mathematics; (5) Natural Philosophy; and (6) Chemistry. The examination papers will be those prepared in these subjects respectively for the Matriculation Examination of the University of London; and the number of hours assigned to each of the papers will be the same as those assigned to the same paper by the University of London. These papers will be sent out from England in sealed covers through the India Office, to the charge of Sub-Examiners appointed by Her Majesty's Government

5.—The examination will be held, under the charge of a Government Sub-Examiner, at each of the Presidential Capitals simultaneously, and shall commence on the third Monday of January in each year. The place and hours of examination will be appointed by the local authorities.

6.—The Sub-Examiner will open the sealed covers containing the examination papers in the place of examination, at the hour prescribed for the candidates to assemble. He will be present throughout the whole of each examination, and will at the end of each collect the answers written by every candidate during the time allowed. He will transmit these answers in sealed covers, through the India Office, to the Secretary of the Gilchrist Trust, who will cause them to be carefully considered and compared by Examiners of established reputation named by the Trustees in each of the respective subjects. The Trustees will name, whenever practicable, the Examiners or Sub-Examiners acting in those subjects respectively for the University of London. The Examiners will consider the papers with as little delay as possible, and will make their award thereupon, assigning to each paper a number of marks suitable to its merits. Such award will be transmitted forthwith by the Secretary, through the India Office, to the local authorities in the Presidential Capitals to be by them announced to the candidates.

7.—The first scholarship will be awarded to the candidate whose aggregate of marks stands highest: provided that he passes in each of the six subjects above-mentioned, and that his aggregate of marks amounts to not less than one-half of the total. Such candidate will have his choice whether he will pursue his curriculum of study in the University of Edinburgh, or in the University College, London.

8.—The second scholarship will be awarded to the candidate whose aggregate of marks stands second: provided that he passes in each of the six subjects, and that his aggregate of marks amounts to not less than one-half of the total. Such candidate shall pursue his curriculum of study in that one of the two institutions abovenamed, which shall not have been chosen by the other candidate.

9.—If the two highest candidates are equal in aggregate number of marks, the privilege of choosing between these two institutions shall be determined between them by lot.

10.—The successful candidates well be expected to arrive in London, and to present themselves to the Secretary of the Gilchrist Trust, not later than the first week in the October following their appointment.

* The Secretary of State has also sanctioned the grant of the sum of £100 for passage to each of the scholars proceeding to England, and £50 for a return passage to such of them as may forfeit their scholarships. The Trustees will also pay a sum not exceeding £50 for the return passage of each successful scholar, whose passage may not have been otherwise provided for.

† The Trustees will be prepared to give favourable consideration to the case of any Indian scholar who, having taken his Bachelor's degree with honors, is desirous of obtaining an additional year for the purpose of proceeding to the degree of Master or Doctor.

11.—The scholarships will be considered as commencing from the 1st of July following the award of the Examiners; and will be paid, in quarterly instalments, on the first days of October, January, April, and July.

12.—Each scholar shall attend in every Session at least three courses of lectures at the institution in which he studies (unless especially excused by the Trustees from doing so during the first year), and shall transmit to the Secretary to the Gilchrist Trust, at the conclusion of each Session, a certificate from each of the Professors whose lectures he has attended, stating that his diligence and conduct have been satisfactory. Should he not be able to produce such a certificate, or should he be proved guilty of discreditable conduct elsewhere, he shall be considered to have forfeited all claim to the remaining instalments of his scholarship.

13.—Each scholar will be expected to present himself at the first examination in one of its four faculties—Arts, Science, Law, or Medicine— before the termination of the second (Academical) year* from the commencement of his scholarship, unless excused from doing so by the Trustees, and if he do not so present himself (unless by permission of the Trustees), or if he fail to pass, he shall be considered as forfeiting his claim to the remaining two years' instalments of his scholarship

14.—The foregoing scheme will be subject to revision from time to time, the Trustees reserving to themselves the power of altering the conditions of the scholarships, or of altogether withdrawing them if they deem it expedient to do either. But no change will be made in such a manner as to affect the interests of candidates already appointed to scholarships, or in any case without twelve months' notice.

The Matriculation Standard of the London University, in which candidates will be examined, includes the following subjects: —

(1) Latin;
(2) Any two† of the following languages—Greek, French, German, and either Sanskrit or Arabic;

UNDER section 89 of Act X (B.C.) of 1871, the following annual accounts and reports of the district road committees of Hazareebagh, Lohardugga, Singbhoom, and Manbhoom, of works done and in progress during the past cess year 1877-78, together with the remarks thereon of the Commissioner of the Chota Nagpore Division, are published for general information.

5. With the exception of a very few, all the non-official members took more or less interest in the discharge of their duties, and the attendance was fair in all the four meetings convened during the year. Dharm Nath Misser, Chowdhry Goordial Das, and Shewseok Ram, were particularly regular in attendance.

6. More than 10 days' notice was given of every meeting held during the year.

7. Baboo Dino Nath Mookerjee held the office of Vice-Chairman during the year under review.

8. No branch committee has been appointed in this district.

9. The Committee has a separate office building of its own in the close vicinity of the cutcherry compound, and there the Road Cess Deputy Collectors', Vice-Chairman's, and District Engineers' offices are accommodated.

10. The principal business transacted by the Committee during the year were these—

(1) Audit of accounts for the last year.
(2) Preparation of budget estimate for 1878-79.
(3) Determination of rates of assessment.
(4) Passing of estimates of the different works executed during the year.

11. The Committee paid particular attention to the village roads during the year, and at a meeting held in April 1878 sanctioned Rs. 8,311 for the purpose, but only half of this amount was expended. Endeavours were made to induce the village head-men to undertake these works; but none having come forward, the works had to be executed departmentally. In the Pachumba Sub-division Mr. Bedford, Assistant Commissioner, took charge of village roads, and the works were executed under his supervision, and those in the head-quarters sub-division were done under the superintendence of the District Engineer. With a view to give labour to the poorer classes who were in distress in consequence of failure of crops and high price of food, all the village roads in the Pachumba Sub-division and some of the works in the Ramghur Division were executed by daily labour.

12. The accounts of the year were examined and audited by the following members, who formed the Sub-Committee under section 88 of the Act:—

Mr. H. Dewes, Executive Engineer;
" W. Brett, Senior Assistand Commissioner;
Baboo Hari Kissen Das; and
" Deno Nath Mookerjee, Vice-Chairman.

13. The annual inspection of the accounts by the Examiner of Public Works Accounts has not yet taken place.

14. The receipts during the year under the head "Revenue under Act X of 1871" amounted to Rs. 32,276-1-4; besides, Rs. 1,161-4-7 were received as miscellaneous revenue, as the details furnished in Part II of the annual accounts will show.

15. The full amount estimated for under the head house cess was not realized, as the Collection of the tax due for second instalment was suspended by orders of Government.

16. The amount available for expenditure, including the unexpended balance of last year, was Rs. 51,330-5-6. Of this amount Rs. 28,498-13-8 were expended, and Rs. 22,831-7-10 remained in hand at close of the year.

17. With the exception of the second portion of the Hazareebagh and Chuttra road, i.e. from Lepo to Chuttra, the estimates of which were sanctioned by Government in their letter No. 605C., dated 6th July 1878, none of the original works could be taken in hand owing to regular complete estimates not being prepared in time and sanctioned by Government, and the expenditure was therefore mostly confined to repairs to old roads as in the previous year. Hence the large balance in hand.

18. As the Overseer, Baboo Monmotho Nath Chatterjee, who was the only subordinate who could survey and level, resigned just at the commencement of the surveying season, and the officer appointed in his place did not join till the season was over, the preparation of estimates for original works proposed to be taken in hand during the year was delayed. A complete earthwork estimate of the Giridi and Khurukdiha Road was, however, prepared in the latter end of the year, and has since been sanctioned by Government, and arrangements are being made to commence the work at once. A separate surveying establishment has now been entertained, and the surveying of the bridges on the roads, of which the earthwork estimates have been sanctioned, is commenced, and it is hoped that more money will be expended on original works this year.

19. The expenditure for collection of revenue amounted to Rs. 1,277-2-10, viz. Rs. 1,107-2-1 for pay of establishment and Rs. 170-0-9 on account of office contingencies, value of forms and stationery, &c. The expenditure against establishment had exceeded the budget grant, as the pay for September 1871 had to be paid within the month instead of on the 1st of the following month, as is generally done, owing to the offices being closed on account of Doorga Pooja holidays two days before the month expired, and thus pay for 13 months was paid within the year instead of 12 as was estimated for.

20. The cost of committee's office establishment and contingencies was Rs. 620-3. Owing to reasons stated above, the expenditure against this establishment had also exceeded the budget grant.

21. The expenditure on works amounted to Rs. 19,855-8-9, viz. Rs. 5,321-1-5 on original works and Rs. 14,534-7-4 on repairs, against Rs. 20,500 and Rs. 17,900 respectively sanctioned in the budget.

22. The charges for establishment for works was Rs. 6,013-7.

23. The charges for tools and plant amounted to Rs. 721-4-6 against Rs. 800 sanctioned in the budget. New tools to the value of Rs. 686-2 were purchased during the year and Rs. 35-2-6 paid for repairs to old tools and conveyance charges, &c.

24. The following are the details of the several works executed during the year.

Hazareebagh and Chuttra road. Original works.—The expenditure on this road during the year amounted to Rs. 4,528-6-5 against Rs. 11,500 in the budget-estimate. As the estimate for culverts and bridges was not prepared, there being no separate establishment for surveying and levelling, the full amount budgeted for was not expended.

The earthwork along the second portion of this road between Lepo and Chuttra, a distance of 18 miles, was completed during the year. The gaps left for culverts have been sloped off, and the entire 40 miles of road opened to cart traffic. The estimate for the above work was sanctioned by Government (vide letter No. 605C., dated 6th July 1878.)

Baloomut and Sherghotty road and Pahurpore and Bagodhur road.—The expenditure, Rs. 43-10-6 and Rs. 95-10-3, shewn against these roads in the accounts were on account of arrears due to the contractors for bungalows constructed last year.

Burhee and Gawan road.—All works on this road have been stopped since last year by order of Government. The road will be surveyed during the present cold season.

Giridi and Khurukdiha road.—The arch of a culvert on the fourth mile of this road having caved in, it was reconstructed so as not to hinder the immense cart traffic between Pachumba and the railway station at Giridi. All other works on the road were stopped pending sanction of Government to the estimates.

Though a sum of Rs. 8,000 was sanctioned in the budget for work on this road, the expenditure amounted to Rs. 74-1-6 only, besides Rs. 11 paid for arrears due for the Pachumba godown constructed last year. The earthwork estimates were prepared very late in the year and submitted for sanction of Government, consequently the work proposed to be carried on could not be commenced.

Ramghur and Jainuggur road.—There was no provision made in the budget for this road. In order to give labour to the poorer classes, the Committee, at a meeting held on the 27th April 1878, sanctioned Rs. 700 to be disbursed for the improvement of the road; the work was accordingly commenced, and the first six miles completed at a cost of Rs. 544-3-9.

Giridi and Toondi road—Six small culverts being urgently required, they were built along the first four miles of the road, but the contractor was not paid during the year. The amount, Rs. 28-1, charged in the accounts was paid for petty expenses incurred in connection with these culverts.

Repairs, Chuttra and Chowparon road.—This is a metalled road. The expenditure on the road during the year, including the cost of repairs to the Pitiz and Chuttra bungalows, amounted to Rs. 1,466-12-3 against Rs. 4,000 sanctioned in the budget. The works estimated for could not all be executed owing to the difficulty experienced by contractors in collecting quartz metal along the second portion of this road. Two half miles were only renewed during the rains, besides repairs to culverts and bridges all along 30 miles of the road.

Baloomut and Sherghotty road.—The first 23 miles of this fair-weather road have been properly repaired at a cost of Rs. 2,220-8; besides Rs. 86-10 were expended in the repairs and maintenance of the bungalow at Jubra on this road.

Hazareebagh and Chuttra road.—The existing culverts on the portion of the road between Hazareebagh and Lepo have been repaired during the late rainy season at a cost of Rs. 983-7-9, besides Rs. 71-11-9 were paid for maintenance and repairs of the bungalow at Lepo.

Pahurpore and Bagodhur road.—The amount, Rs. 96-8, charged against this road was on account of maintenance and repairs of the bungalow at Bhurkutta.

Giridi and Khurukdiha road—The first four miles of this road have been repaired, viz. from Giridi Railway Station to Pachumba. Owing to the immense cart traffic between the two stations the metalled surface had been cut into deep ruts, and the repair was therefore urgently required. The amount disbursed during the year was Rs. 300-7-3.

The two bungalows at Pachumba and Mirzagunge on the road were also repaired and maintained at a cost of Rs. 110.

Ramghur and Gola road.—The first 14 miles of the road have been thoroughly repaired at a cost of Rs. 1,699-7-3; besides Rs. 297-8-9 were expended for maintenance and repairs of the bungalow at Ramghur.

Gola and Pitridi road.—The first six miles of the road have been repaired thoroughly at a cost of Rs. 780-15-3.

Hazareebagh station roads.—Fourteen miles of these roads have been kept in a proper state of repairs and 600 trees along the different roads maintained in a flourishing state. The expenditure during the year amounted to Rs. 567-3-1 against Rs. 600 sanctioned in the budget.

Old Benar road.—The four miles of the road up to the Charwa bridge, with all the culverts along this length, have been repaired at a cost of Rs. 356-2-9.

Gola and Govindpore.—The expenditure on this road amounted to Rs. 933-4-3 against Rs. 2,000 sanctioned in the budget. Only 10 miles of the road have been repaired during the year. The bungalow at Piturbar on the road has also been repaired at a cost of Rs. 63-10-3.

Giridi and Toondi road.—The first five miles of the road have been repaired; the amount disbursed during the year was Rs. 129-2-6.

Koderma and Jainuggu rroad.—No provision was made in the budget for this road. Owing to distress the work was undertaken in order to give work to the poorer classes in the Government estate of pergunnah Koderma; 4¼ miles of this road have been repaired at a cost of Rs. 307-9-0.

Pachumba and Buddiha road.—Eight Rupees thirteen annas charged against this road were on account of arrears of last year paid during the year. No work was done on the road during the year.

Office bungalow.—Rupees 201-5 annas were expended in repairs of the building and painting the doors and windows.

Village roads.—A sum of Rs. 3,853-12-7 was expended on repairs to village roads during the year as detailed below:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Gola to Demra	86	12	9
Piturbar to Hasivsarun	334	2	9
Kusmar and Piturbar	262	10	6
Kuju and Burgawan	549	11	0
Kulu and Gidhore	820	0	3
Kendua and Semeria	597	15	6
Mohesbmoondi and Gandey	273	4	4
Kharukdiha and Chitterdi	699	4	6
Pachumba and Chitterdi	27	15	0
Kharukdiha and Ghorunjee	202	0	0

25. All estimates for repairs costing above Rs. 1,000 had received the sanction of the Commissioner before the works were commenced.

26. Working of the Act.—There was no actual difficulty experienced in recovering the cesses, though from many estates the payment was not punctual. The failure of payment in many cases was due to the fact of the zemindars having experienced difficulties in collecting rents from the ryots and under-tenure holders owing to distress prevailing in the district during the year in consequence of high price of food. Besides the Public Works Cess Act has thrown a fresh burden on the people. On the whole the system has worked well, and the people seem to have understood and appreciated the benefit arising from the road cess.

27. Trees of different species were planted by the Committee on the sides of the Hazareebagh station roads about two years ago; and these, 600 in number, are now being maintained, and are in a flourishing state. Endeavours are being made to plant indigenous fruit-bearing trees along the lines of other district roads as directed in Government Circular No. 10, dated 28th October 1878.

28. The following are the three classes of establishment entertained for the working of the Road Cess Act:—

1*st*.—Establishment for collection of revenue.
2*nd*.—Committee's office establishment.
3*rd*.—Engineer's establishment.

29. The establishment for collection of revenue consists of one head clerk, one mohurir, and one office peon, and that of the Committee's office one clerk only. There is no accountant in the Committee's office, the duty being performed, since the introduction of road cess in the district, by the Collector's road fees head clerk in addition to his legitimate works with the assistance of the Committee's clerk.

30. Radhika Prosad Mullick, head clerk, Collection Department, and accountant, Committee's office, has continued to give satisfaction in the discharge of his duties, as reported last year.

31. Moti Lall Sen, clerk, Committee's office, has worked to the satisfaction of the Committee.

32. The engineers' establishment consists of the following officers:—

1 District Engineer.
3 Sub-Overseers.
1 Sub-Overseer and Draftsman.
1 Clerk.

33. Mr. A. H. Gantzer, District Engineer, continues to deserve the good report of the Committee; being almost single-handed and a large area and number of works to supervise and look after, he has to work arduously to keep up with his duties

34. The following remarks have been recorded by the District Engineer with regard to the subordinate establishment under him:—

"Baboo Mackhon Lal Chatterjee, Sub-Overseer, was lately appointed on probation to take charge of the Pachumba Sub-division; he appears to be intelligent and hard-working.

"Baboo Troyluckho Nath Chakrabutty, Sub-Overseer in charge of Ramghur sub-division, has not worked so well as he did last year He should have spent more of his time on works in progress towards Govindpore, Kusmar, Chungurra, and Kuju. His reason for having remained longer at Gola and Piturbar than elsewhere is that he had to look after the daily labourers employed on five roads near Gola during the last scarcity.

"I regret to say that Baboo Shibokally Mookerjee, Sub-Overseer in charge of Chuttra Sub-division, does not inspect his out-door works sufficiently; he depends too much on temporary road sircars and road moonshees. He is otherwise a respectable and trustworthy subordinate.

"Shaik Moonshee Chand, Sub-Overseer in charge of Head-quarters Sub-division and Draftsman, has worked satisfactorily; he has learnt to survey with the plane table. This Sub-Overseer, I am glad to observe, is very careful of the road cess tools entrusted to him.

"Office establishment.—Baboo Kali Bhusun Mookerjee, assistant accountant in charge of my office, has, I am happy to say, continued to work very satisfactorily. He now thoroughly understands the system of accounts in use in the Public Works Department, and is careful, pains-taking, and very trustworthy. He has improved considerably in preparing earthwork estimates from road sections."

DENONATH MOOKERJEE, Vice-Chairman.

No. 90, dated Ranchee, the 2nd January 1879.

From—A. W. B. POWER, Esq., C.S., Deputy Commissioner and Chairman, Road Cess Committee, Lohardugga,

To—The Commissioner of the Chota Nagpore Division.

I HAVE the honor to submit my report upon the working of the Road Cess Act for the year ending the 30th September 1878.

2. Owing to the difficulty often experienced in forming a quorum on account of the non-attendance of mofussil members residing at a distance, three new members have been added to the Road Cess Committee during the year. The Committee have, however, lost a member by the death of Lall Surajnath Sahi.

3. The following table will shew the number of meetings held during the year under review, and the names and numbers of members who attended:—

(iii.)—Audit of the accounts for the last cess year, 1876-77.

41. Relief works were commenced in the latter end of June last, when information was received that the labouring classes were in great distress in several localities. The prices of food-grains had risen from the usual rates of 20 and 32 seers per rupee to 10 and 12 seers. The standing crops were withering for want of rain, and there was no prospect of early showers. Relief works were at once opened in the distressed localities, but the rains having subsequently set in, the works were to a great extent deserted for cultivation.

42. The relief works were closed on the 12th August 1878, about two and a half months after they had been commenced. The amount expended on the works was Rs. 4,031-12, with which eight roads were repaired.

43. The following table will show the details of work done and amount expended on, relief roads:—

44. All the works connected with the construction and repairs of roads and bridges, &c., are carried out at the sudder station, by the District Engineer, and at Palamow by the Sub-Overseer. The Committee have long felt the necessity of increasing their establishment on works, their present staff of one District Engineer and one Sub-Overseer being insufficient to carry out and supervise effectually works extending upwards of 570 miles. They have therefore sanctioned the appointment of two Sub-Overseers—one for the Palamow Sub-division and one for the Sudder Sub-division.

45. The valuation of this district was completed at the end of June 1877. The Road Cess Committee having fixed the assessment at three-fourths of the maximum rates, the total demand for the year was—

	Current.			Total.
	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.
Land	34,512	10	8	34,542	10	8
Mines	9	7	8	9	7	8
Houses	1,629	12	0	1,629	12	0

Out of the total cess thus recoverable the sum of Rs. 34,817-6-1, being about 95 per cent. of the demand, was paid up, leaving a small balance of Rs. 1,364-8-3 at close of year. This last includes Rs. 814-14 due on account of second instalment of house cess, the collection of which was stopped under Board's order dated 23rd April 1878; Rs 19-10-0 which was remitted as irrecoverable by the Commissioner in his No. 2216 of 11th July 1878; Rs. 11 still to be remitted; and Rs. 114-5-5 which is found to be irrecoverable owing to the ryots of Government sir villages having absconded, &c.; Rs. 270-8-10, which has since been realized; and Rs. 363-11-11, which are in course of realization. It also includes Rs. 228-13 realized owing to an oversight by the Assistant Commissioner of Palamow on account of the second instalment of house cess.

47. There was not the slightest difficulty in collecting the cess at head-quarter, as the Chota Nagpore estate, which is the only estate in the Sudder Sub-division, has always paid the cess with regularity and punctuality.

48. In the Palamow Sub-division some difficulty was, however, experienced in dealing with the revenue-free estate of Jupla, whose numerous shareholders, owing to the absence of road cess records, were not in a position to know the actual amount due by each.

49 The difficulty was, however, overcome by the exertions of the Assistant Commissioner, Mr. Forbes, who succeeded in collecting the greater portion of the cess due, and there is at present a sum of Rs. 184-9-6 only remaining to be collected.

50. The different establishments entertained to carry on the work under the Road Cess Act are—

(i)—Establishment for collection of revenue.
(ii.)—Committee's office establishment.
(iii.)—Engineers' establishment.

51. The establishment for collection of revenue consists of one head clerk, one mohurir and one peon, and that of the committee's office one accountant and one peon only. In the Palamow Sub-division one clerk only.

52. Baboo Nilmadhub Ghose, the head clerk, has done good service and been rewarded by the Deputy Commissioner with promotion to the post of head clerk in the Revenue Department of his office.

53. The accountant, Baboo Nundo Lal Chatterjee, is well acquainted with his duties, and has given satisfaction.

54. The Engineer establishment consists of one District Engineer, one mohurir, and two peons in the Sudder Sub-division and one Sub-Overseer and two peons in the Palamow Sub-division.

55. The District Engineer, Mr. Pickard, as far as I can judge from what I have seen since my arrival here, has given satisfaction.

56. The road bridges and culverts mentioned in the budget estimate for 1878-79, and sanctioned by you in your letter No. 52T., dated the 19th September 1878, are the works proposed to be taken in hand during the ensuing year 1878-79.

57. This report deals with a period anterior to my arrival in this district, and I am not yet in a position to make any comments from personal observation on the work done.

Proceedings of an adjourned Meeting of the Lohardugga District Road Cess Committee held in the Road Cess Office on Tuesday, the 31st December 1878, at 12 o'clock noon.

PRESENT:

Babu Khetter Chunder Ghose, Pleader.

Resolved—That the accounts for the Cess year 1877-78 be passed on the verbal report of the Sub-Committee and on inspection by the members present.

2. That with reference to the Deputy Commissioner of Singbhoom's No. 800, dated the 19th August 1878, the Committee is of opinion that no funds can be remitted to Singbhoom for part repairs of the road alluded to, but that the Committee is willing to take over the road from the commencement of 1879-80.

3. That as a matter of policy no earthwork be thrown up on high lands more than is absolutely necessary for the purpose of drainage until such roads now under construction as are not used for wheeled traffic be regularly bridged from end to end.

4. That bridges be made on the Ranchee and Palkote road and from Bussia to Tingna, that from Ranchee to Palma and on that from Ranchee to Bundhu and Jhaldaba, and on such other roads as may hereafter appear advisable.

5. That no bridges be made of small saplings, and that nothing but seasoned timber be used.

6. That the sketch estimate of village roads submitted by the District Engineer be generally approved of, and that Mr. Pippe's offer to spend Rs. 250 from his own funds on the village road from Lodma to Chorea be accepted, that Rs. 250 from the Road Fund be alloted for that road, and that Mr. Pippe be entrusted with the work. He will put the road in such a state as to be passable for travellers and beasts of burden throughout the year.

7. That the bill for Rs. 409-6-6 for repairs to station roads within the municipal limits be returned to the Municipal Office as it cannot be paid from the Road Fund according to correspondence noted on the margin.

Value of materials received from local fund moulded in 1875 in Palamow.	297 11 4	3,619 1 4	Represents the value of bricks moulded in 1875 for the bridge at Sultanghat with the old local fund money. They were in stock when the old local fund money was counted into the Road Cess Fund, but do not appear to have been brought to credit of the latter.

No. 1386, dated Chyebassa, the 5th December 1878.

From—W. D. SAMUELLS, Esq., Offg. Deputy Commissioner, Singbhoom,
To—The Commissioner of Chota Nagpore.

IN confirmity with the circular orders of Government in the Public Works Department, No. 50, dated the 23rd July 1873, I have the honor to submit the following report on works executed on roads and communications in this district during the cess year begun 1st October 1877 and ended the 30th September 1878, and works proposed to be undertaken during the cess year 1878-79.

2. Midnapore road, 71 miles.—This road connects the district with Midnapore through the estate of Dhulbhoom, and may be said to be one of the three most important roads in the district. During the year under review it was thoroughly repaired, together with the wooden platform culverts on it. The approaches of streams and culverts were likewise repaired and improved. The Bhatanjor bridge and the Ghalshilla ghât have been also improved, and five wooden platform culverts from 2 to 4 feet span have been replaced by arched masonry ones. During the present cess year 1878-79, it has been resolved to undertake the repairs and improvements of the road, metal one mile of road, and replace five temporary wooden platform culverts by arched masonry ones.

3. Burrakur road, 29 miles.—This road is the means of communication with Burrakur, Purulia, Ranigunge, and Bancoora, and is much resorted to by traders and others from those parts; the traffic on it is considerable. During the past year it was repaired throughout, and the approaches of streams and culverts were improved; six wooden platform culverts were also replaced by arched masonry ones, from two to five feet span and one of eight feet span. During 1878-79 funds have been allotted for the construction of 19 arched masonry culverts to replace temporary wooden platform ones and one bridge. Two miles of road near the station, being always in a very puddly state during the rains will also be metalled, and two miles of new road will be constructed from Chiroo on this road to Ghagri on the Khursowan road. The object of this latter work is to avoid the Roro river which is always impassable during the rains.

4. Banegaon road, 44 miles.—This road communicates with Ranchi, the divisional head-quarters. It was thoroughly repaired, and the Milapee ghâts improved, five wooden platform culverts were likewise replaced by arched masonry ones, from 2′ to 4′ 9″ span, and one of 6′ 6″. During the present year, 1878-79, its repairs have been provided for. Two steep passes occur on this road—the Milepi and Noada—besides 14 miles of hill road more or less steep and difficult for wheeled traffic on that account.

5. The repairs of the following roads were likewise completed during the past year, and have been provided for during the present:—

Khursowan road, from Chyebassa to Khursona, 16 miles.

Gurjun road, from Chuckerdhurpur on the Bundgaon road to Gurjun on the Brahmini river in the Gangpur territory, 71 miles; 50 miles repaired, 21 miles in good condition.

Fyutgurh road, from Chyebassa to Fyutgurh on the Keonghur boundary, 35 miles.

Bamunghatty road, form Chyebassa to Katbharee on the Bamunghatty boundary, 20 miles; Seraikella and Chuckerdhurpur road, from Kadasai on the Barrakur road to Palka on the Bandgaon road, 16 miles.

Barragoora road, from Narsinggurh on the Midnapore road to Barragoora on the abandoned road from Calcutta to Bombay vid Midnapore, &c., 21 miles.

Barragoora and Chakuha road from the latter on the Midnapore road to the former on the Barragoora roads, 20 miles.

Kalkapore road, from Dhabanki and Sohada on the Midnapore road to Kalkapur police station, 4½ miles.

Goodri road, from Chyebassa to Goodri, 40 miles, 26 miles repaired.

Rabo ghât road, from Chyebassa to Rabo ghât on the Tamar boundary in the Lohardugga district, 16 miles.

Village roads in Government Colhan 127½ miles, 46 miles repaired.

An abstract of particulars regarding meetings of the District Committee during the year 1877-78 is herewith appended. The non-official members do not take any interest in the work required of them, but consider it troublesome to attend meetings; when they do attend they sit nearly mute.

7. The permanent establishment consists of one overseer, one clerk, and one chapprassi. The Overseer, Mr. Goddard, has carried on his duties to the satisfaction of my predecessor, who considers him a "painstaking and intelligent" officer. Abdul Sabhan, the clerk, does his work well, my predecessor giving him the character of being a "hard-working and intelligent young man." The temporary establishment consisting of sub-overseers and chapprassies are engaged according to requirements from time to time.

8. The Committee regret that they cannot meet the requirements of the district for better roads and communication in consequence of shortness of funds. In course of time, I have no doubt the Government will be able to give to Singbhoom an additional grant from Provincial Funds, as a proposition to that effect was favorably received and remarked on in the Government Resolution on the report of the Chota Nagpore division for the year 1877-78.

Explanatory memorandum to accompany the annual accounts for the cess year 1877-78.

RECEIPTS.

Estates Improvement Fund.—The amount estimated was Rs. 797, the actual amount received being Rs. 753-6-7, which has been entered in the accounts.

EXPENDITURE.

Establishment.—Salary of an Overseer and a Clerk for 13 months.—Their salary for the month of September having been drawn on the 28th of that month, in consequence of the closing of the treasury from that date, hence the apparent excess of one month.

Tools and Plant.—A difference of Rs. 4 will be observed under this head with that shown in the four quarterly returns ; this is due to the cost of a table, Rs. 4, having been entered in the last quarterly return under "Establishment Contingencies" instead of Tools and Plant which has now been done.

SINGBHOOM DY. COMMR.'S OFFICE,
The 19th November 1878.

W. D. SAMUELLS,
Offg. Dy. Commr. and Chairman, Road Cess Committee, Singbhoom.

No. 194, dated Camp Doobra, the 7th December 1878.

From—LIEUT.-COLONEL B. W. D. MORTON, Deputy Commissioner of Manbhoom,
To—The Officiating Commissioner of the Chota Nagpore Division.

I HAVE the honor to submit the report and returns for this district under the Road Cess Act for the year ending 30th September last.

2. Working of the Road Cess Act.—The year was not a favourable one. The transplanted crops on the high lands failed for the most part in 1877, owing to the rainy season having both set in and terminated too soon. Collections were not good in consequence. The following represent balances for collection at the close of the cess years 1876-77 and 1877-78 respectively:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
1877-78	14,980	2	3

As remarked in last year's return, the fact of the last kist falling on the 28th September accounts for a large portion of the yearly balance. The balance, moreover, on the 30th September last includes a considerable amount of irrecoverable house tax, which I hope shortly to report for revision.

3. Working of Sudder Committee.—The Sudder Committee did fair work. There were nine meetings, exclusive of meetings at which no quorum was present. The details of the meeting are given in annexure A.

The work done may thus be summarized:—

(1) Annual accounts (1876-77) examined and passed; Sub-Audit Committee appointed.
(2) Appointment of new Vice-Chairman.
(3) Discussion in regard to taking over with sanction of Government (since obtained) certain municipal roads. Diversion of Rs. 5,000 from proposed expenditure on Chyebassa road for purposes of opening relief works.
(4) Discussion regarding relief works and rates of payment.
(5) Discussion regarding proposed loan of Rs. 10,000 from Government (applied for, sanctioned, but not taken,) for extension of relief works.
(6) Discussion regarding budget estimates for 1878-79, and passing of the same.
(7) Determination of rates for next year.

There was no Branch Committee.

4. Working of establishments.—There may be said to be three offices in connection with the Road Cess Act, all of which are paid from district road funds:—

First.—The road cess office, which is under the immediate orders of the Collector.
Second.—District road account offices.
Third.—The working establishment.

All did their work well during the year. The road cess office, under Babu Radhamadhub Singh, lately earned the approbation of the Board of Revenue for the neat and satisfactory manner in which the amalgamated (Provincial and Road Cess) returns had been prepared.

Mr. Thompson, accountant, kept the accounts with his usual neatness and care.

Babu Ramnath Bhattacharjia carried on his duties as District Engineer to my entire satisfaction. His subordinates also worked well.

5. Works done during the year.—The accompanying returns show what roads were in hand and what was actually expended on each road during the year under report. But they must not be taken as showing the exact work done on each road, for the reason that, on the one hand, they show money paid away for work done during the year previous (1877-76), and, on the other hand, they do not show work done, but which still remains to be paid for.

I find that on the 1st October 1878 we owed, for work done during the previous year on the several roads noted below, the sums specified opposite each. The figures are in some instances approximate, as the works have not been all measured.—

	Rs.	A.	P.
No. 1, Purulia and Chyebassa Road ...	6,236	11	4
„ 2, ditto Bankoora do. ...	2,137	8	3
„ 5 ditto Manbazar do. ...	2,337	9	0
Bara Bazar Inspection Bungalow on road No. 8...	176	0	0

I may note that we have been obliged to revise our estimate for 1878-79. We found that consequent partly on house-tax failing us, and partly on the complications arising from having to open up relief works which we had not contemplated, we owed more than was owing to us.

6. Works to be done during 1878-79.—We propose to spend Rs. 5,000 on one principal road, the Purulia and Chyebassa Road; No. 1, chiefly in culverts, and Rs. 5,000 in completing the culverts on the Purulia and Manbazar Road, No. 5. The latter will then be as complete as the Committee will probably be in funds to make it for some years, though there will still remain five big breaks, not including the Cossye, which, like the Damoodah, may, so far as local road funds are concerned, be considered a hopeless river. The road, too, will be unmetalled.

The Chyebassa and Purulia Road will still require another year's grace to bring it on a level of progress with the Purulia and Manbazar Road. It is proposed to undertake repairs on all the roads named in this year's return, and Rs. 5,000 has been set aside for culverts on, and repairs of, village roads.

7. Village roads.—As the returns will show, a large sum—Rs. 6,670-3-9 (against Rs. 3,000 estimated)—has been spent on village roads including relief works. Truth compels me to give my unvarnished opinion that, whilst the expenditure has been useful in affording relief, and doubtless in saving life, it has been, as expenditure on roads, to a large extent a waste of money.

8. General remarks.—I quite agree to the assured propriety of spending road cess money in construction of relief works. It is money derived from the poor to a large extent; and when these fall into difficulties, it is only right that they should derive benefit from what they have themselves paid. But I should be very glad if my reiterated remonstrances could have effect; or if my technical knowledge is held to be, as indeed it is, very limited, I should be glad if some one with technical knowledge, say the Executive Engineer, were called on to report as to the technical truth of what I now state. I repeat—and I repeat without the slightest fear of contradiction on the part of anyone who will take the trouble to probe local facts—not only that village road embanking is in Manbhoom waste of money, but that as an efficient relief work it fails in its object.

It is a waste of money for the simple reason that the funds at the Committee's disposal are far too small to carry on such roads to their legitimate conclusion.

I am more and more convinced that there are but two classes of roads for this district. The road complete, laid out with engineering skill, bridged and metalled throughout. Money spent on that, along a useful line of country, is money well laid out. There is, next, the village road proper. Our villagers are natural engineers; they have a capital eye for country. They take their roads along the water sheds, and these roads serve them at the worst season of the year They do not take them straight, for they do not want to have their fields cut up, and because, whilst a Manbhoom suggur will go anywhere in the dry weather, it affects dry paths in the rains. The only expenditure a village road requires is on account of a little levelling, filling up a few holes and ruts, and, above all, sloping the approaches to rivers, and laying down fascines or other contrivances over the sandy beds.

A few rupees spent thus will go a long way and will cheer the hearts of the villagers, not to mention their bullocks.

9. Every rupee spent in Manbhoom in embanking a village road is a waste of money. If the Committee were rich, if they could at once take up an embanked village road and convert it into a road proper, the case would be different. But how do we stand? We are, to begin with, very poor. We have five important roads in hand—Chyebassa and Purulia, No. 1; Manbazar and Purulia, No. 5; Bankoora and Purulia, No. 2; Gobindpore and Purulia, No. 3; Roghúnathpore and Raniganj, No. 4. These roads are 152 miles in extent, and to metal and bridge them throughout (excluding the two big rivers) would cost not much, if at all short of three lakhs of rupees. This means, with our funds, 20 to 30 years' expenditure, after allowing for establishment repairs, &c.

10. And such roads fail as an object of efficient relief. An embanked road takes a villager further and further every day from his village, and unless the embankment is very high, it affords no labour for women and children.

11. I may be asked—what, then, do you advise? My reply is—what money there is for road-making, after allowing for repairs, &c., divide between the two classes of road I have named, adding, if allowable, for reservoirs in a famine or a scarcity year. Stop all but work on emergent repairs, and spend all available funds in making village reservoirs. There cannot, for many a long year to come, be too many of them, and they afford the perfection of relief. Every pice spent on them will be sunk in the prosperity of the district, and all but the bedridden can find some employment on them.

Memorandum shewing in detail the Balance at credit of Deposit on 30th September 1878.—Nil.

No. 389T., dated Camp Manjheapara, the 14th January 1879.

From—J. F. K. HEWITT, ESQ., Officiating Commissioner of Chota Nagpore,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

I HAVE the honor to submit herewith the accompanying district reports on works of local improvement, together with the accounts of the several District Road Funds for the year ending 30th September last.

2. During the year under report, the Road Cess Act was in full force in three out of the four districts of this division. It was the fifth year of collection in Hazaribagh, fourth in Manbhoom, and first in Lohurdugga. In Singbhoom alone, to which the Act has not yet been extended, an assignment of Rs. 10,000 was made under Government notification No. 252 of the 18th September 1877. Subsequently, owing to anticipated distress in Manbhoom and Lohurdugga, the sanction of Government to a loan of Rs. 10,000 for each of these districts was conveyed in the Secretary's letter No. 578A. of the 12th June last.

3. The road cess was levied at the maximum rates in the districts of Hazaribagh and Manbhoom, and at three-fourth rates in Lohurdugga.

4. The demands and collections in each of the road cess districts for the past year are shown below:—

		Demand, including arrears.			Collections.			Percentage.
		Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.
Hazaribagh	Cess on lands ...	30,457	8	0	29,893	8	0	96·99
	,, ,, mines ...	1,114	8	0	1,114	8	0	100
	,, ,, houses ...	2,209	0	0	1,370	0	0	61·9
Manbhoom	Cess on lands ...	41,390	8	0	32,676	8	0	78·90
	,, ,, mines ...	82	8	0	82	8	0	100
	,, ,, houses ..	9,683	0	0	3,411	0	0	34·9
Lohardugga	Cess on lands ...	34,350	0	0	33,071	0	0	95·86
	,, ,, houses ...	1,629	0	0	814	0	0	50·00

5. The percentage of collections of cess on lands and mines in Hazaribagh and Lohardugga is quite satisfactory. The low percentage under the head of land cess in Manbhoom is ascribed by the Deputy Commissioner to the partial failure of crops, as also to the fact of the last instalment falling due on the 28th September.

6. The demand of house cess as shown against each district is on account of the whole year including arrears, but the collection of this cess falling due after 1st April last is held in abeyance under the orders contained in the Government letter, No. 52T, of the 23rd September last, to the address of the Board. This accounts for the short collection under the head of house cess.

7. Hazaribagh.—The total expenditure during the past year amounted to Rs. 28,499, against an income of Rs. 51,330, leaving a balance of Rs. 22,831 at its close.

8. A large portion of this balance is on account of works estimated for but not executed during the year under report, either because the estimates were not prepared for want of proper establishment for surveying and levelling, or because the estimates were prepared very late in the year.

	Rs.
* Original works ...	20,500
Repairs	17,900

9. The budget on account of works amounted to Rs. 38,400,* of which Rs. 19,856 (Rs. 5,321 on original works and Rs. 14,535 on repairs) were expended, leaving Rs. 18,544 unexpended at the close of the year.

10. Manbhoom.—The income of this district amounted to Rs. 56,966, and expenditure Rs. 52,949, the balance in hand at the close of the year being Rs. 4,017.

† Original works ...	35,650
Repairs	12,600
Total ...	48,250

11. The amount sanctioned for works was Rs. 48,250,† of which Rs. 43,277, viz. Rs. 30,177 on original works, and Rs. 13,100 on repairs were spent, leaving a balance of Rs. 4,973.

12. Out of the amount sanctioned for original works a sum of Rs. 5,000 was diverted to relief works, and there was no occasion for trenching on the loan of Rs. 10,000 sanctioned by Government.

13. Lohardugga.—The account for 1876-77 would show that a sum of Rs. 4,542-8-8 was due by the Fund at the close of that year. The account for the year under report has accordingly been opened with a deficit balance representing the amount due or overdrawn.

14. The total income of the year amounted to Rs. 37,867, out of which the amount due being deducted there remained a balance of Rs. 33,325, against which there was a total expenditure of Rs. 34,197, the deficit balance at the close of the year being Rs. 872.

	Rs.
‡ Original works ...	9,614
Repairs	12,995
Total ...	22,609

15. The sanctioned budget for works amounted to Rs. 22,609,‡ while the amount expended was Rs. 26,341 (Rs. 9,364 on original works and Rs. 16,977 on repairs), the difference being mostly due to the contractors.

16. It will be seen that though a loan of Rs. 10,000 was sanctioned for this district, the fund was not withdrawn up to the close of the year, and the deficit amounted to only Rs. 872.

17. Singbhoom.—It would appear that under instructions contained in the Government resolution No. 470A, of the 9th May last, the sum of Rs. 10,000 allotted for the year 1878-79 was drawn during the past year in addition to the Rs. 10,000 sanctioned for the year, though this should have been done after the close of the year and before the end of March next. The amount available for expenditure has accordingly been shown in the account to be Rs. 22,229, of which Rs. 9,565 were expended during the past year, leaving a balance of Rs. 12,664 at its close.

	Rs.
§ Original works	3,786
Repairs	6,011
Total ...	9,797

18. The budget, estimate for works amounted to Rs. 9,797,§ of which Rs. 7,250 (Rs. 2,539 on original works and Rs. 4,711 on repairs) were expended, leaving a balance of Rs. 2,547.

19. The details of works executed during the past year and of those proposed to be undertaken during 1878-79, are given in the several district reports.

20. It is to be observed that in many cases money has been spent on works without much regard to the sanctioned budget, so far as individual roads are concerned, evidently in consequence of relief works having had to be opened in the distressed localities which were not contemplated before; and for which no provision was made.

21. The several Road Cess Committees would, however, appear to have given more attention to the village roads than perhaps in any of the previous years.

22. The district officers are unanimous in their opinion that there was no actual difficulty in recovering the cess, but that the failure of payment in many cases was due to the fact of the year being an unfavorable one, as, in consequence of the high price of food, there was a considerable amount of distress in almost all the districts of the division.

23. With reference to the working of the several District and Branch Road Committees, it is to be observed that there were 4 meetings in Hazaribagh, 11 in Manbhoom, 8 in Lohurdugga, 8 in Palamow (Branch Committee), and 1 in Singbhoom. In Hazaribagh, Lohurdugga, and Singbhoom the meetings were all attended by a quorum. There was no quorum in two meetings in Manbhoom and one in Palamow.

24. The Sudder Committees in Hazaribagh and Manbhoom are reported to have done fair work. In Lohurdugga difficulty was often experienced in forming a quorum on account of the non-attendance of Mofussil members residing at a distance, and three new members had therefore to be added to the Committee during the past year, while the Deputy Commissioner of Singbhoom complains that the non-official members take no interest in the work required of them, and consider it troublesome to attend meetings, and that when they do attend they sit nearly mute.

25. The different establishments are reported to have worked satisfactorily during the year under report.

Proceedings of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations.

The 12th April 1879.

Present:

HIS HONOR THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR OF BENGAL, Presiding,
The Hon'ble J. D. BELL, Officiating Advocate-General,
The Hon'ble C. T. BUCKLAND,
The Hon'ble H. L. DAMPIER,
The Hon'ble A. MACKENZIE,
The Hon'ble J. O'KINEALY,
The Hon'ble AMEER ALI,
The Hon'ble MOULVI AMEER HOSSAIN,
The Hon'ble BABOO MOHINI MOHAN ROY, and

POWERS OF SETTLEMENT OFFICERS.

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER, before moving that the Bill to define and limit the powers of Settlement Officers be passed, moved the following amendments, which he said were of a verbal and formal character:—

In section 7, the substitution of the word "tenure" for "under-tenure" wherever it occurred.

The omission of the last paragraph of section 7 and the insertion of the following after paragraph 1 of section 10:

"But nothing in clause (c) of section 7 of this Act or in this section shall be held to limit the discretion of the court in determining in any suit under this section the rent of an under-tenant of the class described in the said clause (c)."

This amendment simply amounted to the transposition of what was now the last paragraph of section 7 with the necessary verbal amendments. The object was to provide that, in the case of under-tenants whose tenures were not binding on the Government, the proceedings of the Settlement Officer should in no way bind the discretion of the Civil Court if a suit was instituted. Such a provision would come in better under section 10, which applied to suits instituted to contest the Settlement Officer's proceedings.

Verbal amendments in the second paragraph of section 10 and in section 11.

The amendments were severally agreed to.

On the motion of the Hon'ble Mr. Dampier the Bill was then passed.

INLAND STEAM VESSELS.

The Hon'ble Mr. Inglis moved that the report of the Select Committee on the Bill to provide for the proper management of certain inland steam vessels be taken into consideration in order to the settlement of the clauses of the Bill, and that the clauses of the Bill be considered for settlement in the form recommended by the Select Committee. The Committee, he said, who took charge of this Bill, had not received any criticisms of a hostile character from the parties affected by the Bill, but a hope was expressed by them that care would be taken, in framing the rules for the examination of commanders of inland steamers with a view to the granting of certificates, that they would not operate harshly towards old and experienced commanders of the lines of steamers now running. The assurance had since been given to him that the Government would take care that fair consideration was paid to such cases, and with a view further to consider the interests of those concerned, the Bill provided that the rules should be published in the Calcutta Gazette at least two months before they took effect.

The only material alteration which the Select Committee had made in the Bill was to state more precisely the cases in which notice of accidents occurring to, or on board of, inland steam vessels was to be given to the local Government.

The Hon'ble Mr. Mackenzie observed that it was very satisfactory to the Executive Government to know that this Bill was approved by those who were interested in the navigation of inland steam vessels. He was authorized to state that the rules to be passed under the Act would be drawn, as the Bill had been framed, in communication with those whom they would affect. The Bill itself provided that they should not take effect until two months after their publication in the Gazette; but besides this, he could promise that, in drawing them up, those who were interested in the matter would be consulted. The Select Committee, he might add, had endeavoured to avoid any clashing or collision with the Indian Ports Act or the Indian Merchant Shipping Act of 1875, which provided a procedure for cases of accidents to sea-going vessels.

The motion was then agreed to, and the Bill was passed after a verbal amendment in section 4.

PASSENGER BOATS.

On the motion of the Hon'ble Mr. Mackenzie the report of the Select Committee on the Bill to repeal certain sections of Bengal Act IV of 1866, and to provide for the levy of fees upon certain passenger-boats and steam ferries, was taken into consideration in order to the settlement of the clauses of the Bill, and the Bill was passed without amendment.

STEAM TRAMWAY BETWEEN SILIGOREE AND DARJEELING.

The Hon'ble Mr. Mackenzie moved for leave to bring in a Bill to provide for the construction of a steam tramway between Siligoree and Darjeeling. As the Council was doubtless aware, arrangements had been made with a Company for the construction of a steam tramway on the cart road between Siligoree and Darjeeling. All the necessary provisions for guarding the interests of the public and of Government had been carefully drawn up and set forth in the contract between the Government and the Company, but it was deemed desirable that legal power should be given to the Company to construct the tramway on the cart road. The road being now open to the public, it was thought probable that legal difficulties might arise from the fact that the operations must necessarily during the period of construction cause some temporary obstruction to traffic. It was proposed to legalise the occupation of the road by the Company for the purpose of its operations and to enable it to run steam engines thereupon.

The Bill was a very short one, and he might say an urgent one.

The motion was agreed to.

The HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE applied to the President to suspend the rules for the conduct of business to enable him to carry the Bill through its subsequent stages.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT remarked that as the Bill was only intended to give legal effect to an agreement which had already been completed and signed in the form of a contract between the Government and the Darjeeling Steam Tramway Company, Limited, he thought there was no great impropriety in his suspending the rules, and he accordingly declared the rules suspended.

The HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE then moved that the Bill be read in Council.

The HON'BLE THE OFFICIATING ADVOCATE-GENERAL moved the insertion of the following section with the view of avoiding possible difficulties afterwards. The object of the section was to give the Company authority to obstruct the cart road in the course of making the tramway :—

"The Company may, with the permission of such officer as the local Government may from time to time empower in that behalf, obstruct the said cart road, but in such case the Company shall provide such accommodation for the local traffic during such obstruction as the said officer shall direct."

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT believed the proposed section would make the matter clearer. But it was not correct to attach too great importance to this question of obstruction. The road was not a road made from local or provincial funds. It was a State road maintained from the public funds, and had often, in the interests of the public, been closed to traffic for weeks together. The object of the construction of the tramway was to facilitate the traffic which now went by carts; for weeks together the cart traffic was stopped in consequence of the difficulty of obtaining cattle. Although it was possible that portions of the road might be obstructed here and there during the construction of the tramway, it would eventually do away with the obstructions to traffic from which the public now suffered. For instance, last year the whole of the food-supply was stopped for weeks together, almost to an extent involving famine. On the whole, however, HIS HONOR thought the clause proposed by the learned Advocate-General would secure sufficiently the interests of the public.

The proposed section was then agreed to, and the Bill read in Council.

The Secretary was instructed to insert in the preamble of the Bill the date of the agreement which had been entered into with the Company; and on the motion of the HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE the following words were inserted in line 7 of section 2:—

"or any agreement which may hereafter be entered into between the Company and the said Secretary of State."

The Bill was then read in Council, and on the motion of the HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE the Bill was passed.

The Council was adjourned sine die.

APPOINTMENT OF A COMMISSION TO CONSIDER THE QUESTION OF AMENDING THE RENT LAW OF BENGAL.

No. 832—337LR, dated Calcutta, the 3rd April 1879.

From—A. MACKENZIE, Esq., Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Revenue Department,
To—The Secy. to the Govt. of India, Dept. of Revenue, Agriculture, and Commerce.

THE nature and scope of the Bill "to provide for the more speedy realization of arrears of rent, and to amend the law relating to rent" now pending before the Bengal Legislative Council were fully explained to the Government of India in my letter No. 3060, dated 11th December last. A copy of the Bill in the form in which it was introduced, and of the statement of objects and reasons, is now enclosed for readier reference. Since that time the measure has been much discussed, not only by the officers of Government and others to whom it was specially referred, and by the Select Committee of Council appointed to report upon it, but also in the public press, Vernacular and English, and a great mass of valuable suggestions has been brought together, which it has not yet been found possible to arrange and digest.

2. I am now directed to forward, for the consideration of the Government of India, a copy of the Bill as preliminarily amended by the Select Committee, together with their report on the same, and to invite attention to the remarks made in paragraph 14 of that report. It will be seen that the Committee urge very strongly the propriety of taking up the revision of the Rent Law of Bengal in a much more comprehensive manner than was contemplated at first by this Government. The Lieutenant-Governor, it will be remembered, in view of the loud and constant complaints put forward by the zemindars as to the difficulty under the present law of collecting even undisputed rents, was anxious to provide them at an early date with a reasonably summary procedure to enable them to overcome the passive resistance of their ryots, provided that the ryots' tenure was at the same time so protected and strengthened as to obviate any fear of their being made to suffer unduly in the process. It is found, however, almost impossible to frame a procedure which shall be perfectly fair to both parties, and yet afford such special facilities to the zemindar as he seeks to secure. The procedure provided in the amended Bill is now declared by the zemindars to be so carefully guarded as to be practically of little use to them, and they have by their recognized organs expressed themselves ready to postpone their demand for a special procedure, if only the whole subject of the rent law can be brought under adequate and detailed revision. It may, indeed, be found that, if the substantive law of landlord and tenant can be put upon a more clear and intelligible basis, if the difficulties that have attended the working of the law of 1859 are duly considered and removed, and if the ordinary rent procedure is made more simple and expeditious, the necessity for having any special or summary procedure will not continue to be felt.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor finds that the suggestions of the Select Committee in this respect have the entire support of the Board of Revenue and of all the more experienced Revenue Officers in Bengal, as well as of the native community. It is felt certainly that the task is one of considerable magnitude and difficulty, in which it is impossible confidently to anticipate success, but the general opinion is that the attempt should once for all be made.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor believes that the best mode of dealing with the subject will be to appoint a small official Commission of experienced Revenue and Judicial Officers, who should in the first place prepare a careful analysis and digest of the existing Rent Law as set forth in the Acts relating to that subject, and in the decisions of the Courts since the passing of Act X of 1859. All the conflicting decisions of the Courts, and all the omissions in the Acts themselves, would thus be brought clearly into view. The Commission would then consider the suggestions for amendment that have been put forward of late years, and endeavour to prepare a draft Bill embodying such additions to the substantive law, and such improvements in the law of procedure, as may commend themselves to their judgment. The Bill with the report of the Commission would be published and circulated, and subjected to close scrutiny. The opinions of the High Court Judges and of the Divisional and District Officers, Judicial and Executive, would be sought for and collated. The public would have every opportunity given it of being heard upon the subject; and eventually a measure based upon the results of this free discussion and deliberation might be introduced into the local Council with the sanction of the Government of India.

5. In considering the composition of the proposed Commission, the Lieutenant-Governor has felt it incumbent upon him at the present time to avoid as much as possible the creation of special appointments, but it will be necessary that one member of the Commission should have his hands free of other duties to enable him to find time to prepare, under the instructions of his colleagues, the digest and draft Bill. For this duty the Lieutenant-Governor would select Mr C. D. Field, LL.D., Judge of Burdwan, than whom no one could be better fitted for the task. Mr. Field would be placed on special duty, receiving his present pay and allowances, and a junior officer would be appointed temporarily to act for him. The acting allowances of this officer would be the only extra charge to Government, and this can easily be met from the ordinary provision for administration in the provincial estimates. The members of the Commission would then be—

(1) Hon'ble H. L. Dampier, Member of the Board of Revenue.
(2) ,, J. O'Kinealy, Legal Remembrancer.
(3) Mr. C. D. Field, LL.D., Judge of Burdwan, on special duty.
(4) ,, H. L. Harrison, Secretary to the Board of Revenue.
(5) Baboo Brojendro Kumar Seal, Subordinate Judge of the 24-Pergunnahs.

6. I am to solicit the early approval of the Governor-General in Council to these arrangements. It is most desirable that the Commission should begin work at once.

No. 973—393LR, dated Calcutta, the 18th April 1879.

To—The Hon'ble H. L. DAMPIER, Member of the Board of Revenue.

I AM directed to forward, for your information, a copy of a letter No. 832—337LR, dated the 3rd instant, to the address of the Government of India, in the Revenue, Agriculture, and Commerce Department, proposing the appointment of a Commission to consider the question of amending the general Rent Law of these provinces and (if possible) frame a Bill which might form the basis of future legislation on that subject.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor has been informed by telegram that His Excellency the Governor-General in Council has approved of the appointment of the Commission, and of Mr. Field's deputation on special duty, in the manner suggested in my letter, for a period of four months. Arrangements will be made to relieve Mr. Field as soon as possible, and on his arrival in Calcutta, I am to request you will, as President of the Commission (to which office the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to appoint you), call the members together and arrange with the least possible delay the plan of working most likely to secure the objects in view. The Assistant Secretary to this Government in the Legislative Department will be ex-officio Secretary to the Commission.

3. All papers recorded either in the Legislative or Revenue Departments of this Government, bearing upon the question of the amendment of the Rent Law, will be made available to the Commission on its calling for them. The report and proceedings of the Behar Rent Committee, which have recently been received by Government, will be specially referred to it. The Hon'ble Judges of the High Court will also be asked to give any assistance that they can to the Commission in the way of furnishing it with any minutes or reports of the Judges or of subordinate judicial officers which might, in the opinion of the Court, be unobjectionably given, and assist its deliberations.

4. I am to request that the Commission will keep a formal record of its proceedings, and inform Government in the Revenue Department from time to time of the progress made, and of the general character of any proposed modifications of the law that may commend themselves to its members.

PAPERS ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF CIVIL JUSTICE IN EASTERN BENGAL, IN CONTINUATION OF THE RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL GENERAL REPORT OF THE DACCA DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1877-78, PUBLISHED IN THE SUPPLEMENT TO THE CALCUTTA GAZETTE OF 25th SEPTEMBER 1878.

No. 371, dated Calcutta, the 4th March 1879.

From—J. CRAWFURD, Esq., Registrar of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Judicial Department.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of Mr. Cockerell's letter No. 4056, dated the 18th October last, asking whether, in the opinion of the Judges, anything can be done to remedy certain alleged defects in the administration of civil justice in Eastern Bengal, which have been remarked on by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor in reviewing the last Annual Administration Report of the Dacca Division.

2. In answer to the complaints which have been made, I am directed to submit, in original, a very full and able report* by Mr. Geddes, the District Judge of Tipperah, who, at the Court's request, has gone very carefully into the charges made against the Civil Courts by Mr. Lyall, with the result, in the Judges' opinion, of showing that his complaints are almost groundless; that the existing Civil Courts are better than any other which the Government could provide at the same cost for the trial of suits involving disputes as to the rates of rent between zemindars and ryots; that such blemishes as have been justly pointed out are the consequence of a disparity between the number of tribunals and the business which they had to dispose of, and that the principal defects in procedure either have been removed or are fast disappearing.

* No 70, dated 16th January.

3. As remarked by the Lieutenant-Governor, the means have recently been given to the High Court of increasing the staff of Moonsifs very considerably, and the Dacca Division has had its full share of the additional establishment sanctioned, two new Courts having been opened towards the close of last year in each of the districts of Dacca, Furreedpore, and Mymensingh, and one in Backergunge and Tipperah respectively.

4. That the work will be anything but heavy even with the increased staff is not to be expected. It is most probable that the pressure in the Courts has operated to keep out a certain number of suitors who will now come in. Experience shows that the opening of a new Court in a district where the Courts are overworked is followed by an increase in the total number of suits, and that it does not merely produce a re-distribution of the existing litigation.

5. Mr. Geddes shows that there are special causes to account for the extent of litigation in certain Moonsifees in Tipperah, and it may be hoped that they will die out in time, and that it will suffice to give temporary assistance. Under the recent orders of Government, the staff of Moonsifs of the fourth grade has yet to be increased by five; as funds become available, and if the District Judge calls for further aid, this can be given without any serious delay.

6. In considering the average duration of rent suits, it must be borne in mind that about two-thirds of the number of cases are instituted in the second quarter of each year, as shown by the figures in the margin, which are extracted from the table in paragraph 16 of Mr. Geddes' report. This is accompanied by a great increase, though perhaps not quite to the same extent, in suits to recover money, but which are called in the statements Small Cause Court class suits.

	Second quarter.	The other three quarters.
1876 instituted ...	1,419	967
1877 „ ...	1,526	867
1878 „ ...	1,583	613

7. It is obvious that the judicial staff and the ministerial establishments cannot possibly deal with this sudden influx without considerable delay, and this must be the case whatever the denomination of the Court into which it is poured. Whether the presiding officer is called Moonsif or Deputy Collector, his working power is limited by the physical impossibility of getting two days work done in one.

8. There is doubtless a very good reason for the crowding of suits into a few months, namely, the completion of the year's harvesting, and it is consequently hopeless to expect that any change will occur.

9. Thus a large mass of litigation, from circumstances entirely beyond the control of any Court, occupies double or treble the time which the character of the suits taken by itself may seem to warrant, and the average for the year is seriously affected. This fact Mr Lyall probably overlooked, and the Judges think it highly probable that complaining zemindars also overlook it. What they look at is the general result, which they compare with their estimate of the time necessary to get through the procedure in a particular suit.

10. Mr. Geddes' statement above referred to is very instructive. The 7th column shows the number of rent suits pending for more than six weeks at the end of each quarter in the three years 1876, 1877, and 1878. It is in the Court's opinion very creditable to the officers concerned that the number entered as pending for this time at the end of the second quarter of each year is as small as it is, and that by the end of the following quarters so much progress is made in reducing the files; it is evident that the bulk of the suits which pour in at the close of the Bengali year is disposed of before the end of September, and that the outstanding suits are the exceptional ones involving keen contests, as to which more will be said further on.

11. It is also, the Judges think, obvious that there is but one way of dealing with this sudden periodical influx of litigation, so as to maintain the general average of the other three quarters of the year, and this is to have a corresponding periodical addition for three months to the number of Courts. But this is the system which, at the instance of the Court, the Government has recently abandoned, and, in the Judges' opinion, there can be no doubt that it is a bad one. It involves the temporary employment of a number of officers of little or no experience, with establishments of ministerial officers who, with no permanent interest to act as a check, are exposed to considerable temptations; and it necessarily also involves great loss of time from the transfer, at the end of the limited time for which these officers are appointed, of all outstanding suits to the permanent staff who, before they can deal with them, have to make themselves acquainted with what has been already done. The gain, as compared with the average time occupied by suits disposed of by a fixed establishment, is not commensurate with these disadvantages, and the Court consider that the Government has done all that it can be expected to do when it has provided a judicial staff sufficient to deal with the total litigation of the year, and that it cannot be called upon to provide for the periodical fluctuations which are observable in it. The table given by Mr. Geddes in paragraph 21 exhibits considerable variations in the averages of 1876, 1877, and 1878, but his letter fully explains why there is greater delay in particular Moonsifees (Brahmunberiah and Kusba); in the others the time occupied is not by any means excessive.

against A force them on the instant to attorn to B, though it must follow from the decree that they will eventually have to submit. Wherever a plaintiff has reason to believe that fictitious or voidable subordinate tenures will be set up to defeat him after decree, he can anticipate the resistance by including the parties in his suit, taking the risk of paying their costs if they should submit without contest, a comparatively insignificant matter. But it never is intended that a change of ownership shall interfere with bonâ fide interests of subordinate holders. That it may be very irritating to a successful litigant to find the tenants on the land strong partizans of the defeated party, and prepared to make it as difficult as possible for him to get the full benefit of his declared ownership, the Court will not deny, and the Judges have very little doubt that, as Mr. Lyall says, he is apt to do something to help himself, even at the risk of bringing on a riot; but this difficulty is only one of the inevitable results of a low state of civilization in which truth is at a discount and the sentiment of clanship is stronger than respect for the law. No system of procedure can be moulded on the anticipation that an impatient litigant will act illegally: compliance with the law must be presumed and, if possible, enforced.

13. The Judges desire to reiterate once more what they have repeatedly asserted before, that organized resistance to the payment of rent by ryots is invariably due to systematic efforts to enhance them with or without cause; that bad relations between zemindar and ryot are almost universally due either to the property changing hands and to the speculator's attempt to augment the yield of his purchase, or to the zemindar allowing some one, a middleman, to come between him and the ryots, the middleman talookdar, or whatever he be called, being left very commonly to raise the profit which he pays by putting pressure on the ryots.

14. The Judges desire to express the astonishment that they feel at the observations frequently made on the subject of riots arising out of rent disputes. Zemindars and perhaps officials are apt to think that the ryots are to blame. Now it seems to the Court that from the nature of the case the blame must generally rest with the zemindar. Of course the Judges do not mean to say that he is not more or less frequently subjected to great annoyance, and perhaps to loss; but so long as he confines himself to legal measures for enforcing his right there cannot ordinarily be a riot. If rent is refused, he can sue; if he is resisted in distraining, he can apply to a Court for assistance; if he is entitled to measure lands and is opposed, he can do the same. There is a legal remedy in each case, and if there is a riot, it can hardly be that it does not result from his impatience, pride, and preference for illegal courses. An obstinate ryot can be coerced, but he can legally only be coerced by the aid of the Court, if no other coercion is attempted, there is no occasion for a riot. There may be exceptional cases in which the tenants take the initiative and resort to violence to drive out or intimidate the agents of a zemindar acting strictly within the letter of the law; but if there are such, the Judges believe them to be quite exceptional, and their experience founded on the criminal cases that come before the Court bear them out in saying that it is very rarely that violence of this class is wholly unprovoked.

15. As to what the Officiating Commissioner says of the reluctance of Civil Officers to apply for aid to a Magistrate, it seems to the Judges to be founded on a complete misconception of the true state of things The opposition to a Civil Court decree is rarely of a nature to admit of a reference to a Magistrate. In a particular class of offences—perjury and forgery—it is perhaps true that Civil Courts are not anxious to prosecute because their prosecutions are very apt to fail. Some are instituted without due caution: in many, the persons injured by the offence having succeeded in establishing their rights in the Civil Court are easily gained over by the accused, and not only do not co-operate, but, on the contrary, throw obstacles in the way of the prosecution; the cases are generally intricate, the Judge who directs the prosecution cannot attend to it, and the charge fails from imperfect prosecution. This happened in a prosecution for forgery committed in this Court, directed by the late Chief Justice, Sir Richard Couch, and Mr. Justice Ainslie, and they were unable to remedy it. The Judges suspect that Mr. Lyall is unconsciously applying the results of one class of cases to a totally different class. They do not think a Moonsif is, as a rule, slow to vindicate the authority of his own Court if he can do it successfully.

16. There is one class of cases in which decrees for possession are not unfrequently very difficult to execute, namely, suits for lands thrown up in a river, and probably Mr. Lyall had these in his mind. Possession given in such cases must, as a rule, be what Mr. Lyall speaks of as symbolical, the owners rarely, perhaps never, occupy such lands, except through under-tenants. It is true unfortunately that in such cases many decrees are very imperfect, and that the definition of the subject of the decree is so insufficient that further disputes are certain to arise. Probably Mr. Lyall had in his mind certain decrees of this nature in Furreedpore, which about two years ago were brought before this Court by Mr. Geddes, then Judge of that district. In one case there was a further complication, in that the Subordinate Judge made his decree without disposing of the claims of several defendants setting up independent titles. The Subordinate Judge was transferred to another district; and the Judges trust that Mr. Geddes is correct in the belief which he entertains, that there has been material improvement of late in framing decrees in such suits. There is, however, a source of trouble which nothing can eliminate, namely, the changes in the extent and appearance of alluvial lands to which they are always liable, and which sometimes really necessitate a re-survey if proceedings in execution are delayed. An instance of this lately came before the Third Bench. A decree was made by the Judge of Patna in 1864, when the subject of suit was all dry land; this, after sundry vicissitudes, was eventually confirmed by the Privy Council in 1872, execution was applied for in 1874, when it was found that almost the whole was in the bed of a great arm of the Ganges, and when it shall re-form, the boundries can only be established by a re-survey based on a settlement map. In fact, although the question of title has been settled, the question of identity will possibly require proceedings equivalent to a new suit, and in the meantime there will be ample opportunity for dispute and violence. Where land is subject to annual inundation and change, landmarks placed on it have a very brief existence, and the most careful proceedings by a Civil Court may leave it extremely difficult for a Magistrate to determine six months later the precise extent of the land awarded.

17. These are difficulties which must be accepted, and all that can be done is to minimize them by care in framing decrees. The Mofussil Courts may well improve in this matter, and doubtless will improve. It is a point which this Court habitually gives attention to in the cases which come before it. It is in such matters as these that an intelligent body of mookhtears practising in the Civil Courts would give valuable assistance; they and their clients together might, if they would, study the language of decrees before these are signed, and point out ambiguities and uncertain provisions. At present the Judges fear there is a total absence of intelligent examination, and that a defective definition is apt to be looked on as a means of expanding on one side and evading on the other the order of the Court.

18. In respect of possession given after sale in execution, it is evident on very slight consideration that, with all the information which a Court can put together under section 287, it must often be uncertain how far the judgment-debtor has an unencumbered title, and consequently a Court can certainly not go further in respect of giving actual possession than if it can go as far as it can under a decree for possession. The aid of the police is not required in either case. Sections 331 to 335 amply provide for a determination of questions arising on an order for delivery of possession, if the persons concerned will avail themselves of them: the Civil Courts cannot be held responsible for individuals taking the law into their own hands, and it is not their province to invoke the police as a summary mode of settling disputes. If the Magistrate would look to the law and see who it is that ought to make an application to the Civil Court under the appropriate section in any given case, he would at once have a guide; but if an executive officer thinks it unnecessary for him to know anything of the procedure of the Civil Courts, the Code of Criminal Procedure will hardly serve to direct him right.

19. Lastly, the Officiating Commissioner is of opinion that Moonsifs are biassed against landlords in enhancement suits. As pointed out by Mr. Geddes, there is really no noticeable disproportion between decrees in enhancement suits in favour of zemindars and ryots respectively (see statement paragraph 22). He further calls attention, and in the Court's opinion very justly, to Mr. Lyall's statement that landlords resort to every possible means of making their ryots pay increased rent before going to Court. What Mr. Geddes further states, viz. that suits for enhancement of rent after notice form a very small portion of the actual enhancement suits, is patent to every one who has had to deal with rent suits. To allege falsely that the rent of past years was higher than in the end it is proved to have been, and to sue on this allegation for the rent of the current year as a rent settled by tacit agreement with a view to use the decree, if obtained, as proof for the future of the rate of rent, is a trick which is practised every day. The Judges have no reason to suppose that false claims are more numerous than false defences, but they have equally no reason to suppose the contrary.

20. An enhancement suit, regular or irregular, is a proceeding of vital importance to a tenant: if he has a right to hold free of enhancement and fails to prove it, he is simply ruined; whereas if a landlord fails to establish a claim to enhancement, even if really a just one, he is no worse off than he was before as regards his actual income. If, therefore, there is a bias towards the ryot, which the Judges; do not admit, it is by no means an unnatural one; it is but the natural feeling which leads to the protection of the weaker against the stronger, so far as to require the latter to make out a clear case, which indeed every plaintiff is bound to do. There is, as the old maxim has it, a certain advantage in the position of a defendant which those who suffer under the corresponding disadvantage, unfairly, but not unnaturally, stigmatize as the result of bias.

21. Whether enhancement suits ought to go out of the hands of the Civil Judges into those of some other agency the Court will not now consider. It is enough to say that the Officiating Commissioner is not warranted by any facts stated in charging the Civil Courts with any failure of duty in respect of such suits, and that, when complaints are preferred by landlords, it is well to bear in mind that the suits openly brought to establish a higher rate of rent than previously paid are but one of the means adopted for gaining the end. Those who do not scruple to attempt to secure their object by false allegations in suits framed as for rent at current rates are not likely to be accurate in their comments on adverse decisions by whomsoever given.

No. 70, dated Calcutta, the 16th January 1879.

From—J. C. Geddes, Esq., Officiating District Judge of Tipperah,
To—The Registrar of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

I have the honor to submit the explanations called for in your No. 2889 of the 7th November 1878, with regard to certain defects reported to the Officiating Commissioner of Dacca as characterising the Civil Courts of the Dacca Division, and more especially of Tipperah, and in respect particularly of rent suits. I regret that there has been some delay in dealing with the subject. I had to call on the local Moonsifs for their part of the explanations, and unfortunately, owing to other public engagements, I was unable to avail myself of the Christmas vacation for considering and reporting on the subject. I the more regret the imperfect character of the report which, under pressure as to time, I have now to offer, because the memorandum from the Officiating Commissioner to Government is a singularly favourable specimen of the class of reports which seem to have been going before Government in considerable numbers. The writer is evidently a shrewd observer, a very fair spirited or even generous critic towards the class of native officials under review, and he has the advantage of extensive local information, being obviously himself an officer readily accessible to, and trusted by, the people generally. If on an instance so favourable it turn out that the information is necessarily too limited to warrant the conclusions drawn, if it be shown that the information supplied to the Officiating Commissioner is interested information as coming from a class making ex parte representations, then the presumption becomes very strong that things are not after all seriously unsatisfactory. If the Commissioner of the Dacca Division fails to make out a case for the zemindars of Eastern Bengal, then practically any general complaint from the zemindars of Bengal and Behar as to the administration of rent suits and enhancement cases by the Civil Courts goes by default.

2. The subjects commented on divide themselves into two classes—the one relating to title on landed property suits, and the other to rent suits.

3. The Officiating Commissioner, as representing the chief controlling officer over the executive, and more especially over the police, has some reason (paragraph 72) for complaining that the Civil Courts of first instance are somewhat lacking in vigor over the enforcement of their decrees. There is, however, an improvement noticeable in this respect during recent years, more especially among the junior judicial officers. Still, speaking generally of the recent past, it must be admitted that the Civil Courts do too frequently, through the vagueness of their decrees, add needlessly to the trouble experienced by the police in maintaining the peace. This has long been a fertile source of uncertainty and disturbance in South Furreedpore, and it is said also in the similar region of Backergunge. The principal defect is not exactly that dwelt on by Mr. Lyall, a reluctance to invoke the aid of the Executive. The great difficulty experienced by a decree-holder is not that as to tangible possession or actual admission to the land awarded under decree. The decree-holder's difficulty is that of inducing the ryots to formally acknowledge the new transferee and pay rent to him; in other words, that of inducing the tenants to attorn to the purchaser. On further consideration of the subject, Mr. Lyall would doubtless recognize that it would not be desirable to have the Civil Courts looking to the police for help in securing kabulyats from cultivators in acknowledgment of the new transferee.

Title suits. Slackness over enforcement of decrees.

Vagueness of decretal orders.

4. The real defect to be cured is that of vagueness in the actual decretal order. That again arises in a great measure from timidity or excessive cautiousness in the drawing up of plaints and, in a less degree, written statements. Of course the Courts of First Instance are to blame for the too habitual omission to exact these particulars from the parties at the very outset. The High Court are always enjoining on the Courts of First Instance the duty of requiring from the parties sufficiently clear and determinate specification (and this at an early stage) as to the precise land and the precise quota of proprietary interest aimed at in the suit. The Mofussil Courts are gradually learning to fulfil this duty more than in times past. One easy test under the High Court's Rules is, whether the delineation and description given in a plaint would suffice for prompt and indisputable identification of the land on the part of the naẓir to whom the decree sought for would fall for execution. Another similar test under the rules is, whether the descriptive data furnished in the plaint are such as could readily, and with fairness to all parties, be transcribed into the column of particulars in the High Court's form for proclamation as to sale in execution. The plaint and proclamation sheet, the opening, and almost concluding documents of a record, ought to be identical as to specification, so far as specification is needed. There are, however, many cases where the plaintiff, wishing to put in, as is too often the case, a general vague claim, manages to escape the vigilance of the Moonsif or Subordinate Judge at the earliest prescribed scrutiny, namely, at the time of admitting the plaint. Still the Court subsequently acquires at the framing of issues another opportunity of exacting the required supplementary particulars; for by that time the defendant is sure to have seen and to have challenged the defect.

Causes of this vagueness.
(a.) Cumbrous native method of expressing compound fractions in concrete, not abstract, terms.

5. There is one fertile source of obscurity in these matters for which the Civil Courts cannot altogether be held answerable. At all events some allowance should be made for the difficulty experienced by the Courts in emerging from it. This is the cumbrousness of the native method of expressing aliquot parts. Being accustomed to express fractions in concrete, instead of in abstract, terms, e.g. 12 annas instead of $\frac{3}{4}$, (like the Roman sub-division by the as, or our own computations in bankruptcy proceedings by so many shillings in the pound), natives experience much difficulty in expressing rapidly and clearly a compound fraction. For example, instead of describing a twice sub-divided proprietary interest as, say, $\frac{1}{16}(\frac{1}{4}\times\frac{1}{4}=\frac{1}{16})$, they are obliged to employ a circumlocution, such as "4 annas of a 4 annas share constituted 16 annas." Sooner or later a part of the circumlocution comes to be dropped, and then ambiguity is for a time unavoidable. Add to this that there is a sort of chronic ambiguity as to whether, in any given instance, the awkward fractional computation refers to land actually demarcated and partitioned off, or only to rent proceeds available for distribution.

(b.) Custom of relegating specifications to the supplementary or execution proceedings.

6. Another but less excusable source of obscurities in the Civil Courts, and consequent difficulties at the police thanas, has grown up from a thoughtless and somewhat indolent habit of relegating the critical questions as to identification into a supplementary proceeding in what is called the Execution Department. The Courts get an opening for this in the liberty allowed to them of postponing ascertainment of mesne profits to a subsequent proceeding of this kind. Suits for land naturally lead up to wasilat (mesne profits) cases, and there is, it must be admitted, too often a practice of thus regulating other determinations also, and in the meantime registering decrees for the quarterly returns. The Appellate Courts, to whom it falls long after to unravel the resulting entanglements, are sometimes tempted to think that the tradition still survives among Courts of First Instance to give decrees tolerably freely in the expectation of being able to temper them suitably at a latter time in the process of execution.

(c.) Local investigations.

7. A third fertile source of obscurity is the extent to which the Civil Courts are allowed to avail themselves of Civil Court ameens. This has naturally enough been long a sore point with the Dacca Commissioner. The chur cases and the breaches of the peace over them have drawn the close attention of the Dacca Commissioner to this particular defect on the part of the Civil Courts. The High Court has long been repressing this undue tendency towards delegations in favour of Civil Court ameens. It is not without considerable pressure that the Courts of First Instance are being induced to steel themselves into requiring the parties to furnish the needful data for themselves. As a rule, plaintiffs desire to furnish the least possible amount of information which the Courts will accept; and when they do furnish specific particulars, they generally render them in the limited form of only chittas or enumerations of plots. It is not, except when much in earnest, that they will volunteer sketch maps showing the positions or tracts plotted off for ready identification. The custom of the Courts, now happily on the decline, has been to refer the resulting difficulties to a Civil Court ameen nominally for report, but really for adjudication. In this district it would not be too much to say that the Civil Courts of First Instance which the District Judge of Tipperah, without Noakholly, had had to control were two Subordinate Judges, 11 (latterly 12) Moonsifs, 4 Civil Court ameens, in all 18 Courts of sorts. The result of such irregularities is vagueness of decrees, wherever based upon maps too often judged or distorted by Civil Court ameens. This again naturally results in affrays.

All these defects on the decline.

8. Still it ought to be noticed that these evils, though far from extirpated, are on the decline. In all these respects Subordinate Judges and Moonsifs are improving steadily. In the occasional aggravated instances, such as the Officiating Commissioner alludes to, it would be well if the Executive authorities would bring to the notice of the District Judge for enquiry, and report to the High Court those instances where, through blameworthy vagueness on the part of a Civil Court, the District Magistrate finds it impossible to make out what the decision of any particular Civil Court has actually been.

Similar defects on the part of Executive authorities. These also on the decline.

9. While on this subject, I may be allowed, without any desire for recrimination, to illustrate some of the above remarks by referring to one or two habitual defects on the part of the native Executive authorities precisely analogous to those of the native Judicial authorities. I may make this reference with the less distrust of being misunderstood, because, as it happens, Mr. Peacock has for some time been restricting the defects to narrower and narrower proportions than used to obtain, and is still pressing the same object. One of the customary defects which he has been overcoming is that of prevailing on native Sub-Divisional Officers and thana Sub-Inspectors to clear up their ideas as to what they mean when they attribute to A or B the act of illegal assembly. The High Court has to go on issuing order after order when they enjoin on the Courts of First Instance the duty of obtaining at an early stage a clear idea as to what particular land, and what particular interest in that particular land, is to be the subject of trial. In the same way the Commissioner of Dacca has had not a little difficulty in inducing his native subordinates to make up their minds early in the proceedings as to what specific common object they are going to attribute to X and Y in prosecuting them on a charge under sections 143, 144, 147, 148, 149, with 304, Penal Code.

10. Again, it is a common complaint about Moonsifs and Subordinate Judges that they narrow their issues too minutely to the technical points. The Commissioner of Dacca has the same difficulty to contend with when he enjoins on his Executive subordinates in respect to riot cases; that it does not suffice and is not desirable to concentrate the investigation so closely as is customary on the particular incidents of the particular event; that it is desirable also to look at the general bearings of the affair; that, in fact, it is extremely desirable, for example, to investigate the antecedents with a view to ascertain the previous status quo, and thereby to deduce the probabilities as to who was likely to lose or gain by a disturbance of the status quo; that, in comparison with these aims, the aspiration to prove that X was beheld by A, B, C, standing with a latti in his hands at a particular moment of time, although all very well in its way, is in some respects of mere secondary importance.

Mr. Lyall's suggestion that Civil Courts should call on the police more freely is not desirable.

11. Returning, however, from this digression, I would observe that the remedy suggested by Mr. Lyall, that of invoking the police, is not necessary or desirable except in rare cases. Where a Civil Court takes the trouble to make its decretal order clear or readily determinable, e.g. as to what specific persons are to be bound by the decree, or what specific land is to be covered by the decree, there is rarely any need for resorting to the police. Ryots are ready enough to withhold rents from a rent claimant if he be duly, that is to say clearly, dispossessed by the Civil Courts. In this way the supplies for obstructive litigation can be cut off readily. It is not desirable that Civil Courts should be encouraged to look to the police for supplementing the defects and ambiguities arising from the Civil Court's own negligence over decretal orders.

Defects as to the framing and executing of decrees are rapidly being removed.

12. Thus far then I have freely admitted that there are certain defects more or less identical with or similar to those remarked by the Officiating Commissioner of Dacca. It is right to repeat that these defects are being reduced by the Subordinate Judges and the Moonsifs to narrower and narrower proportions. The new Civil Procedure Code is accelerating many reforms in this direction. That measure had not had time to tell fully during the administrative year under review by Mr. Lyall.

Similar defects not peculiar to the Moonsifs and Subordinate Judges. They prevailed far more among Deputy Collectors when trying rent suits.

12½. I trust I shall not be understood to be resorting to anything so objectionable as recrimination when I observe that the same defects as to vagueness in decrees and so on used to characterise the Deputy Collectors when they had charge of rent suits. If Mr. Lyall were to come in daily contact with the decrees of Moonsifs, he would fully recognise that immense reforms have been effected since the decisions which in respect of vagueness had often to be commented on unfavourably by District Collectors in appeal, and by District Magistrates in quite a different capacity.

Rent suits.

13. This brings me to the principal subject for report, one where the criticisms are more especially unfavourable, that as to the adjudication of rent suits, and more particularly of enhancement suits.

The Brahmunberiah sub-division an exceptional territory as to rent suits.

14. The Officiating Commissioner adverts more specially to the results in the Brahmunberiah Sub-division. In respect of judicial work the Brahmunberiah Sub-division is probably the weakest point in the judicial line of defence presentable throughout the jurisdiction of the Dacca Division. The litigation in the year in question, 1877-78, i.e. the year ending 31st March 1878, and for some time before and since, has been, for local reasons, exceptionally heavy in amount and difficult in character. Add to this, that the staff, as it happens, was under-manned and was in no wise exceptional as to personal ability. The jurisdiction of the Kusba Moonsif comprises the peculiar rent suits in the nature of title suits of a special kind, a unique class of suits which distinguish the extensive pergunnah of Nurnuggur, and which are familiar to the Dacca Commissioner as forming the crucial difficulty of the Tipperah Raj. Further north, and within the adjoining Moonsifee of the same Brahmunberiah Sub-division, the country of Sarail has for a long time been the scene of another but quite different ferment of litigation arising from Baboo Annada Prosad Rai's change in zemindari administration; therefore the tasks for the local Moonsifs were exceptionally difficult. The Moonsifs, as it happened, were below rather than above the average. For the Moonsif of Kusba is but a young officer, and the 1st Moonsif of Brahmunberiah town, although an old officer, labours under the disadvantage of not knowing English. I can review their work impartially on this particular subject, for I had nothing to do with the control of the judicial administration at the period under review. Now, I would submit that at this very Brahmunberiah Sub-division (though likely to be the weakest point in the judicial line, and at any rate selected by the Officiating Commissioner of Dacca as a typical instance of the deficiencies attributed to the Courts) the results are anything but discreditable to the judicial administration of rent suits. The figures are as follow. I purposely expand the matter for review so as to show whether the whole current is in the proper direction.

Nevertheless Brahmunberiah rent suits work very creditably to the Civil Courts.

15. The following table will show how heavy the rent suit business has been in the Moonsifees of Brahmunberiah and Kusba:—

Magnitude of the Brahmunberiah rent suit business.

YEAR	Staff.			Rent suits to be decided within the year.			Rent suits decided within the year.	Rent suits pending at the close of the year.

16. The above table suggests on a comparison of column 6 with column 8 that the work was fairly kept in hand. But this deduction is conclusively established by the following table drawn so as to distinguish the work done in the several quarters and the time taken to do that work:—

[* These long-pending cases represent suits not against ryots, but an exceptional class of talook suits against middlemen. They have recently been the subject of special explanations to the High Court.]

17. The first comment which forces itself on one in respect of the above table is that, having regard to the peculiar complexity and difficulty of the cases in Kusba, and the exceptional magnitude of the business in Sarail, there has been not too much, but too little, time taken over these suits. If Mr. Lyall had only an opportunity of inspecting the litigation which has prevailed for some time in the suits about talooks at Kusba, suits ostensibly about rents for three specific years, but in reality for permanent title for all years to come, he would fully endorse the above remark. It is all very well for the agents of the Tipperah Rajah and the zemindar of Cossimbazar to complain to the Officiating Commissioner of Dacca that they cannot get in their rents. The other people who have less easy access to a Commissioner, not of course from any fault of the Commissioner, have a different story to tell. At any rate the Maharajah of Hill Tipperah, a well meaning zemindar doubtless, has himself or his predecessors to blame for the hide-and-seek sort of talooks which they have constituted and for the chronic confusion in the Raj sherista. Mr. Peacock will fully bear out what I say, when I submit that no judicial or quasi-judicial machinery, such as the Government would consent to supply, would get the Raj suits tried in less time than the above discloses. I am told similar remark applies to the Sarail litigation, but the particulars are not fully known to me yet, and I would rather not proceed extra-judicially to enquire and report. All that I know is that Baboo Annoda Persad Roy made an extensive change in his administration, and that one of the immediate results of the change was a series of demands for rents at amounts which the tenants declined to acknowledge. The great subject of dispute has been not whether a given ryot owes this or that year's annual amount as stated at a, but whether he shall for that and all coming years pay at $a + b$ (or more) per annum. Other incidents of title are also involved. When similar outbursts of litigation had to be dealt with by Deputy Collectors, the above tables would have been held to indicate a very uniform and creditable display of energy. I have no doubt that the Commissioner and the Officiating Commissioner, if they had the above table before them, would make the same remark on the Moonsifs.

Unreasonableness of the zemindars' complaints as to Brahmunberiah rent suits, considering the responsibility for the Tipperah Raj and the Sarail cases.

The Buldakhal rent suit litigation.

18. Be it noted that in all these tables I confine myself to only the Brahmunberiah and the Kusba Moonsifees. But the Brahmunberiah Sub-division, whose results as to rent suits are under review, comprises another tract of territory which presents peculiar difficulties. I refer, horresco referens, to pergunnah Buldakhal, whose rents suits have over and over again been before probably every appellate bench in the High Court. One of these rent suits went to the Privy Council. The conflict still goes on. It is unfortunate that the statistics for Gouripura thana, as the High Court are aware, cannot be disentangled from those for the rest of the Muradnuggur Moonsifship. If it were possible to include the figures for thana Gouripura so as to complete those for the Moonsifees composing the Brahmunberiah Sub-division, the observations which I have just made as to the exceptional severity of the test would have to be repeated with additional emphasis.

Complaints to Commissioners about rent suits necessarily apt to be one-sided.

19. I doubt not that the President of the new Association of Landholders in Eastern Bengal would support his brethren, the Rajah of Agartola and the zemindar of Cossimbazar, in seeking at Buldakhal as at Nurnuggur and Sarail more drastic measures for securing what these three honestly believe to be their rights. All three are worthy men. They are conspicuous, and by their public-spirited liberality they have deservedly gained ready access to the Executive authorities, from the Sub-divisional Officer upwards. But it does not at all follow that the authorities should attach great importance to any complaints which they may make as to the Moonsif's administration of rent suits being tardy or ineffective.

Incorrectness of the customary representations to the Executive authorities as to delay over rent suits.

20. Something has been said as to the delay over rent suits, but the Officiating Commissioner rightly absolves the overworked Moonsifs from blame on this score. Some delay perhaps there is. But some part of this delay in North Tipperah must be attributed to rent claimants themselves. There is an absurd idea in parts of this district that a plaintiff ought not to be too forward in getting his witnesses before a Civil Court. It is supposed that evidence becomes more valuable if the giver of it has been coy and needed more than one summons to fetch him to the cutcherry. Under repeated injunctions from the High Court, the Moonsifs are taking to undeceive litigants on this matter by administering fines (under the new Code) for this sort of coyness.

21. And as it is, the delays are far from being so excessive as has been represented to the Officiating Commissioner (I might stop to ask why any such complaints, if well founded, were not addressed to the District Judge). The following table, showing the average duration of rent suits, is extracted from the return compiled under the High Court's order No. 6 of the 9th March 1870, at a time when the Moonsifs could not have foreseen what was to turn of these figures:—

Ramkaigram (one Moonsif)	1	26	1	3	1	5

Alleged failure or unfairness on the part of Moonsifs over enhancement suits.

22. Last of all we come to the outturn of work in respect of enhancement suits. The following table exhibits the results for the Brahmunberiah and Kusba Moonsifships :—

Year.	Total number of suits disposed of.	Decided favourably to enhancement.						Decided without determination of the Plaintiff's claim.	Dismissed.
		Ex-parte.	On admission.	Upon contest.		Upon compromise.	Total	Cases withdrawn.	Upon contest.	Ex-parte or for want of evidence.	On default.	Total.
				Partially decreed.	Wholly decreed.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13
1876	183	5	6	36	24	72	143	4	30	2	4	36
1877	213	6	8	10	10	27	61	18	127	2	5	134
1878, 3 quarters only ...	49	3	2	8	7	4	24	5	17	.....	3	20
Grand Total ...	445	14	16	54	41	103	228	27	174	4	12	190

23. Some of these figures for the table in paragraph 22 are slightly in variance with those before the Officiating Commissioner in respect of the year 1877-78. It has been found necessary to correct certain inaccuracies in the statements by the Moonsifs that happened to be communicated in vernacular to the Sub-Divisional Officer at a time when the Moonsifs were much pressed with work, and had little time to scrutinize extra tabular statements. The inaccuracies, however, are unimportant in themselves. The corrected statistics are to much the same effect as those commented on by the Officiating Commissioner.

Comments by the Officiating Commissioner of Dacca.

24. Mr. Lyall's comment is as follows—"Landlords complain chiefly regarding enhancement suits, and resort to every possible means of making their ryots pay increased rent before going to Court * * * Moonsifs are apt to make it too difficult for a landlord to get a decree. The Sub-Divisional Officer of Brahmunberiah gives figures in support of this. Out of 90 enhanced rent cases brought in the two Moonsifees of his sub-division 52 were dismissed, and this in spite of the fact noted above, that a zemindar only sues for enhancement as a last resource.

Practical comments by the responsible officers, the former District Judges of Tipperah.

25. Before offering any comments of my own, I will refer to the deliberate opinion recorded in the appellate review of the responsible tribunal presided over not by myself, but, with one solitary case excepted, by my predecessors. In enhancement cases there are very few appeals in proportion to the original suits. The fact is the zemindars seeking enhancement get the best of it either by open decree, favourable compromise, or other settlement agreeable to the zemindar. The ryots cannot afford to carry on appeals. The zemindar can and does. It is therefore chiefly appeals from the zemindars which find their way before the District Judge. I have been able to trace only 25 appeals chiefly from decisions in 1876 and 1877. Of these 25, 5 are still pending. In the 20 decided, 18 decisions were upheld, and the remaining 2 were remanded. It is clear that if the Moonifs were in error, as being unduly unfavourable to the zemindars, then the District Judges were much more so.

Some further observations by the present District Judge of Tipperah.

26. Were the former District Judges wrong? For my own part I have no hesitation in following up my predecessor's actions and pointing out that on the very statistics criticised by Mr. Lyall the Moonsifs have awarded enhancement not too seldom, but too often. What Mr. Lyall says about the zemindars here resorting to every device before undertaking an enhancement suit applies very remarkably to the Tipperah district Here the customary method of dealing with ryots even on the zemindaris of really worthy gentlemen like those of the Sobha Bazar family is by a system of periodical, usually triennial, ijara auctions. Zemindars sell out by auction the right of determining, of collecting, and above all of screwing up the rents. When the disagreeable task has been effected, the zemindar re-enters on the estate and claims to work on the enhanced rent-roll, for the ijaradar's rent collection papers are always carefully stipulated for beforehand. When a substantial but refractory ryot has managed to hold his own against a series of successive ijaradars, then the zemindar or the later ijaradar selects him for the ultima ratio of an enhancement suit. As Mr. Lyall truly observes, it is only as a last resource that a Tipperah zemindar betakes himself to anything so decorous as a suit at law in order to obtain an enhancement.

Statistical fallacies as to enhancement suits.

27. Here it is necessary to point out a further consideration. The total number of suits brought avowedly as enhancement suits, and as such decided during the years 1876, 1877, and three quarters of 1878, is returned at 445. But the number of ostensible enhancement suits is by no means a measure of the actual number of real enhancement suits. The great bulk of the rent litigation within Brahmunberiah and Kusba Moonsifees during that period represents suits which were virtually prospective enhancement suits, but which were brought ostensibly in the form of retrospective suits for arrears. It is all very well for the like of Baboo Annada Prosad Roy to complain to the Commissioners of delay in getting decisions about undisputed rents. By undisputed rents in such cases is meant what the zemindar chooses to describe to the Executive authorities as undisputed rents. The two things are very different matters, as the overworked Moonsifs know to their cost. The 445 enhancement suits measure the extent of the crucial cases reserved for the most intractable ryots. If by most intractable ryots is to be interpreted those most deserving to have enhancement decrees against them, I would submit that this is begging the question.

Fallacious use of the term "undisputed rents."

28. To return now to the tabular statement. That the Tipperah zemindars should, with the exceptional residuum of such few ryots as do stand out, have succeeded so often as the above figures show is proof demonstrative that the zemindar's resource of a repeated series of passing suits for enhancement needs to be curbed. In that view, it is matter for satisfaction that the substantive law as to enhancement is to be recast.

Brahmunberiah zemindars not too little, but too largely, successful with enhancement suits.

29. As a rule, enhancement suits are almost avowedly mere engines for harassing by expensive processes. I have in a long experience of rent suits met few instances of a zemindar or ijaradar following out any one ground of enhancement in anything like a consistent, rational manner. The usual device is to allege all the possible grounds, increase in area, increase in fertility, increase in crop value, increase in rates payable by neighbour ryots of the same class, to hop from the one ground to the other, to fence over all of them and to prove none. The zemindars complain to the Executive authorities that the standard of rate payable by neighbours is nugatory. So it often is. As a rule, rent rates even in this fertile district have already been screwed up too high, thanks to the high-handed practices which prevail among ijaradars. The consequence is that any attempt to assimilate the ratios between existing and claimed rates on the one hand, and between old competition rates and new competition rates on the other, necessarily breaks down in numerous cases when the subject is brought at last to an arithmetical test on the principles prescribed by law.

Actual processes in, or the actual course of, the ordinary enhancement suit.

30. That already rents are generally too high is demonstrated by the zemindars themselves when they condescend to comply with the law as to the reckoning of enhancement. Their great difficulty in facing the natural and primary test, that as to increase in values, is how to reconcile the claim in whole or in part for enhancement with any plausible estimate which they can render of the ryot's profit and loss account. The law has prescribed that in any account of gross and nett receipts and disbursements there is to be an allowance for wages to the ryot for his labour, and a further allowance for the wear and tear of the ryot's stock. The law says that any increase to the zemindar is to come out of the surplus which remains after labour and stock have been allowed for; in other words, that the zemindar's rent is not to be taken out of the ryot's wage earnings or out of the ryot's working capital. As things are, there is a good deal of difficulty experienced in reconciling these requirements of law with any sort of plausible estimate of gross produce and value thereof per beegah and per holding. True, on a comparison of periods, values are found to have increased in respect of the receipts side of the account. But unfortunately for the zemindar, the law has been reasonable enough to insist that the other or disbursement side shall also be looked to. There also the values are found to have increased considerably. (By the way, such calculations are said to be difficult. All the more reason then for continuing to entrust them to well-trained officers.)

Explanation why claims to enhancements on rents must be expected to be difficult of proof.

31. The difficulty as to the arithmetical test as to increase in values explains much of the irritation which has obtained in Eastern Bengal. Zemindars, and ijaradar substitutes for zemindars, on finding themselves checkmated by the prescribed test of law as to increase in values, have resorted largely to the other test—that of the increase in rent rates paid by similar ryots for similar lands. Then in too many cases the result was intriguing and manœuvring. The standard device was to bribe this or that member of the ryot class to tell a lie that he was paying at such and such rate, when in reality by a secret treaty he was to pay only at such or such a rate much lower. It was this extremely reprehensible intriguing which called forth combinations to withhold all rents as the only means available to resist improper enhancement of rents. There never yet was any sustained combination to withhold rents, which was not a perfectly legitimate reply to a challenge thrown down by the rent claimant himself. No pressure less than an extreme sense of this external danger would suffice to repress the internal tendency to village wrangling, the proverbial doladoli. It is to be hoped that the Executive authorities instead of criticising the Civil Courts will allow things to take their natural course. A few dozen good, sound, healthy sales for arrears of Government revenue would do more than reams of reports and sheafs of bills to ensure the much needed agrarian reforms. It is not necessary, and it would not be desirable here to enter into any discussion as to whether either side, and if so which, is the more responsible of the two in respect of agrarian outrages. All that has to be noticed Combination to withhold all rents a legitimate sequel to the customary measures for enforcing enhanced rents.

Agrarian outrage or refusal a later and quite separate development here is that agrarian outrage or reprisal is the sequel, not the antecedent, to the process which has just been described. That process first of all begins* in demands for enhancement, and not till thereafter is followed up by combinations among the ryots for the withholding of rents. Unfortunately there has been a tendency, a mistaken one I submit, on the part of Executive authorities to deal with these difficulties by resort to the quartering of punitive police, instead of allowing things to take their natural course of the quarter-day sales for default. It seems easier to cure symptoms than to cure disease. In making these remarks, I do not mean to blame the Collector-Magistrates. They are naturally impressed by the complaints which they hear from their zemindars. When they come to criticise the Civil Courts they naturally expect to hear what the other department thinks it has to say.

32. There is of course no intrinsic objection in principle to the enhancement suits being entrusted to special Executive officers upon the condition indicated (I cannot say accepted) by a leading member of the British Indian Association in his recent Bill. If the zemindars will undertake to repay Government all costs of the necessary executive proceeding, that is to say, of field measurement, of enquiry, of adjudication, and of supervision, by all means let them have the special tribunals as they are dissatisfied with the ordinary ones. Let them even escape the contribution to Imperial revenue in the shape of court-fees. But the other costs just adverted to would have to bear interest, and be a first charge upon the zemindari rents, whether enhanced or not enhanced, a charge ranking second after the Government land tax. A moment's consideration will show that this means the extinction of the permanent settlement for that zemindari, and the holding of it khas indefinitely and with no malikana. Here is a reductio ad absurdum.

Settlement enquiries otherwise than through the Civil Courts, if to be paid for from the zemindars' rents, would mean khas management.

33. Evidently the influential zemindars about Dacca do not recognize this. They think that reverting to the Executive Courts would strengthen their hands; it would be a new chance. They cannot lose, and they may gain by the change, especially if they are to have the choice, whether in any given instance they may resort to the Executive procedure in an overt enhancement suit, or to the Judicial procedure in a covert one.

Summary of reasons for not withdrawing enhancement suits from the Civil Courts.

34. There are many reasons why the change should not be granted to the zemindars.

(a) In the first place, on the whole, the Moonsifs are doing the work very well. As specially trained Judicial officers they command the confidence of the population more than quasi-judicial Deputy Collectors would do.

(b) The proposed principle of dealing with ryots in the mass, instead of individually, seems at first sight to have considerable attractions for the good of all parties. But there are difficulties about introducing or rather re-introducing it. For example, there is the obvious difficulty of its leaving the zemindar too little scope for contract relations with the ryots. The fact that the current of legislation and administration has so long set in the other direction suggests, though of course it does not demonstrate, that the method of dealing with the ryots en masse does not succeed. However, the subject is too large to be discussed here. Anyhow, if the principle is to be adopted, it can be worked just as well by Moonsifs as by Deputy Collectors.

(c) In practice it will ever be found impracticable to separate properly the overt suits for enhancement from the covert ones.

(d) The assumption on which the claim as to more drastic measures for enhancement ultimately rests is some vague idea or other about an "unearned increment." I should like to see that theory about unearned increment in Bengal explained in intelligible language. Is the profit by the substitution of valuable jute for coarse rice to be treated as unearned? Is the bulk or even a large share of the profit of that change to pass necessarily into the pockets of the zemindar? Is the individual ryot to yield every portion of the increased profit which he individually cannot prove that he personally has earned? If that is to be so, the ryots will be unwise if they go on introducing new and valuable staples to replace the old ones, that is to say, go on furnishing the means for raising rents on themselves or their neighbours.

* This account of the genesis of agrarian outrage in Eastern Bengal corresponds accurately with one evidently by Mr. Peacock, which appropriately enough was set as a translation paper at the last half-yearly examination of Assistant Magistrates and Deputy Collectors.

HIGHER STANDARD.

DICTATION.

November 20, 1878.

The quarrels between ryots and zemindars are gradually attracting attention in several places from the frequency of breaches of the peace. Last year there was a difficulty at Tooshkhally, which had commenced the previous year. Then there have been disputes on the Megna, in Dacca, lately Mr. Wise's property, and now I hear of an increased number of suits in the Civil Court. Suits in Court of course we seek not to prevent, but fights between parties of ryots and their landlords, "lattials," and the fire raisings by which the discontented ryots seek to hinder any from taking the landlord's part, are becoming serious matters. The plan of action is simple. When a village has gone on strike, the landlord singles out a few of the leading men and bribes them to his side with a false measurement, or he throws in a few beegahs of land into their pottahs under the denomination of "kyfeut," or "hajur," or "oosoree," or some other fancy name. These men then go to Court ready to swear anything against the men on strike, and in a day or two some of them find their houses burnt down about their ears.

(e) In all the proposals which I have ever seen for investing the Executive authorities with jurisdictions over enhancement suits, I have never observed any formula for ascertaining this so-called unearned increment by a process which shall be more available to Deputy Collectors than to Moonsifs. No new principles are furnished for the guidance of the Deputy Collectors in lieu of the existing principles which are alleged to fail in the hands of the Moonsifs.

Insufficiency of argument based on fiscal policy attributed to Government.

35. Another ground has been alleged that the zemindars are entitled to some greater latitude than heretofore, because of the assistance which they render in realising new taxes, road cesses, Public Works cesses, &c., for the Government. That consideration seems to me to lead in quite the contrary direction. If the Government has to impose new land cesses, that is all the more reason why they should continue as before to refer questions as between zemindars and ryots to the Civil Courts. Happily the Government of Bengal is not likely to accept this particular argument for the transfer. Sir Ashley Eden satisfied the Government of India that the Moonsifs deserved to be entrusted with the trial of cases to which Government is a party. It will need more cogent arguments than any which have been adduced yet to demonstrate that the zemindars of Bengal ought to have exceptional tribunals when these have been refused to the Government of India itself.

Conclusion that enhancement suits should be left with the Civil Courts.

36. I submit therefore that, however the existing law as to enhancement suits ought to be amended, it would be well to leave the administration of rent suits, including enhancement cases, to the Civil Courts. It is for those who say otherwise to prove that the Moonsifs, the District Judges, and the High Court have failed. Be it remembered that so long ago as 1859, at the very time when Act X was framed, Sir Barnes Peacock strongly disapproved of that portion of the then Bill which devolved on Deputy Collectors, instead of Moonsifs, the office of trying rent suits, including therein enhancement cases. A decade of experience, 1859-1869, demonstrated the wisdom of this view, and the Bengal Government deliberately adopted this principle by Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869. The experience of the subsequent decade, 1869-1879, continues to bear out this same view. But I would respectfully submit that, as exponents to Government of the experience of that decade, the High Court and the District Judges have necessarily greater advantages than the Divisional Commissioners enjoy. At any rate, in respect of this district, I would observe that the returns for the Moonsifships of the exceptionally circumstanced sub-division of Brahmunberiah not only do not demonstrate failure on the part of the Moonsifs, or undue bias against the zemindars, but if anything rather the reverse.

Commendable tone of the Moonsifs' explanations.

37. In conclusion, it occurs to me that, instead of my showing further cause for the Moonsifs, it will perhaps be more satisfactory if they be heard themselves. I submit their reports. On the face of them these documents, by their temperate judicial tone of mind, show how wasteful it would be to go to the trouble and expense of constituting, training, and supervising, a special class of tribunals when there is already an excellent staff available.

EXPLANATIONS FROM THE BRAHMUNBERIAH MOONSIFS.

No. 13, dated Brahmunberiah, the 25th December 1878.

From—The Moonsifs of Brahmunberiah,
To—The District Judge of Tipperah.

WITH reference to your letter No. 1526, dated the 16th November 1878, we have the honor to submit the following report, with our opinion, upon the results of our experience in this chowkee with regard to the trial of suits for enhancement of rents.

From a reference to the records and register of this Court, we have found that 98 enhancement suits were instituted during the year ending with the 31st of March 1878, which exceeds by 8 the total number contained in the Administration Report of the Sub-Divisional Officer of Brahmunberiah. Of these 98 cases, 43 were decreed, with which we have at present nothing to do in furnishing this report; 55 suits were dismissed, which also exceed by 3 the number headed "Dismissed" in the said Administration Report. Amongst the number 55 dismissed, we find 3 have been compromised. Excluding these 3, we find that 52 were dismissed, which correspond with the number headed "Dismissed" in the said Administration Report of the Sub-Divisional Officer. We have especially enquired into the records of these 55 cases, and subjoin our report upon the state of the records of these cases as they stand.

For the sake of convenience in submitting this report, we divide the number 55 dismissed as follows:—

(a) 17 cases were dismissed by trial upon their merits.
(b) 8 cases were dismissed upon preliminary points.
(c) 16 cases were dismissed for the plaintiffs not adducing any evidence at all.
(d) 4 cases were dismissed for want of prosecution by the plaintiff.

(e) 1 case was dismissed for the plaintiff not adducing any evidence to prove the service of summons upon defendant.
(f) 6 cases were dismissed for default by the plaintiffs.
(g) 3 cases were compromised.

These classes complete the number 55 enhancement suits which were dismissed upon the several grounds. Of the number of cases comprehended in the classes from (c) to (g), we are prepared to say that in them no Court could have passed a decree in favour of the landlord-plaintiff, and we leave them aside without making any observation upon them.

With regard to 17 cases contained in clause (a), we may observe that in 15 such cases appeals have been preferred against the decree of the Lower Court, and in the remaining 2 cases there have been preferred no appeals against the judgment of the Court below.

In 15 cases, wherein appeals have been preferred, we find that in 10 of such 15 cases the judgments of the Lower Courts have been upheld by the Appellate Court, and 5 of them are pending in appeal.

With regard to 8 cases contained in clause (b), which were dismissed on preliminary points, in 6 of these cases we may observe appeals have been preferred against the decree of the Court below, and in 2 of them no appeals have been preferred. Of the 6 cases in which appeals have been preferred, we find in 4 of them the decree of the Lower Court has been confirmed by the Appellate Court, and 2 of them have been remanded. Upon such state of the facts, we are quite prepared to say that the results of the trial of the enhancement suits by Civil Courts is satisfactory, and that the landholders have no reasonable causes of complaint.

From the observations we have made above, it will appear that many such suits are simply harassing, and appear to be brought simply for the purpose of threatening the poor ryots to pay enhanced rent.

In some cases we have found that the landholder, who is debarred by law from getting any increased rents from ryots who are protected by law from enhancement, brings an enhancement suit, but ultimately fails to substantiate his case. We have found that in all just cases decrees have been invariably passed in favour of the landlord.

From what has been said above, we may safely observe that the result of suits for enhancement of rent could not possibly have been any way more favourable to the plaintiff in Revenue Courts. The law and rulings regarding the enhancement suits are very strict, and every Court of justice will be guided by them. The general experience of a Revenue officer will be of no avail in the trial of suits for enhancement of rent in which the evidence on record may be found defective.

We are of opinion that enhancement suits had better be tried by Civil Courts. These suits are more akin to the suits of civil nature wherein frequently questions of right and title arise, and they are fairly adjudicated by Civil Courts, which are the Courts of competent jurisdiction with regard to such questions, and the Courts of Revenue officers, being Courts of summary procedure, will not take into their cognizance such questions, and will refrain themselves from adjudicating upon these questions of title which necessarily involve in enhancement suits.

We beg to submit a table, the statistics of our Courts, showing the results of enhancement suits for the year 1876-77, and the three quarters of 1878. From that table it will appear that a very large number of enhancement suits for the year 1877 have been dismissed. Those of them that have been included in the report of the Sub-Divisional Officer of Brahmunberiah have been already commented upon by us. With regard to the others, the records not being before us, we are not in a position to give our reasons for their dismissal. From what we saw in the records of the cases commented upon by us, we are led to infer that most of those cases also might have been dismissed for reasons stated in our comments on the records examined by us, headed c, d, e, f, and g. Such cases, we may safely say, would have met with the same result in any Court.

With regard to the delay said to occur in the disposal of rent suits in the Civil Courts, we beg leave to submit that at the period to which the report of the Sub-Divisional Officer had reference comparative delay was unavoidable. In this chowkee there is enough work for three Moonsifs. But two Moonsifs only regularly worked in this chowkee at the time. It was only for about three months before the puja holidays in 1877 that Baboo Jadu Pati Banerjea was deputed to work in this chowkee. The progress statement of rent suits for the years 1876-77, and the three quarters of 1878, submitted with this report agreeably to your directions, will show that, notwithstanding the heaviness of the files with which the Moonsifs of this chowkee had to work, by far the largest number of rent suits have been disposed of within the quarter in which they have been instituted. A small number of suits only appear to have been left pending at the end of each quarter. That statement will, however, show that a comparatively larger number of suits have been pending for disposal at the end of the second quarter of every year. The reason of this is that, about the middle of the month of April, corresponding to the end of the month of Choytro of the Bengali years, about twelve or thirteen hundred suits are every year instituted. The first hearing of many of those suits have therefore to be fixed almost beyond the quarter.

From all these circumstances, we may observe that no unreasonable delay occurred in the disposal of rent suits of this chowkee

Annexure to Tipperah District Judge's No. 70 of 16th January 1879.

EXPLANATION FROM THE KUSBA MOONSIF.

Report of the Moonsif of Kusba with reference to the District Court's letter No 1527, dated 16th November 1878.

IT will be seen from the accompanying statements in English that, out of 94 enhancement suits decided in this Court in the years 1876, 1877, and in the first three quarters of 1878, real trial took place in only 20 suits, and the remainder was disposed of according to compromise made by the parties, i.e. real trial took place in about one-fifth of the cases, and the remaining four-fifths were decided according to compromise. Of these 20 suits, 15 were decreed, and 5 only were dismissed, or one-fourth of the suits decided on trial were dismissed and three-fourths were decreed.

In the year 1876, 63 enhancement suits were decided. Out of this number 12 were decided on trial, and the remainder according to compromise. The above-mentioned proportion of decision on trial, and decision according to compromise for the three years, is also observable in this year. Of the 12 cases decided on trial 9 were decreed for the plaintiff and 3 were dismissed. The plaintiffs appealed in these 3 cases; but all the 3 appeals have been dismissed. Thus, the Commissioner's remark, that "Moonsifs are apt to make it too difficult for a landlord to get a decree," does not apply to the decisions of enhancement suits in this Court in the year 1876.

In the year 1877, 19 enhancement suits were decided in this Court. Out of this number only 2 were decided on trial, and the remainder was decided according to compromise of the parties, i.e. one-tenth of the suits in this year were decided on trial, and the remaining nine-tenths according to compromise. Of the 2 suits decided on trial, 1 was decreed and 1 dismissed. The plaintiff did not appeal from the order of dismissal, and was evidently satisfied with that order. The other suit was dismissed as regards enhancement, but decreed according to old rates. His appeal has been decreed with reference to the Privy Council's decision in the case of Soora Sundari Debya vs. Gupal Lal Thakur (XIX W. R., page 142). It will thus be seen that in this year, instead of making "it too difficult for a landlord to get a decree," as is remarked by the Commissioner, a mistake was made in favour of the landlord in the one case, and in the other case the landlord was satisfied with the order of dismissal made against him.

Before I proceed to make any remarks regarding the enhancement suits of the year 1878, I should make some remarks regarding the accompanying Bengali statement. That statement is a copy of the one that was sent at the beginning of this year to the Sub-Divisional Officer of Brahmunberiah in compliance with a request made by him to me. It refers to the suits of the year 1877. It was prepared by my mohurir, and when I sent it I thought, though without referring to my records, that it was correct. But now, on my personally looking to the register of rent suits, the office diary, and other records for the preparation of the accompanying English statement, I have found that there are one or two errors regarding enhancement suits in that statement. The mohurir considered that 23 enhancement suits were decided in 1877. This is not true. 19 enhancement suits only were decided in 1877. The mohurir considered that the rent suits, Nos. 283, 340, 418, and 427 of 1877, decided respectively on the 27th June, 7th August, 13th November, and 3rd September 1877, were enhancement suits. I have found from the register of rent suits, 1877, that these suits are not enhancement suits. They are rent suits of other sorts. With this mistake, the mohurir entered the number 4 in the column of decree of enhancement suits. The entry in that column should have been of the number 2, 1 of the 2 having been decided on trial and 1 ex parte, as will appear from the English statements prepared by myself. Instead of there being 8 dismissals there should have been only 1 dismissal. Of the remaining 7 dismissals, 2 were entered on account of the mistake above-mentioned, and the remaining 5 should have been added to the 11 in the column relating to the decision of suits by compromise. I am very sorry that the statement was sent to the Sub-Divisional Officer with these mistakes in it.

In the first three quarters of the year 1878, 12 enhancement suits were decided. Out of these 6 were decided on trial and the remainder by compromise, &c. Of the 6 decided on trial, only 1 was dismissed and the remaining 5 were partially decreed. As the plaintiff has not appealed against these partial decrees, it seems he is satisfied with them.

From the year 1876 up to date, three Moonsifs have worked in this chowkee. Baboo Krishna Chandra Chatterjea from the beginning of 1876 to 15th May 1877, myself from 11th June 1877 to 31st July 1878, and from 24th September 1878 till to-day, and the Officiating Moonsif, Baboo Govinda Chandra Basakh, from 1st August to 24th September 1878. The above mentioned facts and figures and the accompanying statements conclusively show whether any of us have made any difficulty in the way of the landlord getting a decree in enhancement cases.

2. I think that the Commissioner is perfectly right in saying that we, Moonsifs, are overworked. I may say that we are more than overworked. I for one can say that, though I labour very hard, I can scarcely cope with my cases. But it is not quite correct to say that "speedy justice is impossible" from us, or that "there is any general cry against the delay particularly in rent suits." From the accompanying copy of the Bengali statement mentioned above, it appears that the Commissioner meant the average duration of contested rent suits of this Court when he said that it was four months. It will appear from that statement that 215 contested rent suits were decided in this Court in 1877, and that the actual time taken to decide the 215 contested rent cases was 21,897 days, the average duration of a contested case thus being three months and eleven days. Though the average of three months and eleven days is far from the average of four months made mention of by the Commissioner, and though the Commissioner would have been nearer the truth if he had said that the average was three months and a third, I will for the present take it for granted that the Commissioner was right in saying that the average duration was four months. But the average time of three months and eleven days, or four months (according to the Commissioner), was taken only in the contested cases. The time taken to decide these cases should not, I think, be taken as the basis for forming an opinion as to whether the Moonsif or Revenue officer makes delay to decide rent cases; for when a case (of whatever kind it may be) is contested, the parties themselves bring about great delay by applying for postponement for bringing their witnesses. In this chowkee, unless the witnesses are related to the parties in one way or other, they very seldom, if ever, come to give their evidence on the first final hearing day of a case, or on the mere summons being served upon them. Some of the coercive processes must issue against them before they would come to Court to give their evidence; and I have heard respectable people saying in answer to my questions for their not coming, though served with a summons, that it would be derogatory to their dignity if they come merely on a summons, and that other people would consider that they সাক্ষি* দিয়া বেড়ায়, (generally give evidence). This being the feelings of the people, I cannot blame parties for frequently applying for postponement; and though the law has given me power to punish witnesses for not coming to give evidence, I exercise those powers very cautiously. If cases are not postponed for witnesses, dismissal will follow for want of evidence. This will certainly be a great evil.

* Literally pass their visiting time in giving evidence.

In uncontested cases, the parties bring their relatives and friends to prove their cases, and the Court usually decides them on the first final hearing day. If any delay occurs to decide these, it is generally on account of the Court not having any leisure to try them on the date fixed for hearing. The parties usually come ready with their witnesses in these cases. It will be seen from the Bengali statement mentioned above that 802 uncontested rent cases were decided in this chowkee in the year 1877. The actual duration of these cases was 42,059 days, the average duration per case being one month and twenty-two days; and if the Commissioner had considered the average of contested and uncontested rent suits in 1877, the result would have been two months and two days per case. I do not think this can be considered as much delay in deciding cases; nor do I think that there is "any general cry against any delay" made in this Court, as is noticed by the Commissioner.

In all execution cases there must be some delay by law. There must be some time for the attachment and sale of property in execution. I think that no execution can be completed before two months elapse from the date of filing of the applications. If this is considered as delay, the law is to blame for it. No Judicial officer can help this. He must abide by the law.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

T. H. WICKES,

Offg. Asst. Secy. to the Government of Bengal, P. W. Dept.

Report on the Fluctuations in Traffic on the Northern Bengal State Railway during the month of March 1879.

GENERAL REMARKS.

THE total traffic lifted during the month stands at 2,12,938 maunds, which is 68,874 maunds in excess of the weight carried for the same period last year

It will be noticed that there is a slight falling off under the head of gunny bags, which, as this staple is now being carried at a much more favourable rate for despatchers than was the case during the corresponding month last year, needs explanation.

This is to be found in the fact that the price of the raw material has so far declined as to enable the mills at and around Calcutta to turn out bags at prices which almost defy competition.

It is only when high rates prevail that hand-made bags can hold a place in the market, as machine bags always command a preference when they can be had at a price. Twills—44 × 26½—were selling in March 1878 at Rs. 31 per hundred, whereas the same description of bags are now selling at Rs. 25, and this difference in price in about the same ratio is perceptible throughout all the various products of the jute mills.

Increases.

Ale ... ... Mds. 485

This represents the whole of the weight carried under this head during the month, and the increase is accounted for by the fact that all the Commissariat beer was at this time last year being despatched viâ Caragola the line not being open beyond Julpaiguri.

Food-grain ... ... Mds. 16,942

This is a large increase over last year's traffic in this staple; and when it is remembered that the prices ruling the Calcutta market have during the month been as unfavourable as they well could be for despatchers short of actual loss, the result may be considered satisfactory. A special rate of quarter of a pie per maund per mile came into force for rice and paddy on the 25th of month, but this was too late to affect the despatches for the period under review. A considerable increase may, however, be this anticipated next month from this cause.

Jute ... ... Mds. 8,608

Although the weight carried during the month compares favourably with the same period last year, there has actually been a serious falling off in this traffic since December last, in which month we carried 40,112 maunds; in January this fell to 28,038 maunds, in February to 18,228 maunds, and in the current month to 10,413 maunds. There are two causes for this decrease, one is that we are nearing the end of the jute season, although from enquiries made there appears to be about one-fifth of the whole crop still to be despatched, and the other the unfavourable prices prevailing in the Calcutta market.

Even the further reduced rate, which was introduced on 20th March, does not as yet appear to have had the effect of inducing holders to send the stuff forward in anything like large quantities.

Piece-goods ... ... Mds. 3,675

The causes given in my last report continue to exercise an influence on this traffic.

Railway material ... ... Mds. 3,037

Permanent-way material for the tramway still continues to go forward in considerable quantities, and large despatches of bridge and other material have been made during the month for the extension from Rungpore to Kawnea.

Salt ... ... Mds. 3,286

During March 1878 we carried nothing to speak of under this head (24 maunds only), and the satisfactory increase shewn may be set down to the favourable effect of the present reduced rate for this staple.

Sugar ... ... Mds. 2,118

The movement in this staple has been almost entirely local. The increase, however, over the weight carried in March 1878 tends to shew that the facilities afforded by the line for enabling producers to place their goods where there is a demand for them, and where they can consequently ensure the best price, is being appreciated and availed of.

Tobacco ... ... Mds. 1,403

The new crop is now being cut, and parcels are finding their way to the Calcutta market.

Very little business is however being done and prices are low, but the reduced rate of half a pie per maund per mile, which came into force on and from the 15th of the current month, has induced despatchers to send a considerable quantity forward.

All other goods ... ... Mds. 30,228

The reason given in my last report, together with the natural expansion of traffic brought about by the low rate at which goods of all descriptions can now be obtained from Calcutta as compared with the old Caragola route, accounts for this increase.

Decreases.

Ginger ... ... Mds. 387

There is still a large quantity of this article held in the district, but there is literally nothing doing, and sales are difficult even at prices which do not pay.

Gunny-bags ... ... Mds. 492

The causes which have operated against the despatch of jute have had the same effect on this staple. The present low price of mill-made bags will, no doubt, to a great extent drive hand-made bags out of the market.

Tea ... ... Mds. 29

This decrease is accounted for by the fact that the expeditious despatch afforded this staple during the season has actually left little or nothing to be sent forward.

TRAFFIC SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, SAIDPUR, the 14th April 1879. G. M. DRURY, Traffic Superintendent.

INCREASES.

Coal ... ... Mds. 1,630

The import of coal into the district continues, and is for the most part for burning bricks.

Food-grains ... ... ,, 7,769

The business done in this staple, though satisfactory, is not high as I had anticipated.

Hides and horns ... ... ,, 2,647

The increase in this staple of traffic is satisfactory for the time of year, and merchants continue to appreciate the free passes granted to churundars accompanying consignments.

Piece-goods ... ... Mds. 10,985

This is the most favorable feature in the import traffic, and represents an increase of 10,985 maunds as compared with March 1878, and of maunds 6,283 as compared with February 1879

Railway materials ... ... Mds. 1,137

Dependant on railway works under construction.

Seeds, indigo ... ... ,, 4,740

This is very satisfactory, and I have no doubt that a portion of this traffic has been diverted from the Hazeepore route.

Salt ... ... Mds. 1,802

Although an increase over the previous month's transactions, the traffic in salt is not as great as anticipated.

Saltpetre ... ... Mds. 7,090

The increase in this staple is satisfactory, and is due to the present demand.

Tobacco ... ... ,, 104

The season is just commencing.

Miscellaneous goods ... ... ,, 14,433

The increase under the heading Miscellaneous goods continues, and represents the import traffic.

DECREASES.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE, AGRICULTURE, AND COMMERCE.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

(No. 20.)

Africa—South Coast.

(1) SHOAL GROUND WESTWARD OF DURNFORD POINT.

The Hydrographic Department of the British Admiralty notifies that the following information has been received from Commodore F. W. Sullivan, C.B., C.M.G., Senior Officer, Cape of Good Hope, relative to the existence of dangerous shoal ground, the south-western extreme of which lies W. ¾ S., distant 6¼ miles from Durnford point:—

This danger (Tenedos shoal), composed of uneven coralline rock, extends apparently about 3 miles from the shore, and is steep-to on its south-western edge, where the least water obtained was 12 feet.

Position approximate, latitude 28° 59′ S., longitude 31° 54′ E.

NOTE.—As there are no marks on the adjacent shore by which the position may be determined, and as the sea only breaks on the shoal in heavy weather, vessels should not approach this part of the coast nearer than 4 miles, nor bring Durnford point to bear eastward of E. N. E., and also keeping without the depth of 10 fathoms.

An easterly current is occasionally experienced at the distance of 3 to 4 miles from this coast.

(2) TUGELA RIVER.

The mouth of Tugela river may be easily recognized by the southern entrance point being thickly wooded and dark, and by a conical hill, also thickly wooded, situated about 7 miles north-eastward of the entrance.

NOTIFICATION.

The 9th April 1879.—It is hereby notified for general information that, under the provisions of section 269 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act X of 1877), the Lieutenant-Governor has passed the following rules for the maintenance and custody, while under attachment, of live-stock and other moveable property above the value of 20 rupees:—

I. The attaching officer shall give the debtor, or, in his absence, any present adult member of his family, the option of having the attached property kept on his premises or in some other place in the village, on condition that a suitable place for its safe custody be provided by him.

II. If no such suitable place be provided, the officer shall remove the property to the Court at the decree-holder's expense. In the event of the decree-holder failing to provide the necessary funds, the attachment shall be withdrawn.

III. Whenever attached property is kept at the place where it is attached, the officer shall forthwith report the fact to the Court, and shall, with his report, forward an accurate list of the property seized, such that the Court may thereon at once issue the proclamation of sale prescribed by section 287.

IV. If the debtor shall give his consent in writing to the sale of the property without awaiting the expiry of the term prescribed in section 290, the officer shall receive the same and forward it without delay to the Court for its orders.

V. When property is removed to the Court, it shall be kept by the Nazir on his own sole responsibility in such place as may be approved by the Court. If the property cannot, from its nature or bulk, be conveniently kept in the Court premises, or in the personal custody of the Nazir, he may, subject to approval by the Court, make such arrangements for its safe custody under his own supervision as may be most convenient and economical, and the Court may fix the remuneration to be allowed to the persons, not being officers of the Court, in whose custody the property is kept.

VI. When property remains at the place where it is attached in the custody of the attaching officer, and any person other than the judgment-debtor shall claim the same or any part of it, the officer shall nevertheless, unless the decree-holder desires to withdraw the attachment of the property so claimed, remain in possession, and shall direct the claimant to prefer his claim to the Court.

VII. If the decree-holder shall withdraw an attachment, or if it shall be withdrawn under Rule II or Rule IX, the attaching officer shall inform the debtor, or, in his absence, an adult member of his family, that the property is at his disposal.

In the absence of any person to take charge of it, or in case the officer shall have had notice of claim by a person other than the judgment-debtor, the officer shall, if the property has been moved from the premises in which it was seized, replace it where it was found at the time of seizure.

VIII. Whenever live-stock is kept at the place where it has been attached, the judgment-debtor shall be at liberty to undertake the due feeding and tending of it under the supervision of the attaching officer, but the latter shall, if required by the decree-holder, and on his paying for the same at a rate to be fixed by the District Judge, and subject to the orders of the Court under whose orders the attachment is made, engage the services of as many persons as may be necessary for the safe custody of it.

IX. In the event of the judgment-debtor failing to feed attached live-stock, the officer shall call upon the decree-holder either to pay for feeding it on the spot or for the expenses attending its removal to the Court. If the decree-holder shall fail to provide for either, the officer shall report the matter to the Court without delay.

X. When attached live-stock is brought to Court, the Nazir shall be responsible for the safe custody and proper feeding of it, so long as the attachment continues.

XI. If there be a Government pound in or near the place where the Court is held, the Nazir shall be at liberty to place in it such attached live-stock as can be properly there kept, in which case the pound-keeper will be responsible for the property to the Nazir, and shall receive the same rates for accommodation and maintenance thereof as are paid in respect of impounded cattle of the same description.

XII. If there be no pound available, or if, in the opinion of the Court, it be inconvenient to lodge the attached live-stock in the pound, the Nazir may keep it in his own premises, or he may entrust it to any person selected by himself and approved by the Court. The Nazir will in all cases remain responsible for the custody of the property.

XIII. Each Court shall from time to time fix the rates to be allowed for the custody and maintenance of the various descriptions of live-stock with reference to seasons and local circumstances. The District Judge may make any alteration he deems fit in the rates prescribed by Courts subordinate to him. Where there are two or more Courts in the same place, the rates shall be the same for each Court.

XIV. The officer deputed to attach moveable property should be furnished with a certificate stating the period for which the Court fee required under Rule I, Article 4, Parts II, III, IV of the Court Fee Rules has been paid, and he shall give notice thereof to the judgment-debtor or other person at whose instance he remains in possession at the place of attachment, and if such person shall desire that the property shall remain at that place for a longer period, he shall be bound to pay into Court in advance the further fee as required by Rule IV.

GILCHRIST SCHOLARSHIPS.

AMENDED RULES FOR THE SCHOLARSHIPS INSTITUTED BY THE GILCHRIST EDUCATIONAL TRUST.

(These Rules will take effect at and from the Examination to be held in January 1880.)

Two scholarships, each of the value of £100 per annum,* and tenable for four years,† will be annually awarded to candidates born in India, who shall become eligible by competitive examination, under the following conditions :—

1.—Of the parents of each candidate, one at least shall not be of pure European descent.

2.—Every candidate must furnish proof satisfactory to the local authorities that he has completed his sixteenth year, and that his age does not exceed twenty-two years.

3.—Every candidate must furnish proof satisfactory to the local authorities that in regard to personal character and social position he is qualified to be admitted to competition for a scholarship.

4.—The subjects of examination are identical with those prescribed for the Matriculation Examination of the London University, and will include (1) Latin; (2) any two of the following languages—Greek, French, German, and either Sanskrit or Arabic; (3) the English language, English History, and Modern Geography; (4) Mathematics; (5) Natural Philosophy; and (6) Chemistry. The examination papers will be those prepared in these subjects respectively for the Matriculation Examination of the University of London; and the number of hours assigned to each of the papers will be the same as those assigned to the same paper by the University of London. These papers will be sent out from England in sealed covers through the India Office, to the charge of Sub-Examiners appointed by Her Majesty's Government

5.—The examination will be held, under the charge of a Government Sub-Examiner, at each of the Presidential Capitals simultaneously, and shall commence on the third Monday of January in each year. The place and hours of examination will be appointed by the local authorities.

6.—The Sub-Examiner will open the sealed covers containing the examination papers in the place of examination, at the hour prescribed for the candidates to assemble. He will be present throughout the whole of each examination, and will at the end of each collect the answers written by every candidate during the time allowed. He will transmit these answers in sealed covers, through the India Office, to the Secretary of the Gilchrist Trust, who will cause them to be carefully considered and compared by Examiners of established reputation named by the Trustees in each of the respective subjects. The Trustees will name, whenever practicable, the Examiners or Sub-Examiners acting in those subjects respectively for the University of London. The Examiners will consider the papers with as little delay as possible, and will make their award thereupon, assigning to each paper a number of marks suitable to its merits. Such award will be transmitted forthwith by the Secretary, through the India Office, to the local authorities in the Presidential Capitals to be by them announced to the candidates.

7.—The first scholarship will be awarded to the candidate whose aggregate of marks stands highest: provided that he passes in each of the six subjects above-mentioned, and that his aggregate of marks amounts to not less than one-half of the total. Such candidate will have his choice whether he will pursue his curriculum of study in the University of Edinburgh, or in the University College, London.

8.—The second scholarship will be awarded to the candidate whose aggregate of marks stands second: provided that he passes in each of the six subjects, and that his aggregate of marks amounts to not less than one-half of the total. Such candidate shall pursue his curriculum of study in that one of the two institutions abovenamed, which shall not have been chosen by the other candidate.

9.—If the two highest candidates are equal in aggregate number of marks, the privilege of choosing between these two institutions shall be determined between them by lot.

10.—The successful candidates will be expected to arrive in London, and to present themselves to the Secretary of the Gilchrist Trust, not later than the first week in the October following their appointment.

* The Secretary of State has also sanctioned the grant of the sum of £100 for passage to each of the scholars proceeding to England, and £50 for a return passage to such of them as may forfeit their scholarships. The Trustees will also pay a sum not exceeding £50 for the return passage of each successful scholar, whose passage may not have been otherwise provided for.

† The Trustees will be prepared to give favourable consideration to the case of any Indian scholar who, having taken his Bachelor's degree with honors, is desirous of obtaining an additional year for the purpose of proceeding to the degree of Master or Doctor.

11.—The scholarships will be considered as commencing from the 1st of July following the award of the Examiners; and will be paid, in quarterly instalments, on the first days of October, January, April, and July.

12.—Each scholar shall attend in every Session at least three courses of lectures at the institution in which he studies (unless especially excused by the Trustees from doing so during the first year), and shall transmit to the Secretary to the Gilchrist Trust, at the conclusion of each Session, a certificate from each of the Professors whose lectures he has attended, stating that his diligence and conduct have been satisfactory. Jan. 30th	108	12mo. ...	2nd ...	2,000	Printed	0 3 0	Hridayalál Shíl, Chitpore Road, Calcutta.	This drama describes how the hero of the tale, who was rich, though a fool and an idiot, married Kámini, who pledged	1 her word that she would make her husband do all her behests, even to filling her tobacco bowl. After marriage the hero set out for Cashmere on a trading expedition; but his new and artful wife procured for herself a swifter mode of locomotion and managed to arrive at every stage of the journey before him, disguised herself, induced him to lavish money, and at length lent him large sums and took receipts for them. The drama details the particulars at every stage of the hero's progress, showing how the heroine fulfilled her pledge, and concludes most happily by having all matters mutually and satisfactorily explained on the arrival of the couple at home, which resulted in a subsequent happy life.

Dec. 24th	195	12mo. ...	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	1 0 0	Gangácharan Ghosha, No. 27, Ezra Street, Calcutta.	The principal characters in the play are Devesh Babu, a wealthy person of Calcutta, who marries Kapálini, a daughter	2 of a Bhattáchárya at Bardwán, at the very young age of five, though her father represented her two years older. She seems, however, to have imbibed an aversion for her husband, who eventually brings her down to Calcutta, where he meets a female relation of his, of whom the heroine becomes jealous on account of the attentions paid to her by her husband. This leads to an estrangement of feeling, and the heroine returns to her native country in a temper. The hero thereupon gives up house and home, leaves aside all worldly affairs, and turns an ascetic. Some time after the heroine finds out how unjustly she had treated her husband, and she too becomes a wanderer. After the lapse of some years they accidentally meet at the shrine of Chhinna-mastá (decapitated form of the goddess Durgá) unrecognized by each other, and feel an interest in finding out the history of one another. They accordingly meet at night at a Hindu place of cremation, discover each other, when the heroine stabs herself, and becomes Chhinna-mastá in performance of a vow that if she obtained her husband's pardon she would think all her earthly hopes realized and die happy. Three or four other minor couples are brought in. The author evidently wishes to impress on his readers that sin will always meet with punishment whilst chastity in a wife will prove triumphant.

Feb. 15th	120	8vo. ...	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	1 0 0	.....	Describes how a beautiful princess by name Kánchanmálá, after refusing several offers of marriage, at length married a prince of the house of Delhi; but being childless, and subsequently losing her wealth, betook herself to a solitary life in a forest, where she ended her days.	3
Feb. 1st	128	8vo. ...	1st ...	500	ditto ...	0 12 0	Nripendra Kumár Roy, of Kánchrápárá.	A tale of the time when the Mahrattas strove to gain their independence from the Emperor of Delhi. Ranajaya, the	4 hero of the tale, was in love with Kusumiká, who, in order to be honored as the intending spouse of a brave warrior, urges Ranajaya to go and fight in the Mahratta cause, and gain laurels for himself. He accordingly proceeds to do so and is made a prisoner in battle. Kusumiká disguises herself, seeks out and finds her loved one, whom she manages to release from his captivity, and brings him back to his native country. The first part concludes here.

Feb. 27th	118	Dy. 12 mo.	1st ...	500	ditto ...	0 8 0	Umeshchandra Vishwás, of Bayrá Station, Mánikgunge, district Dacca.	The writer of this tale wishes to show how apt officials placed in authority are to be faithless to their trust and resort to oppression and tyranny over their subordinates to carry out	5 their evil purposes. Kumudakánta was a petty clerk employed under the Qudzi of Abantipore, and had a handsome wife named Kusuma. They were a very loving couple and at the same time poor, so that their dwelling was a kutir, or hovel: hence the title of the work. The Qudzi became enamoured of Kusuma, and contrived to have the hero transferred to Ránághát, at the same time advising his clerk to leave his wife behind. This raised his suspicions and induced him to take her along. The Quazi, not to be baffled in his object, sent another boat with two persons, who contrived to drug husband and wife on the passage with sweetmeats. Kusuma was carried off in a senseless state, and her husband, on coming to his senses next day, retraced his steps; but failed to secure his wife, although he made several unsuccessful appeals to the various courts of justice. Kusuma's chastity was however preserved intact through the machinations of another female, who had suffered at the hands of the Qudzi, and was thirsting for revenge. After many contrivances, in which the plot thickens, she induces the man to come to a place of assignation and meet Kusuma, whom she represents in disguise, stabs the Qudzi, and thereafter drowns herself. The husband is taken up on suspicion, is imprisoned, in which state he is tortured and dies. Kusuma, on hearing of the sad fate of her husband, dies too.

Dec. 11th	169	12mo. ...	1st ...	1,000	Printed	0 12 0	Durgánáráyana Ghosha, No 114, Upper Chitpore Road, Calcutta.	Nareshnáth, son of a wealthy man of Benares, chancing to come into the company of a Hindu ascetic, himself became a Jogi and gave up worldly affairs. Subsequently he sees a beautiful	6 damsel, gives up his vows of asceticism and marries her in poverty. He hears of his father's death and returns to Benares, leaving his wife behind, in order that he may go and claim his portion, of which, however, his elder brother had in the meantime, in connivance with the doctor, managed to defraud him, by getting the doctor to certify that he was insane. In the end, however, his brother is seized with a mortal disorder, and embraces the opportunity of asking his younger brother's pardon and making full restitution. Nareshnáth becomes the owner of all the immense property. Saileshnáth, a son, was born to him in the meanwhile, and the mother and child have failed to get any traces of their guardian, owing to his temporary confinement in the lunatic asylum. The mother dies, and Saileshnáth is brought up by a maid servant, who removes him to another place. After various incidents, Nareshnáth, who had gone in quest of his wife and child, after inheriting his property, recovers the latter, whom he marries to the daughter of the zamindar, who had been all the while looking after his son.
Nov. 11th	120	Dy. 8vo	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	0 8 0	Bhuvanachandra Mukerjí, Táligánj, 24-Pergunnahs.	A tale of the Sikh war depicting the fierce and lawless character of the Sikh chiefs. The story embraces the exile of two brothers, who came to Bard-	7 wán, where they met Sudirá, who is destined to play an eventful part in the present second number. A mutual love sprang up between the younger brother and Sudirá, when the latter was imprisoned through jealousy of another. She is released by the sudden violent death of her jailor, by whose head officer she is taken out of prison to Lahore, and left there with an intimate companion of her own, to whom she gives an account of her love with the younger brother Viréndra, with which the second part concludes.

Feb. 10th	40	8vo. ...	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	0 4 0	Rajanikánta Gupta, No. 288, Bow Bazár Street.	The writer, after quoting largely from the Oudh Blue-book, Sleeman, Lowe, Merivale's Life of Sir Henry Lawrence, and Ludlow's Thoughts, &c., tries to	8 show that the administration of Oudh was as good as could be expected, and needed no supervision or improvement thereof by Lord Dalhousie. Discontent was also engendered by the Land Sale Law, which beggared many high talukdars, whilst the Rájá of Mynpoorie lost three-fourths of his property. In fact the whole land and revenue settlement of the North-Western Provinces was in a deplorable condition. The first two parts of this book appeared last year.

Dec. 25th	114	8vo. ...	3rd ...	1,000	ditto ...	0 4 0	Ishwarchandra Vidyáságara, Sukea's Street, Calcutta.	The writer of this able work is so well known in Bengal for his learning, benevolence, charitable acts and zeal for pushing on the educations of the Bengalis, as is evidenced in the progress of the Metropolitan College established by him, that it would be superfluous to say more of his endeavours to stifle polygamy than that in this work, which is one of the means he has adopted thereto, he has collected various proofs from the Hindu religious works deprecating the practice of polygamy amongst the Kulín Bráhmins, who are allowed to marry any number of wives they choose. The learned writer also tries to show the great misery which has arisen and must ever arise from the practice of this pernicious vice of polygamy.	21
Dec. 23rd	32	8vo. ...	1st ...	1,000	Printed	0 3 0	Navakrishna Banerji, No. 6, Chásha Dhovápárá Street.	In the present number, which is the second instalment of the work (see page 13, No. 2320, of the preceding quarter's catalogue) entitled Satya Chandrodaya, the author continues his description of the manner in which the virtues and vices, the voice of conscience, and the temptations of the world contend for supremacy in the heart of the doubtful. The virtues are described as gaining the victory, but the enemy is not at all depressed by his reverses, and brings fresh armies into the field and the battle continues to rage. The author advocates a revival of genuine and orthodox Hinduism with which the second part closes.	22

Jan. 7th	110	12mo. ...	1st ...	500	Printed	0 8 0	Nílachandra Roy of Bhajanghat.	This poem has much pathos in it, commencing as it does with a Rájá falling in love with a pretty and chaste woman, whom he married; ever after which they lived in the greatest harmony and love, vowing never to be parted from one another but by death. Not long after, the fickle Rájá becomes enchanted with another woman, whom he makes his second wife. This one, however, soon becomes jealous of the co-wife, and induces the Rájá to exile her into the forest. The poor creature after much wandering takes up her abode in a hut of mats in a cave at the foot of the Himalayas. After the lapse of some years the Rájá chanced to be hunting in the selfsame forest, when a violent storm arose and he became separated from his friends, was lost in the dense wood, and commenced shrieking aloud for help and refuge. The woman (his first wife) who had betaken herself to a life of asceticism (hence the name of the work tapaswiní) came forth in search of the one whose voice she heard. They both meet, and she at once recognizes the Rájá, who, however, is still in the dark as to his protector. He requests her to give an account of herself, she promises to do so on his going to her hut, where explanations and mutual recognition follow and they become reunited.	24

1879. Feb. 15th	Pages. 441	8vo.	2nd	500	Printed	Rs. A. P. 3 8 0	Saurindramohan Tagore, Calcutta.	The present second edition of this work is a decided improvement not only in the notation and the large increase in the number of airs, but chiefly for the great reduction in price so as to bring it within reach of all. The author who has received so many distinctions from the foreign courts of Europe, no doubt has a desire not only to preserve but also cultivate Hindu Music and the ancient airs or gáthás, for which he wishes to engender a kind of a liking by his fellow-countrymen. The work, like the rest of this author's works, is well and tastefully got up.	50

1879. Jan. 4th	100	12mo.	16th	50,000	ditto ...	0 4 0	Ishwarachandra Vidyáságara, Calcutta.	The present number is the old "Ákhyánmanjári" set up in a new and more comprehensive form, and written in simple language, so as to meet the wishes of a number of teachers who desired the work to be adapted to the wants of children of tender years There are no fewer than 24 instructive stories inculcating moral and edifying instruction, such as benevolence; devotion to parents, brothers, teachers and to God; the suppression of covetousness; hospitality, compassion; sacrificing one' sown life to save that of another. It would be superfluous to say that this entertaining little work has been got up in excellent style by its reputed and well-known author.	51
„ 24th	105	12mo.	6th	1,000	ditto ...	0 7 0	Jívanakrishna Chatterji, Jayanagar.	This small work or ancient history has been compiled from various English and Bengali works to supply a great desideratum, and a long-felt want for a compact history for boys. It embraces the history of the ancient Hindus, the invasion of India by Darius and Alexander, to the close of the Musalmán rule, with a list of the various important battles fought, their dates and the names of the victors. The work concludes with a few pages of a catechism in the foregoing historical facts, and has a neatly lithographed map of India.	52
„ 8th	159	12mo.	22nd	3,000	ditto ...	0 10 0	Ishwarachandra Vidyáságara, Sukea's Street, Calcutta.	From the accession of Sirájuddaulá in 1755 to the close of the administration of Lord William Bentinck. „ 11th	116	12mo.	13th Revised and enlarged.	3,000	ditto ...	0 4 0	Rajkrishna Mukerji, M.A. and B.L. of Calcutta.	From the time of the Aryans, the Musalmán Emperors, &c., to the Lieutenant-Governorship of Sir Ashley Eden, with a carefully prepared list of all the ruling sovereigns from 1203 to 1760 A. D. This is a very useful little book, containing besides accounts of battles, sieges and changes of Government, notes on the condition of the country, language, and literature, and chief political and social events.	54
Mar. 11th	164	12mo. ...	9th...	1,500	ditto ...	0 8 0	Jadugopál Chatterji, of Calcutta	From the time of the ancient Hindus to the destruction of the Mogul Empire; with a list of the principal events which occurred from the year 622 to 1761 A. D. There is also a list of Hindu and Musalmán Rulers and Mogul Emperors, with the date and duration of their respective rules. This little work is intended as a preparatory and elementary history to be read by little boys ere they go into higher historical works.	55
1878. Dec. 30th	276	ditto ...	16th...	2,000	ditto ...	0 12 0	Krishnachandra Roy, of Calcutta.	It contains an account of the Aryans and their ultimately spreading over Europe and Asia, and a summary of the Hindu period and also of the Muhammadan, commencing with the 9th century to the time of Lord Canning, whose administration is much eulogized by the writer. There are at the end of the book, tables showing the extent of territories acquired by different Governors-General; the system by which India is administered here and from England; the army and the different departments under Government.	56
„ 31st	257	ditto ...	6th...	2,000	ditto ..	0 12 0	Nílmani Mukerji, M.A. and B.L., of Dhákuria.	From the time of the invasion of India by Alexander the Great, an account of Vascode game, trade with the English, formation of the East India Company, the war with the French, the early days of British rule under Clive, including the entire British period to the departure of Lord Northbrook, the visit of the Prince of Wales, and the assumption of the reins of Government by Lord Lytton. The administrations of Lords Mayo and Northbrook are both praised though these as the writer says were widely different in character, the one being of a jovial disposition, fond of sport and display, while the other was reserved and stingy. Lord Northbrook's rule was however disfigured (according to this author) by two acts—first, his futile attempt to bring the sickly Nizám of Hyderabad to pay his respects to the Prince of Wales, and next the Dramatic Performance Act. The book contains a large lithographed map of India and Ceylon.	57

This small, but exceedingly useful, manual contains general arithmetic, simple mensuration, with the native method of finding areas of land, bazár and mahájaní accounts, forms of various kinds of bonds, pottahs, kabuliats, &c., and of letter-writing as current in Bengal; the object being to place in the hands of young readers a cheap and really useful book, which should treat in a popular and simple way the subjects for the elementary education of the boys studying in Government páthshalas and vernacular schools as prescribed by the Education Department. Printed by special request.	67
1879. Jan. 26th	146	8vo. ...	2nd ...	1,500	ditto ...	0 10 0	Abhayacharan Roy of Bartalá, Calcutta.	Relates to various sorts and descriptions of revenue and commerce in India. The author in his preface gives a short account of zamindári affairs and the permanent settlement under Lord Cornwallis; he also takes occasion to deprecate in strong terms the obnoxious practice of his fellow-countrymen taking so great a liking to reading novels and dramas, and aping the dress and manners of Europeans so soon as they have managed to get a slight smattering of English.	68

An introductory notice appears at each head, comprising a short history of the subject of which it treats; the knowledge of which, together with that of the accounts themselves, is almost a sine-qud-non for all purposes.	69

The first chapter of this work gives an account of the birth and education of the boy Akshahya. The second chapter describes his travels; here an opportunity is taken to refer to the unfortunate deprivation of the independence of the native press. The third chapter contains the death of Virsinha, the father of the hero of the tale, and Akshayá's return from his travels. The style of writing in the book is very clumsy, and not a few grammatical errors are to be found therein.	13

This is the first part of not a prepossessing tale, and one which would not in the least improve the ideas or taste of its readers. The sentiments are lewd. Saredámaní is at once introduced as the heroine, and sees herself lying in a forest in a pregnant state. She is rescued by Chapalá, the wife of a Kulin, and taken home for a bad purpose. The son of the zamindár is inveigled into the heroine's room, who shuns his advances and proposals, and is rescued by another party. She, in process of time, is confined of a son. Chapalá some time after sends Saudámani to fetch water from the river, when on her return, she finds both her child and the woman missing. The third part concludes here, but does not as yet show why the name of Pramádiní is given to the book.	14
Feb. 12th	87	12mo. ...	1st ...	500	ditto ...	0 6 0	.....	The compiler says that the brilliancy of the several compositions which he has collected into the present work has led him to suppose that there must have been some providential inspiration of the writer: hence he has thought proper to accord the work its present title of Daiva-latá, or "Creeper of Providence." There are 31 different pieces on various subjects, such as character, providential occurrences, meditation and belief, sympathy, improvement of man, toil and satisfaction, loyalty, the writer of which praises the English for their just administration, and hopes that they will long continue to rule the country, and that all India should be grateful for the benefits received from English rule. There is also an article headed "What it is necessary for Bengalis to do," wherein the writer reproves the Bengalis for their lassitude, and stimulates them to exertion and perseverance; accuses them for want of self-pride and a constant desire of dependence, instead of striking out new paths for themselves: hence there are very few men found skilled in the Fine Arts. The Bengali, instead of seeking his country's glory, is a dependent creature.	15

Jan. 2nd	54	8vo. ..	1st ...	1,000	Printed	0 8 0	Pyárichánd Mitra, of Nimtalá Ghát Street, Calcutta.	"Former or ancient condition of the women of India." As many works on female education are now being written, the writer offers this book to Aryan	16 females in all conditions and stages of life, with a view that they may come to learn that no education can be considered complete without looking up to the Creator for a pattern of the life we are to follow. In former times marriages took place at an age of puberty, women had more freedom, and were not incarcerated as now in their houses. The work commences with the establishment and progress of the Aryan rule in India, during which a knowledge of the Vedas, of worship, erection of great edifices, &c., were carried out, and when the females were allowed independence. Examples are given of Sítá, Damayantí, Shakuntalá, Kaushalya, Draupadí, Subhadrá, and other eminent women, who acquired knowledge in the Vedas, and learnt the modes of effective worship and prayer from their husbands and sons. Reference is also made to the mode and system of marriages obtaining formerly; of females mounting the funeral pyre of their deceased husbands; of their virtue and bravery, and also the way in which the Ránís used to spend their time at home. The writer is serious in his endeavours to bring about a radical change in the mode of life of native females in India, by means of this work, which is intended for those women who are so intent on receiving the benefits of the education now being brought to their homes.

This book has a well-executed colored frontispiece of a native woman in an attitude of prayer to Brahma.

This is the first attempt in print on the subject and the subject is well handled.

Feb. 28th	20	8vo. ...	1st ...	80	ditto ..	Not given.	Dínanáth Dás Chandra.	The book is a kind of an allegory. The author fancies himself in a dream, in the midst of which he is transported to the	18

Vindháchal mountains and various countries In the midst of this he meets with Bharat Máta (mother India) with whom he enters into conversation on seeing her crying. She says her grief is for her great and learned Kálí Das Bhavabhuti &c, who cannot be replaced, as the young Bengalis are quite given up to bad habits and morals, drinking, cruelty, irreligion, &c.

The dreamer then tries to pacify Bhárat, by bringing before her, the many good qualities and virtues of so excellent a person as the Mahárájá of Bardwán, who is in great favor with the Queen Empress. The writer's object by this book is merely to depict the good nature of the Mahárájá of Bardwan and decry the rising race of young Bengalis for their vices.

Nov. 25th	35	12mo. ...	1st ...	500	Printed	0 4 0	.....	Into this little book one Harukumar Sharmma has managed to condense all his notes of his journey by rail to Calcutta.	19

He meets two gentlemen in the train, the one engaged in reading and the other in smoking. Shortly after a Bábu and his wife, a rather prepossessing female, enter the same compartment. One of the Europeans offers the Bábu a drink of liquor which he refuses, and a glass is then offered to the wife, who also refuses and at the same time appeals to her husband, who remonstrates with the gentlemen and receives some blows for his impudence. This brings up the reading man, who at once espouses the part of the weak and deals effectively in putting down his countryman. In the person of the terrified Bengali husband the natives are reproached for seeking independence for their females when they cannot take care of themselves. The rest of the book treats of his encounters and rovings about Calcutta, and in one place the traveller feels annoyed that the chaukidars do not, as a rule, give any assistance to a stranger. He was rather taken aback at seeing the paucity of good standard works in the native libraries. The traveller notices likewise the vast change that has taken place in modern Calcutta, where every article of civilization and comfort is now to be had; though, at the same time, liquor shops and brothels are to be seen at almost every turn, as another sign of the progress of civilization.

Feb. 6th	70	8vo. ...	1st ...	500	ditto ...	0 6 0	Vankimchandra Chatterji, of Kántálpárá.	This is a small pamphlet containing five articles reprinted from the Banga Darshana, and	20 is written for the benefit of that large class of natives who cannot read English. The author aims at pointing out the evils which have resulted from the pernicious influences of caste and class distinctions in native society from ancient times, and which have in a great measure tended to retard the progress of this country in wealth and power. The author describes vividly, and in simple and forcible language, the evil results of these distinctions as caused by creed and color; by the possession or absence of wealth; by education and non-education; by the inequality of the senses in the matter of their respective privileges, social customs, position, and the law of inheritance. The author, whilst admitting, that a kind of natural inequality exists between man and man, yet spares no pains to inculcate that such natural inequality should not be enhanced and perpetuated by any artificial means, such as interested legislation, the creation of social obstacles, &c. Very advanced views and sentiments on the subject of equality, derived mainly from European writers, such as Mill, Buckle, Carlyle, &c., are put forth in this work. There is, however, a considerable amount of original matter, and the manner in which the subject has been handled renders it well suited for popular comprehension. It is very seldom indeed we have such learning exhibited and a few more works of this kind would make a revolution in the vast quantity of sluggish and silly Bengali literature of the present day.

Jan. 5th	33	8vo. ...	1st ..	1,000	Printed	Nil ...	.....	This work is intended to give a brief notice of the proceedings of the Sáraswata Sabhá at Dacca to regulate instruction in Sanskrita toles, the books that are to be used by students, the yearly subjects of examination, and grading, of certificates and titles, and money prizes to be raised by private subscription; the mode of teaching in the toles to be revised, and an inspector to be appointed; and old and ancient works in Sanskrita to be examined and brought forward.	21
1878. Dec. 16th 1879.	8	16mo. ...	1st ...	500	ditto ...	0 1 0	.....	This little book is a compilation and translation of the best moral couplets of the famous Hindustani poet Tulsidás. The original verses are first transliterated and then translated into Bengali.	22
Jan. 14th	27	12mo. ...	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	0 2 6	.....	This small work contains four pieces, the first a poem of the late Michael Madhusudan Datta, eulogizing Dacca as the ornament of East Bengal; the second is a letter of a traveller dated the 8th Paus, 1261 B.S., which appeared in the Prabhákara, giving a description of the former glorious state of Vikrámpur, Rájnagar, Dacca, and Náráyanganj, and the present decayed condition of Eastern Bengal; the third is a description of showers of rain which tend to fertilize the earth; and the fourth is a description of goat's flesh, which the writer describes as exceedingly palatable from the nature of its pasturage. The compiler considers all these as ornaments of literary lore and has therefore, as he says, given the title of Kavitá-ratna, or Pearls of Poems, to this work.	23
1878. Dec. 27th	51	12mo. ...	1st ...	51	ditto ...	0 6 0	Abhayácharn Datta Maymájuri.	Kshetramayí, the heroine, is represented as the daughter of one Gauríkánta Sarkára, a well known mukhtiár of the High Court, who was born at Jáfirganj, near Dacca. The name Kshetramayí was given her because her father, who had left on a pilgrimage to Jagannáth (Shríkshetra), on returning from there, expired shortly after the birth of the girl, who afterwards married in due course. Her husband endeavoured to supply by much labor that education of which the wife was bereft. After the biographical part of the book, the writer devotes the latter part to some poems, which dwell on the independence of native females, their education and chastity. The work is a very useful one for the perusal of Hindu females.	24
.....	38	12mo. ...	1st ...	.....	ditto ...	0 4 0	.....	Containing sundry poems on a conversation between the "Lotus and Rose," "The Poet's Lament," "Advice given to a Bráhmin's son on going to England," &c.	25

Jan. 23rd	64	12mo. ...	1st ...	500	ditto ...	0 12 0	Adhorelála Sen, B.A., Calcutta.	The poet in the first part of this book describes the love as it sprung up mutually between Lalita and the heroine; their grace and beauty; their love whilst unmarried, till Sirája Nawab took the heroine away by stealth, leaving her lover in abject despair. The poet goes on further with the tale and stops abruptly. In the latter part of the work, the poet has written some brief poems on various subjects, such as "My heart" "Memory" "The last hours of the night," "An offering." The style of verse and measure are different in both parts of the work.	26

May. 10th	112	16mo. ...	1st ...	1,000	Printed	1 8 0	.....	Treats of the gradual progress of women towards civilization, from their primitive condition in savage life to their elevated state in civilized society, comprehending a great variety of matter, curious and interesting to both sexes of all nations in the world. In this brochure polygamy is not only reprehended, because not intended by the Creator when he created one man and one woman, but in consequence of its many and sundry inconveniences and attendant evils. Good and pure education is considered by the author as of high importance, whilst the independence of females and social intercourse are strongly recommended. Good education is considered not only as being conducive to private happiness, but also as contributing to the happiness and stability of society in general.	1

The author recommends in this book all Hindus to follow the precepts inculcated herein during the Kali (the iron or last) age. In the first chapter the author treats of all the four Tugas (or ages). In the second he dwells on the social customs and usages required of Brâhmanas, Kshetriyas, Vaishyas, and Shudras. In the third chapter are the precepts as to religious observances and purifications necessary during births and deaths. The fourth and fifth chapters contain the expiation required for different sins, especially that of cow slaughter.	6

Feb. 2nd	96	8vo. ...	1st ...	100	ditto ...	1 0 0	....	In an article headed "India, the Cradle of Morality," the writer endeavours to show that all moral fables, proverbs, and stories, as in the shape of conversation between birds and beasts, take their origin from the ancient Hindus. It is wrong to say that Alexander brought all this with him on his invasion of India. Many instances are given to strengthen this assertion of the author, and Max Muller is quoted in support of this view.	3
Feb. 2nd	48	Rl. 8vo.	1st ...	1,800	ditto ..	0 8 0	Sanjívchandra Chatterji of Kántálpárá.	In the present number of this magazine there appears an article on the increase of population in India and its results, which cannot be praised for its reasonings or arguments. The writer shows that since the date of the writings of Elphinstone's India there has been an increase of ten millions in population, the results whereof have been famine, disease, &c. Those which were villages can now scarcely be distinguished from towns. The writer suggests two modes for reducing population—first, emigration, to which he says the people of India, however, are averse; and next, foreign or internecine wars; as to which again he checks himself by saying that good and brave men will be lost to the country, whilst the weak and diseased will be left behind to its detriment. Malaria, he thinks, would just suit the purpose, as it would weed off all the surplus population.	4

The writer of the article "Orissa and Assam" in this number remarks that there is a great similarity in language, manners, and customs between the people of these provinces but not so with Bengal. He endeavours to reconcile this by stating that Shankaráchárya, a celebrated Vedantic philosopher, after living in Orissa for a long while, went to dwell in Kámrup, in Assam, and thereby assimilated the two provinces in language by his immense superior influence as a guru, or spiritual guide.	7

Oct. 15th ..	[illegible]	8mo. ...	1st ...	1,000	Printed	0 8 0	Pandita Dwárkánáth Vidyábhúshana, Chingripotá.	This number contains three articles worthy of notice—the first is "The distressing condition of Hindu society," which, instead of becoming elevated, is rather deteriorating every day through the effects of the education the natives are receiving at the hands of Government and misapplying; the second one is on Napoleon Buonaparte and some incidents of his life, which became so important a one on account of his great wisdom and power and valour; thus making him the foremost personage of his time and in history. The third is a continuation of a former article on Act IX, 1873, better known as the Vernacular Press Act, wherein the writer discusses the question as to whether there were prohibitory statutes against the publication of books and papers in former times, which he answers in the affirmative, deducing instances from English history to support his view; as to the burnings of obnoxious publications, the establishment of censors of the Press, &c.; the article appears as if it will be continued in a future number, and concludes by saying that, at length the independence of the press was obtained; whereby both society and literature gained, and the English, on conquering India, gave to this country a gift so invaluable that it will never be forgotten, nor will, at the same time Lord Lytton's action with reference to the self-same press in 1878 be effaced from the minds of the people.	10

The author reasons that the son of a learned pandita and of a common peasant commence life on the same footing in youth. The difference in position hereafter is effected by the advantage which each one only has taken of acquiring knowledge. Natives may at present be considered ignorant and fools, but by perseverance in education they will be able yet to rival the English in arts and manufactures.	14

Jan. 17th	16	Dy. 8vo.	1st ...	500	Printed	0 4 0	Nrityagopál, of Paikpárá, Calcutta.	The author has thought it time enough, when such distress prevails over the land for scarcity of food, to start this periodical (the first of its kind) with the view to instruct people in the art and science of agriculture in a province where so much land is available, and thus to enable the poor, and those on small incomes, to cultivate their own paddy, peas, potatoes, and vegetables. The writer scouts the ideas of people who think that agriculture is a degrading occupation and should be resorted to only by people of the lower class. The work is issued from the Paikpárá Nursery, already so well known from its close contiguity to the town of Calcutta. The present promises to be both a valuable and useful work, and deserves every support considering the good object at which it aims.	23

1879.	Pages.					Rs. A. P.
Feb. 5th	286	8vo. ...	1st ..	325	Printed..	4 0 0	Thomas S. Smith, Calcutta.	Contains besides critical notes of English and Vernacular works, &c., ten most interesting and well-written articles. The first one, "On British rule in India," is a thoughtful and carefully written article by a Muhammadan gentleman, son of the Hon'ble Syad Ahmed, who endeavours to show that the government and occupation of this country by the British were and continues to be made possible only through the loyal co-operation on the part of the natives, and that British rule does not owe its origin to conquest. It is written in a thoroughly loyal spirit, and is equally free, on the other hand, from the taint of being prompted by fulsome flattery. The writer prays that the British rule may ever last here, and that the day may be far distant when Englishmen will think that India, where British rule has become a piece and parcel of its national existence, must be kept by bayonets, for assuredly as this thought gains strength will, says the writer, India's decline commence. The article on the campaign of Pánipat by Mr. Keene is a valuable contribution to the History of India, and evinces considerable research on the part of the writer. The paper on the social life of the Aryans by Bábu Pyárichánd Mitra also deserves notice and commendation.	10

This number has an article on the Indian stage and its resuscitation; the cause whereof the writer would attribute to English example which brought back the idea anew into the Hindu mind after its abolition: some youths gathered round Rájá Pertápchandra Sinha and Ishwarchandra Sinha, who thus became the promoters of dramatic revival. The stage, thinks the writer, will without doubt inspire the Hindu mind with patriotism and create a unifying bond binding all Hindus. Managers are, however, advised to eschew foolish and obscene plays, and only allow such to be acted on the stage as will tend to bring forward and pourtray the better and nobler passions of man. The author considers the introduction of females on the stage as a singularly fortunate step.	12
Feb. 8th	40	ditto ...	1st ...	400	ditto ...	1 0 0	ditto ...	Writing of the British rule in India since the formation of the East India Company. The author of the article in the present number of this magazine is of opinion that the English did not come too soon, but were just in time; else all traces of India's ancient greatness would have been effaced by Moslem misrule: whereas under the English, the development of the press and education followed. Justice is pure and simple, and administered now without distinction of creed or color. Railways, telegraphs, &c., have taken the place of the old and more tedious process of travelling and of conveying news; the Satti has been rightly abolished. Noble energy and strenuous exertions have been made to ameliorate the condition of the people of India. The writer makes a passing allusion to the tyrannical oppressions of a Fuller, a Damant, a Kirkwood, and a D'Oyly.	13

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 18. For stations above 500 feet elevation the reduction is made by Captain Allan Cunningham's table, "Prof. Papers on Indian Engineering, No. CXIII." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 18 on the preceding page, by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Cloud.—This column gives the average proportion of clouded sky, a cloudless sky being indicated by o, and one completely overcast by 1*o*.

The above, being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month, which will show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

Calcutta,
The 26th April 1879.

Eastern Bengal Railway.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic for the five weeks ending 29th March 1879.

Dated Calcutta, the 17th April 1879.

From—W. INNES, ESQ., Acting Traffic Superintendent,

To—The Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway Company, Calcutta.

THE total weight of goods carried over this railway during the above period was 5,55,849 maunds, which, as compared with the corresponding period of last year, shews a decrease of 2,32,498 maunds, which is mainly in grain, including rice, jute, salt, seeds, and miscellaneous goods.

Decreases.

Grain, including rice ... ... Mds. 1,38,809

Deficient crops, together with the small demand for export, may be held to account for this decrease

Jute ... ... Mds. 28,656

The demand for jute is dull.

Salt ... ... Mds 16,488

This decrease is owing to the rush about this time last year, caused by the anxiety of merchants to dispose of their stock previous to the then anticipated levy of an enhanced duty.

Seeds ... ... Mds. 12,839

The partial failure of the crops and dull demand must be held to account for this decrease.

Miscellaneous goods ... ... Mds. 45,535

The decrease under this head is chiefly attributable to a falling off in the despatch of manufactured iron, copper, brass and spelter.

Increases.

Sugar ... ... Mds 9,018

This is owing to the season being later and more concentrated this year. There was a larger traffic last year up to the end of March, but it was extended over a longer period; however, the crops being good, a continued increase may, I think, be fairly anticipated.

Foreign railway materials ... ... Mds. 6,024

Material for the Darjeeling Steam Tramway chiefly represents this increase.

Hides ... ... Mds. 2,009

This is simply the reflux of the ordinary demand which was diverted from Bengal last year by the cheaper article then to be had in Madras, an extraordinary stock having been created by the mortality of cattle in the famine districts.

I attach the usual statement of Increases and Decreases.

Note.

The decrease in firewood traffic is due to less import in the Basrah Ghaut, in consequence of wood-cutters neglecting to cut wood, having plenty of food-grain in stock.

The decrease in hay traffic is merely apparent, for the weight per wagon of this commodity was taken in 1878 as 140 maunds, it being the carrying capacity of the wagon; whereas in 1879 it is taken as sixty maunds, which is the actual weight of the hay that a wagon contains.

The decrease in wooloo traffic is due to above causes to some extent, but chiefly to increased rate of railway freight.

The decrease in straw is due to above causes.

The decrease in paddy and rice traffic is due to the dull market in Calcutta.

The increase in machinery traffic is due to the working of the rice-mills being more extensive than last year.

The increase in building materials is due to export to abads.

The fall in coal traffic is due to the coal for the rice-mills taking the river route for lower charges.

The increase in gunny is due to greater demand at the rice-mills.

The increase in brass and wares is due to larger imports to favourable market.

The increase in coal is due to larger imports to silk factories and for brick-burning purposes.

The decrease in edible grains is due to less exports, there being no favourable market for them.

The increase in sugar and jaggree is due to larger imports to favourable market.

The decrease in piece-goods is due to less imports to unfavourable market.

The increase in silk and silk-clothes is due to larger exports to favourable market.

The increase in seeds of all sorts is due to larger imports to favourable market.

A. MACKENZIE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 1*st May* 1879.—The following Rules for the lease of Waste Lands in the Sundarbans have been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor and are published for general information. They will take effect from this date:—

DRAFT RULES FOR THE LEASE OF WASTE LANDS IN THE SUNDARBANS OF THE 24-PERGUNNAHS, JESSORE, AND BACKERGUNGE.

I.—LANDS AVAILABLE FOR LEASE.

1. The "waste lands" to which these rules apply include all ungranted and unoccupied land at the disposal of Government in the Sundarbans of the 24-Pergunnahs, Jessore, and Backergunge, which has not been declared reserved forest under the Forest Act.

Definition of waste lands.

2. In respect of the granting of leases for such lands the Commissioner of the Sundarbans shall exercise all the powers of a Collector of Land Revenue under Act XXIII of 1863, provided that before acting on an application for the lease of any land the Commissioner of the Sundarbans shall refer the application to the Conservator of Forests and ascertain that there is no objection in his department to the application being granted.

Waste land available for grant.

3. The Government reserves to itself the right of withholding any land from being leased by special order made at any time before the lease is finally given by the Sundarban Commissioner; in such cases all expenses deposited by the applicant for demarcation, survey, and advertisement under the following rules shall be refunded to him, together with the reasonable expenses of clearing any lines and erecting any temporary boundaries which he may have incurred with the permission of the Sundarban Commissioner, as provided in rule 10.

Government may by special order withhold lands from lease.

II.—APPLICATION AND PROCEDURE BEFORE ADVERTISEMENT.

4. Applications for leases shall be written on paper bearing a court fee stamp as required by law, and shall contain the following particulars:—

Applications what to contain.

First.—The estimated area of the land applied for in standard bighas of eighty cubits square, with its character and description.

Second.—The situation of the land accurately ascertained, and described as fully as possible.

Third.—A rough sketch map of the lands applied for.

A form of application marked A is annexed to these rules.

5. All applications shall be entered at once in a register, of which the form shall be prescribed by the Board of Revenue.

Register of applications.

5(a). In the portion of the Sundarbans which has been declared "Protected Forest" under the Forest Act, no blocks of waste land which are altogether surrounded by ungranted and unoccupied land shall be leased under these rules. No block shall be given on lease which is not adjacent to land which has already been granted for the purpose of cultivation. All applications which do not comply with this rule shall be rejected.

6. Every lot applied for must be compact, including no more than a single tract of land such as might be enclosed in a ring-fence. If the land touches a navigable river, the river frontage must not exceed one-half the depth of the lot; but for special reasons the Board of Revenue may relax this condition.

Lots to be compact.

7. No greater area of land than 5,000 standard bighas will be included in one lease except under special orders of Government. Nor will a smaller area than 200 bighas be leased unless the lot has distinct water boundaries on all sides. The sanction of the Board of Revenue shall be necessary to the lease of more than one lot to one applicant, or to the lease of a second lot to an applicant who already holds one. The Board may at its discretion allow such further leases to be given on being satisfied that the applicant is in a position to begin clearing and cultivating at once, and that he bonâ fide means to do so, provided that each application shall comprise no more than the prescribed maximum area.

Limitation of area of each lot.

8. On receipt of an application the Sundarban Commissioner shall satisfy himself that it complies with all requirements of these rules, and that the land is such as can properly be leased. Should he find that the lands are not available for lease, or that for any reason they ought not to be leased, or that the application does not fulfil the requirements of the rules, he shall reject the application, or in the latter case allow it to be amended. In no case shall any application be admitted without special sanction of the Board of Revenue for any land which any persons are found to be occupying or using.

Applications to be rejected if rules are not complied with.

9. When no objection is known to exist against the lease being made, the Sundarban Commissioner shall determine whether a survey of the lands is required, or whether the maps and records of previous surveys available in his office are sufficient for the ready identification and demarcation of the boundaries on the ground.

Sundarban Commissioner to determine whether survey is required.

10. If no survey is required, and it is only necessary to demarcate the boundaries on the ground, the Sundarban Commissioner shall estimate the cost of such demarcation as well as the cost of clearing the lines and erecting temporary boundary marks, and shall call upon the applicant to deposit the same before a certain day, which shall be fixed with reference to the time at which the demarcation can conveniently be made. Provided, however, that it shall be optional with the said Commissioner to allow the applicant himself to clear the jungle and construct such temporary boundary marks as may be considered sufficient for the ready identification of the land, until the permanent marks prescribed by article XIII of the "Terms of lease" shall be erected. If the applicant is allowed to clear the jungle and erect temporary landmarks, he shall enter into an agreement to do so within such reasonable time as shall be fixed by the Sundarban Commissioner.

Cost of survey.

11. Should the Sundarban Commissioner decide that a survey of the land is necessary, he shall call upon the applicant to deposit, before a day fixed for that purpose, the cost of survey in addition to the cost of demarcation, &c., as provided in the preceding rule. The cost of survey shall be calculated at the rate of four annas an acre on the area estimated in the application, or at such higher rate as may for special reasons be fixed in any case. The sum payable for survey shall be adjusted at the rate fixed per acre according to the actual area which may be ascertained by survey, a further payment being made by the applicant, or a refund being made to him, as may be necessary for adjustment.

Cost of notices to be deposited.

12. In addition to the cost of survey, demarcation, &c., the applicant shall be required to deposit a sum of Rs. 16 to cover the cost of issuing the notice prescribed by rule 17.

Application to be struck off on failure to deposit.

13. Should the applicant fail to deposit any amount required by the foregoing rules before the date fixed for that purpose, or should he fail to clear the lines or to demarcate the boundaries by the date fixed under rule 10, the application shall be struck off the file; an application so struck off may be re-admitted, but in that case the application shall be considered to have been made on the date of the application for such re-admission, and not on the date of the original application.

Refund of deposit.

14. After the deposit of fees, if for any reason the application should be struck off, or the survey abandoned, the applicant shall not be entitled to a refund of the sum deposited, except when lands are withheld from lease under rule 3. Refund may, however, be made at the discretion of the Sundarban Commissioner of any balance remaining in deposit after meeting all expenses incurred on the objects for which the deposit was made.

Agency for survey.

15. Surveys shall ordinarily be made by Government surveyors; if made by other agency temporarily employed for the purpose, they shall be tested by Government officers.

Surveys need not be minute.

16. Surveys need not be more minute or detailed than is necessary to ensure approximate ascertainment of area, but the boundaries must be very accurately and clearly defined.

III.—Issue of Notice of Lease.

Issue of notice.

17. When the land has been surveyed and demarcated, and the Sundarban Commissioner is satisfied that it may be leased, he shall issue a notice in the form B annexed to these rules announcing that an application has been made, and calling upon all persons who may have objections to make to appear before a date to be specified, which date shall not be less than three months from the date of the notice as provided in section I, Act XXIII of 1863.

Publication of notice.

18. The notice shall be published at the office of the Sundarban Commissioner, the office of the Board of Revenue, the office of the Collector of the District, at the Court of the District Judge, at the Sub-divisional Office, at the Moonsif's Court, and at the Police Station within the limits of which the lands are situate. A copy shall also be published in the Government Gazettes in English and in Bengali.

Notice to contain certain reservations.

19. In framing the notice the Sundarban Commissioner must be careful to state, as precisely as possible, all rights which will be reserved, such as water-ways and the strips of land along the banks of rivers and nullahs for towing-paths (vide article XI of the annexed terms of lease), which will be held available for the use of Government and the public use.

Disposal of claims to the land.

20. If, after the issue of the notice and before the lease has been sold, any claim be preferred or objection taken, the Sundarban Commissioner must proceed as directed in Act XXIII of 1863.

Action if claim is established.

21. If the Sundarban Commissioner shall consider that any claim or objection is established, he shall stay his proceedings for selling the lease as directed by section IV, Act XXIII of 1863, and make a special report to the Board of Revenue.

Arrangement may be made.

22. If the objection be such as can be got over by an arrangement without proceeding to formal trial under section VI of the Act, the Sundarban Commissioner may, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, order the arrangement to be made, and in such case, or in case the claim or objection is eventually withdrawn or pronounced invalid, the Sundarban Commissioner may proceed, on the date specified in the notice, to sell the lease of the land.

IV.—Sale in case of more than one Application.

Sale to applicant.

22(a). If there is but one applicant for the land, it shall be sold to him at the upset price of one rupee an acre.

When more than one application is received for the same land.

23. Should there be more than one application for the same lands before the survey or demarcation fees have been deposited, and should the second application comprise the whole of the lands contained in the first, the Sundarban Commissioner shall put the lease up to auction on the day named in the notice, and shall sell it to the highest bidder; but no person shall be allowed to bid who has not made such application; and no bid shall be accepted which is not bonâ fide on behalf of such person. If the second application comprise a portion only of the land contained in the first, it shall be rejected.

Lease sold subject to conditions.

24. The lease, whether sold to the only applicant or by auction, shall be sold subject to the conditions contained in the terms of lease annexed to these rules and to those contained in the notice issued in form B.

Sale.

25. The purchaser of the lease shall be required to pay down at once a sum of 500 rupees, or the full amount bid for the lease if such amount be less than 500 rupees. In default of immediate payment the lease may be put up to re-sale at once or may be reserved for future sale.

Cancelment of sale in case of default of full payment of purchase-money.

26. The purchaser shall be required to pay in the balance of the purchase-money, if any, together with all fees for demarcation, survey, and advertisement which may be demanded by the Sundarban Commissioner, within one month of the day of sale. If he fail to do so, the sale shall be cancelled by authority of the Sundarban Commissioner, and the amount deposited under rules 11 and 12 shall be forfeited, and the land shall be available for lease to any other applicant.

V.—MISCELLANEOUS.

Lease to be granted.

27. After the conditions of this sale are fulfilled, the Sundarban Commissioner shall grant a lease of the lands in such form as may from time to time be prescribed by the Board of Revenue. He shall forward the lease for registration in the office of the Board, and will also cause it and its counterpart to be duly registered by the Registrar of Assurances.

Registers.

28. All leases of waste lands shall be recorded in a register to be kept in such form as the Board of Revenue may prescribe.

Board to issue certain orders.

29. The Board of Revenue shall as soon as possible after the publication of these rules—

I.—Prescribe forms of the register of applications as required by rule 5, and for the register of leases as required by rule 28.

II.—Issue a schedule specifying the rates of rents subject to which the different lots of land available for lease in the Sundarbans shall be leased, as provided in article II of the terms of lease.

III.—Prescribe forms for leases.

And may issue subsidiary rules.

30. The Board may issue any further subsidiary instructions for giving effect to these rules.

Redemption of revenue.

31. As the present policy of Government is not to allow the redemption of land revenue except in the case of very minute estates, no future applications for the redemption of the revenue payable on account of leases of waste lands in the Sundarbans, either under the rules of 1853 or under any other rules, will be entertained.

TERMS OF LEASE.

One-fourth of area revenue-free.

I.—One-fourth on the entire area leased shall be for ever exempted from assessment as an estimated allowance for unassessable area, such as that occupied by water-courses, creeks, tanks, roads, the space required for the construction of the lessee's embankments, dams, tow-paths, &c., and for irreclaimable waste land.

Clearance condition.

III.—One-eighth of the entire area leased, as recorded in the lease, shall be cleared and shall be in a state fit for cultivation at the end of the fifth year, reckoning from the date from which the free term of the lease commenced. At any time after the expiration of the said year, the Sundarban Commissioner or any person authorized by him may enter upon the land and cause it to be measured for the purpose of ascertaining whether this condition has been fulfilled.

Forfeiture and re-lease.

IV.—On failure to comply with the above clearing condition the lessee shall forfeit all rights in the land under his existing lease, and the Government shall have the right of immediate re-entry. Provided that, if the lessee shall give up the said lease to the Sundarban Commissioner within one month of the date on which notice of such forfeiture shall be given to him, and shall demand a fresh lease, such fresh lease shall be given to him on the following conditions, namely, that the lessee shall forfeit all claim to continued revenue-free possession of the land, and shall at once pay revenue at the lowest rate fixed in the original lease, and shall continue to pay revenue at such rate for the remaining free term of the lease, and shall also pay revenue at a rate 20 per centum higher than that which was fixed in the original lease for each period up to the termination of the settlement.

VI.—The amount of rent due on the land shall be paid according to the fixed instalments to the Collector of the district.

Recovery of arrears of rent.

VII.—All arrears of revenue due on the land shall be recoverable as arrears of revenue due on temporarily settled estates according to any law for the time being in force.

Re-settlement after 40 years.

VIII.—After the expiration of 40 years, reckoning from the date of the original lease, the lot shall be open to re-settlement for a period of 30 years on such terms as the Government shall think fit, provided that the assessment shall not be fixed higher than the rate which would be paid by cultivating ryots in the neighbourhood for land growing the ordinary crops of the country, less 30 per centum to be allowed to the lessee to cover the risks and cost of collection, and to represent his profits. The above assessment shall be calculated on the area of the entire area leased, less the one-fourth which is exempted from assessment under article 1 of these rules.

Periodical re-settlements.

IX.—The land shall from time to time be subject to re-survey and re-assessment in accordance with the preceding rule after the expiration of 30 years from any re-settlement.

Reservation of rights of way, &c.

X.—The land shall be subject to all existing rights of way and water and other easements, and to any exceptions and reservations which may be particularized in the notice of sale of lease in form B annexed to the rules.

Tow-path reserved.

XI.—The right of using all streams and channels in any way navigable shall be reserved to the public, as also the use of a tow-path not less than 25 feet in width on each side of every such stream and channel.

Boundary dispute.

XII.—In the event of any boundary dispute arising between the lessee of any lot and the lessee of any adjoining lot already leased under these rules, or which may subsequently be leased, the lessees shall be bound to submit such dispute to the decision of the Commissioner of the Sundarbans. The decision of the Sundarban Commissioner shall be appealable to the Board of Revenue, and the decision of the Board shall be final and binding on the lessees. No lessee under these rules shall have any claim against the Government for compensation or damages in respect of land having been included in his lease which has already been included in some previous lease; but the lessee shall be entitled to proportionate reduction of the assessment in respect of any land covered by his lease which may subsequently be discovered not to have been available for lease.

Boundary marks.

XIII.—On being put in possession of a lot which has not been previously defined by permanent marks, the lessee shall, except where the boundary runs along a river or well-defined nullah or water-course, within three months, erect masonry pillars or platforms or such other landmarks as may be required, to the satisfaction of the Sundarban Commissioner, at each point where more than two lots or patches of waste or other properties meet, and large earthen mounds at every angle and at intervals of a hundred yards of the boundary line between such masonry pillars or platforms.

Neglect of lessee to erect boundary marks.

XIV.—If the lessee neglect to demarcate the lands as prescribed in the preceding rule, the Commissioner of the Sundarbans shall have the right of entry on the lands, and shall erect the landmarks hereinbefore described, and all costs incurred in that behalf, whether the actual costs of the landmarks, or the expenses incurred for clearing any jungle, or for supervision, or travelling expenses; and all charges whatsoever shall be recovered from the lessee by the law in force for the time being for the recovery of Government demands or the recovery of arrears of land revenue, as shall be decided upon by the Commissioner of the Sundarbans.

Land subsequently required for public purpose.

XV.—If any land leased under these rules should hereafter be required for any public purpose, such land, whether cultivated or uncultivated, may be resumed by Government on exempting the lessee from payment of the revenue assessed on the area required, and in the case of cultivated land by further payment of the reasonable cost of bringing the land under cultivation, and on payment of reasonable compensation for the value of any building, &c., which may stand on the lands.

(No. 20.)

Africa—South Coast.

(1) SHOAL GROUND WESTWARD OF DURNFORD POINT.

The Hydrographic Department of the British Admiralty notifies that the following information has been received from Commodore F. W. Sullivan, C.B., C.M.G., Senior Officer, Cape of Good Hope, relative to the existence of dangerous shoal ground, the south-western extreme of which lies W. ¾ S., distant 6¼ miles from Durnford point :—

This danger (Tenedos shoal), composed of uneven coralline rock, extends apparently about 3 miles from the shore, and is steep-to on its south-western edge, where the least water obtained was 12 feet.

Position approximate, latitude 28° 59′ S., longitude 31° 54′ E.

NOTE.—As there are no marks on the adjacent shore by which the position may be determined, and as the sea only breaks on the shoal in heavy weather, vessels should not approach this part of the coast nearer than 4 miles, nor bring Durnford point to bear eastward of E. N. E., and also keeping without the depth of 10 fathoms.

An easterly current is occasionally experienced at the distance of 3 to 4 miles from this coast.

(2) TUGELA RIVER.

The mouth of Tugela river may be easily recognized by the southern entrance point being thickly wooded and dark, and by a conical hill, also thickly wooded, situated about 7 miles north-eastward of the entrance.

(3) UMHLOTI RIVER.

The mouth of Umhloti river may be known by a long flat rock about 10 feet high situated close to the shore, and about one mile south-westward of the entrance.

DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 115.

The 30th April 1879.

UNDER section 89 of Act X (B.C.) of 1871, the following annual accounts and reports of the road cess committees of Monghyr, Bhagulpore, Purneah, and Maldah, and of the Deputy Commissioner of the Sonthal Pergunnahs, of works done and in progress during the past cess year 1877-78, together with the remarks therein of the Commissioner of the Bhagulpore division, are published for general information.

T. H. WICKES,
Offg. Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,
P. W. Dept.

No. 62R, dated Monghyr, the 9th December 1878.

From—C. F. MAGRATH, ESQ., Chairman, District Road Fund Committee, Monghyr,
To—The Commissioner of the Bhagulpore Division.

IN conformity with the instructions contained in Bengal Government's Public Works Department circular No. 50, dated 23rd July 1873, I have the honor to submit annual report and accounts of the District Road Fund operations of Monghyr for the cess year ending 30th September 1878. Copies of the sub-committee's report which audited the accounts, and the committee's resolution finally passing the accounts, are also enclosed.

2. Road Cess Meetings.—The following table shows the names of members forming the committee during the year, number of meetings held, and the number of meetings attended by each member.

The meetings are generally composed of official members and non-official members, residing in the head-quarters, outside members apparently taking little interest. Annexed is a list of non-official members who have not attended a single meeting during the year. But I regret to find the names of two gentlemen* in the list, who although residents of town have not attended a single meeting throughout the year. Their names should be removed from the list, and also those of E. MacNaughten, Esq., Chowdry Taz Ali, Shah Moenooddeen Ahmed, Moharaja Sir Joy Mungul Sing Bahadoor, K.C.S.I., and W. S. Crowdy, Esq.

3. Meetings of the Committee.—There were six meetings held during the year, in all of which I presided as Chairman except in one. If the Commissioner approves my suggestion I shall endeavour to select others to take the place of those removed. It has been reported by the Chairman of the Begooserai Branch Committee that the members of his committee attend more regularly, but only European members seem to take any particular interest in the committee, and the schemes they prepare are frequently of the wildest description. Most of the native members have not attended any meeting. The Chairman of the Branch Committee of Jamui reports that two members of his committee did not attend any meeting during the year, one on account of continual illness, and the other did not care to attend meetings. The Chairman has made fresh nomination to succeed their places. Two different statements, showing appointments and re-appointments of members, and particulars regarding the meetings of sudder and branch committees herewith accompany.

4. Quorum.—In all the meetings held during the year, the business was regularly transacted except in one, in which sufficient members were not present to form a quorum. The meeting was consequently adjourned to a further date.

5. Notice of meeting.—Provisions of section 57 of Road Cess Act were duly observed.

6. Changes in the personnel of the Committee.—The Committee had no Vice-Chairman at the commencement of the year. In November 1877, General Murray, who had been temporarily appointed, resigned, and Mr. C. A. Samuells was appointed Vice-Chairman in January 1878, and held charge of the district road fund accounts since that time.

7. Interest taken by members in the transaction of Committee business.—Of the official members, I may name Colonel Waller as evincing great interest in district communication, both in committee and out of it; and of the non-official members, Mr. Thomas, General Murray and Baboo Gunga Pershad were the most regular, and the first-named, by his intimate knowledge of the district, gave us often valuable information. The only occasion in which the native members evinced any interest was in attempting to lessen the rate of cess for the coming year. Applications were received and works carried out through local residents in Begooserai, but in the sudder sub-division and Jamui no one came forward.

8. Minute book.—The proceedings of every meeting since the formation of Road Fund Committees have been regularly recorded in a minute book kept for the purpose. The members of the committee occasionally inspect the book when present at a meeting. No zemindar or landowner outside the committee has ever inspected it, although every facility is given for so doing.

9. Appointment and removal of officers by Committee.—Only one appointment was made during the year to fill up the post of a sub-overseer, and preference was given to a passed student of the Civil Engineering College. The Chief Engineer of Bengal has also approved the appointment. No officer was removed from service.

10. Members and officers concerned in contract or work executed for the Committee.—I am not aware of any member or officer having been in any way concerned in a contract or work executed for the committee.

11. Estimate.—No work was taken in hand before having regular estimate and plan sanctioned by proper authority. It unfortunately happens in many instances that estimates framed with perfect correctness have not been sanctioned within six months even, and the Tirhoot road scheme has been under consideration for above two years. In some cases the estimates were detained for what seemed very slight and trifling inaccuracies or omissions. The result of this is that large sums of money lie idle in the treasury and our out-turn of works for the year is reduced. Particularly as we are not allowed to obtain provincial budgets during the year to use our surplus, when we see that dilatoriness in passing the work budgetted for leaves no chance of its being commenced during the year From this again it happens that an unnecessarily large balance, Rs. 69,762-14-4, is shown at the end of the year, raising false impression in the minds of rate-payers who are apt to regard these balances as savings made at their expense. I strongly recommend periodical inspection of the district works by competent Engineers, and that some additional facilities for passing estimates be given to Superintending Engineers.

12. Additions and alterations in the budget estimate.—There were certain additions and alterations in the budget estimate, and a supplementary budget was submitted to the Commissioner in each case for sanction.

13. Working of road cess system.—I would here review the working of the road cess system during the year. The total demand and collection for the year on account of cess on lands is detailed below :—

Demand for the year.	Collection for the year.
Rs.	Rs.
1,08,124	99,300

out of Rs. 14,869, outstanding balance on the 30th September 1877, Rs. 14,117, was collected within the year. The collection on account of current demand amounts to Rs. 99,300, thus leaving an outstanding arrear of Rs. 8,824 at the end of the year. There was some improvement in collection during the year in question, the collection having amounted to 91 per cent. as compared with 87 per cent. of the preceding year. The reason assigned by the Collector for collection falling short of 95 per cent. as required by Government is that he was forbidden by the Commissioner to attach money tendered for payment of land revenue on account of arrears of road cess in which certificate had been already issued. A great part of the arrear is, however, due to the laxness in the treasury in demanding the road cess at time of payment of kist. This has however now been remedied, and collections are improving, though owing to the minute sub-divisions of land here, and the fact that the issue of a certificate entails two months and more delay in collection, makes the points of the collection in this case a difficult one, and no certainty of collection will enventuate until road cess arrears are recoverable by sale of the defaulting estates.

Process fees are now being levied on the defaulters under Board's order for realization of arrears. I anticipate some better results this year from this measure. There were, however, many obstinate defaulters, who withhold payment till the day fixed for the sale of their property. A sum of Rs. 627-14-9 was realized last year for cess on malikana.

House cess.—Under Board's order the collection under this head has been postponed since April 1878. The demand for the half-year was Rs. 2,303, out of which Rs. 1,385 was collected, leaving an arrear balance of Rs. 918 out of Rs. 746, unrealized balance of preceding year, Rs. 494 was realized during the year. The canoongoes of each sub-division were entrusted with the collection of house cess, and they report that owing to their employment on license tax assessments, and the tax-payers also being busy in filing objections, the realization of house cess fell into arrears. However orders have been issued for speedy collection of the arrears within the present cold weather. The Collector further adds that the working of the road cess system was on the whole satisfactory except as regards the means for enforcing collection. The cause of low collections on house cess is also owing in most cases to imperfect assessment. The management of the collection has been made over to Mr. C. A. Samuells, Joint Magistrate and Deputy Collector, from the present year. I hope to see a vast improvement under his management at the end of the year.

15. Branch Committees.—Liberal grants of Rs. 10,000 and Rs. 5,000 were respectively allotted to the branch committees of Begoosarai and Jamui. I regret that the committees could not expend the total amount allotted to them. However a fair proportion of the assignment has been expended by each. I have drawn the attention of the Chairman to Government circular No. 32 of 27th September 1873, and efforts will be made by them to carry out its instruction. It will be seen from the Begoosarai Branch Committee's report that the indigo planters in that sub-division take special interest in the Branch Committee's work, and most of the road works have been executed by them. In the Jamui sub-division the Chairman reports that one of the members of his committee, who was entrusted with the execution of certain works has spent about Rs. 150 from his own pocket, in addition to the amount made over to him from the branch committee's fund. I cannot however but comment on the fact that the offer of the committee to give half the amount for any village road provided the remaining half be paid up by the inhabitants, and that they guarantee to do all petty repairs afterwards has met with no response. The village roads that have been made have been made chiefly on the representation of the Collector himself.

16. Way of doing work.—The works are carried out under the superintendence of the engineering staff appointed by the committee. The works are chiefly done by contract given out of the public advertisement in the newspapers. Petty works are sometimes executed by daily labour, but to a very small extent. No work is taken in hand for which provision has not been made in the budget. Strict attention is also paid that no work should exceed the budget provision. If in any case it becomes impossible to adhere to the budget grant, an application is made to the Commissioner for the transfer of grant from the saving to any other head, or from the reserve fund against which a considerable amount is annually kept aside for emergent and extraordinary works.

17. Inspection of works by Superintending Engineer and Executive Engineer.—The Superintending Engineer and the Executive Engineer visited this district last year, and I believe they have inspected a good many roads of this district. But no report has been received on the subject in this office.

18 Opinion of the people towards the cess.—The opinion of the people remaining unchanged. They (except perhaps the cartmen who dont as a rule pay cess at all) would much rather have no roads if they could thereby escape the payment of the tax. At the same time they pay as soon as ever they find that they can evade payment no longer.

19. Relation between Chairman and District Engineer.—I have found the District Engineer energetic and careful, and always ready to comply with any suggestion that I make to him. I am happy to say that the roads have improved a good deal since my incumbency.

20. Annual Accounts.—The annual accounts were audited by a special sub-committee comprised of Messrs. C. A. Samuells, J. Thomas and Baboo Gunga Pershad. Their report was favorable and the state of the books and system of working was approved of by them.

21. The Executive Engineer of the Bhagulpore division attended every meeting held during the year. He was present in the meeting held for framing the budget estimates.

22. Office.—The office was inspected by Mr. F. Moore, Deputy Examiner of Public Works Accounts, who reported the accounts and the manner in which they were kept to be satisfactory. A copy of his report is enclosed. The District Engineer's office was also inspected by the said officer and reported to be satisfactory.

23. I now come to the works that were carried out during the year. The year opened with a large balance of Rs. 65,360 owing to certain works provided in the preceding year's budget, including amongst others the Tirhoot road schemes, not having been taken in hand, their estimates and plans not having been sanctioned. The total receipts of the year from several sources were Rs. 1,17,374. This makes a total of Rs. 1,82,734 available for expenditure during 1877-78. The total expenditure on works, establishments, tools and plant, &c., amounted to Rs. 1,12,972, as will appear from the annual accounts submitted. Of the amount, Rs. 86,897, expended on works, Rs. 72,687 were spent by the committee's own engineering staff, and Rs. 14,209 by civil officers and private persons. The total amount spent on several establishments did not exceed one-fourth of the committee's entire income for the year.

24. Original Works.—Of the principal and most important original work taken in hand last year was the completion of Secundra to Newada road. The work was performed under wholesale contract by Mr. J. H. Floyd at Rs. 26,000. The work was expected to be completed within the year, but on account of the rains a small portion of the work remained unfinished. Rs. 23,015 have already been spent on this road during the year. It will open a very direct and short communication between this and the Gya district.

25. Rs. 4,007 has been spent in the construction of Luckheserai to Balgoozur road. This road has been completed and it will serve as a railway feeder road, and open traffic to the Luckheserai railway station. It has been constructed with a view to railway traffic.

26. The five miles of Kugra road has been metalled during the year at a cost of Rs. 1,027. This road also serves as a feeder to Kugra railway station, and the traffic on it is heavy.

27. The next important work which calls for notice was the completion of the road cess office building. The building has been completed at a cost of Rs. 2,370, and all the offices under the committee have been accommodated in it. A separate estimate was made for supplying glazed doors to the office building, which has also been carried out at a cost of Rs. 281-4.

28. Rs. 1,919 was spent in metalling the road from Burriarpore to Ghoreghat. The most part of the road was metalled in other years; only that portion has been completed which was left unfinished last year.

29. That portion of Luckheserai to Jamui road, which lies within the limits of Luckheserai bazar, has been metalled during the year at a cost of Rs. 1,198. The state of this road was very bad, owing to the continual heavy traffic, especially of stone carts from the quarries. The completion of the work will be of immense benefit to traders. A sum of Rs. 1,353 has been expended in completing the metalling of Seetacoond and Pirpahar roads. These two roads are now in good order.

30. A sum of Rs. 3,000 has been charged against Sherepore to Shugwanpore road. The amount was spent in the preceding year, but adjustment having been made last year the amount has been exhibited in the last year's annual account. This work was executed by Mr. E. MacNaughten of Begooserai, one of the members of the committee.

31. Tree planting.—A fair amount has been spent last year in planting trees on the several district roads. The District Engineer has been requested to comply with the instructions of the circular recently received.

32. Repairs.—A grant of Rs. 57,079 was made last year for carrying out repairs of several roads within the district. The amount expended in each will be seen from the annual accounts.

33. The establishment under the District Engineer has worked well, as will appear from his report.

34. The following is a memorandum of the works proposed to be undertaken during the present cess year, 1878-79.

Rs. 20,000 has been provided in the current year's budget for bridging the Luckheserai to Secundra road. The work has been let out in contract to Mr. J. H. Floyd. An estimate amounting to Rs. 17,656 has been sanctioned by Government for the construction of bridges on the Sheikpoorah to Luckheserai road, and Rs. 17,000 has been provided in the current year's budget for this work. This work has also been given in contract to Mr. J. H. Floyd. The following works have also been budgetted to be undertaken during the present year, and their estimates have been submitted for Government sanction:—

		Rs.
1.	Constructing Sheikpoorah to Shaikopoora road ...	8,000
2.	Raising Bheembund or Khurrukpore to Gungta road ...	13,000
3.	Constructing bridges on Sheikpoorah to Secundra road ...	8,000
4.	Ditto on Beerbeegah road	8,000

I doubt whether the committee will be in a position to start these works this year unless sanction is received before the working season is over.

35. In addition, Rs. 5,800 has been provided for completing Secundra to Newada road and Rs. 6,000 for planting trees on the district roads.

36. A liberal grant of Rs. 41,667 has been made for carrying out repairs of the several roads, and Rs. 12,000 have been allotted for repairing the village roads in each of the three sub-divisions, viz.—

		Rs.
Sudder		2,000
Begooserai		5,000
Jamui		5,000
	Total ...	12,000

37. Copies of the reports and statements received from the branch committees of Jamui and Begooserai also accompany.

Dated Monghyr, the 21st November 1878.

From—C. A. SAMUELLS, Esq., Vice-Chairman of the Audit Committee, District Road Cess Committee, Monghyr,

To—The Chairman, District Road Committee, Monghyr.

WE, the Committee appointed under section 88 of the Road Cess Act, have the honor to submit the accounts of the District Road Fund for the year ending 30th September 1878, together with our report thereon.

We examined the vouchers and compared them with details of cash book. The monthly cash-book and treasury officer's balance as shown in pass book correspond.

This pass book is kept by the Vice-Chairman who also has the current cheque book in his own hands.

The vouchers are all properly receipted and marked with a "paid" stamp.

The Committee remark that the imprest of Rs. 2,000 seems unusually and unnecessarily large.

The Vice-Chairman also complains that he has much trouble in checking and distributing the imprest account under the various heads; many of the details are not seldom found to be unauthorized charges. The sub-committee are of opinion that the imprest should be applied in payment of petty expenses and contingencies, and that it should not be used to meet expenses on bridge and road-making, especially when the contract system is so largely employed:—

	Yearly accounts. Rs.
Estimated receipts	1,18,201
Actual ditto	1,17,374

The amount of Rs. 1,354, due last year on account of ferries, was paid in during this year:—

	Rs.
The estimated cess on lands for 1877-78	1,08,124
Balance due	14,869
Cash in hand, 1st October 1877	58,594
Advances	6,765

EXPENDITURE.

THE vouchers are consecutively filed for each month according to the head of payment; they are then kept in a bound book; they are all complete.

Some of the contractors appear to be very late in bringing in their bills. In one instance a bill passed on the 29th January 1878 was not presented for payment till 6th April, and another dated 29th February not presented before 6th April 1878. The sub-committee are of opinion that some reason should be furnished. If this is owing to the delay in obtaining sanction it would be as well if either the work was not taken in hand till sanction was obtained, or that immediate sanction be obtained for advance payment in anticipation, otherwise there will be difficulty in getting people to undertake the work.

Out of actual receipts and previous year's balance in hand, Rs. 1,32,735, Rs. 1,12,972 was expended as follows :—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Original works	46,077	5	7
Repairs	40,820	5	2
Collection and Committee's establishment	6,262	10	4
Enquiring establishment	19,678	7	7
Tools and plant	133	4	0
Total ...	1,12,972	0	8

The accounts seem to have been carefully kept by the clerk, Nil Comal Bhuttacharjee, who has been rewarded by an increase of pay since October 1878.

Extract from the Proceedings of a meeting of the Road Cess Committee held on the 30th November 1878.

PARA. 2.—Approved also the annual accounts and report as presented by the sub-committee.

As regards the sub-committee's remarks on delay in submitting contractor's bill and its cause, the committee are of opinion that unnecessary delay occurs in obtaining sanction to important works from which two evils result. Either the work has to be done in anticipation, thus causing hardship to contractors, or a large sum of money remains unexpended at the end of the year. The existence of this large balance affords rate-payers an excuse for objecting to the rate when it is really due to the committee being powerless to expend the money and not to their inability to do so.

From consideration of the sub committee's report, a discussion arose as to the comparative proportion of establishment to expenditure on works.

Considering the work is all done by contract, the committee consider that it may become necessary to revise the present system. No definite scheme being proposed, the subject was dropped.

No. 304, dated Monghyr, the 24th October 1878.

From—A. V. ROBERTS, ESQ., District Engineer, Monghyr,
To—The Chairman of the District Road Committee, Monghyr.

AGREEABLY to the instructions conveyed in Bengal Government circular letter No. 8A, of the 4th February last, received with your memorandum No. 142R of 19th February 1878, I have the honor to submit herewith my annual accounts for the year 1877-78 in the prescribed form and beg to report as follows :—

Sultangunge and Arjusgunge road.—This road joins the Bhagulpore and Monghyr district. It was not in a good state when I joined the district, but is now passable. The work was nearly completed last year; the sum of Rs. 88-6 has been spent on it this year. This is one of the important roads of the district. I proposed that the portion in my charge be metalled, but as there was not sufficient funds to meet the expenditure I have to wait till next year. The completion of this road has facilitated the traffic.

Peerpahar and Sitakoond road.—These two were kutcha roads, but since my incumbency I have metalled them. These roads are often frequented by the members of the Road Cess Committee and by the holiday-makers and pilgrims, and I am happy to note that those who have passed over them have unanimously expressed a favorable opinion, and these roads are kept in good repair throughout the year.

I am indebted to the overseer in charge for the good state of the roads and for the energetic arrangements he makes for all his works. A sum of Rs. 1,353-7 has been spent on these roads and the roads have been completed.

Gungta road.—This road was finished last year, but Rs. 1,374-4-8, an arrear payment, has been charged, and Rs. 67-8 has also been charged for contingencies on works. The completion of bridges has made the road permanent and fit for traffic all the year round. The road joins the Mullapore and Barriarpore railway station and has heavy traffic over it. As this part of the country is hilly metalling is not at all necessary. A few years back people had much difficulty to travel over this part of the country on account of the bad state of the road.

Kujrah road, 5 miles metalling.—This portion of the Kujrah road was left unfinished by my predecessor, and on my taking over charge an estimate was submitted and passed.

The work has been satisfactorily completed, and it is passable throughout the year. I was over this road on my inspection tour and have found it in good order. It starts from Kujrah villages and ends at Soorjgurrah. Rs. 1,027 have been spent on it.

The road has heavy traffic over it as Soorjgurrah is a great grain market; hundreds of carts pass over the road daily.

Balgooder road.—This road was constructed at the request of the Railway Company and it was completed last year. Rs. 3,993-14-5 have been charged this year on account of arrear payment and also Rs. 13-8 for contingencies on work.

The completion of the road has increased the traffic considerably. The Railway Company have built a good shed which they promised provided the road was constructed. This benefits the East Indian Railway Company and the carters.

Mullapore to Jamui road.—This estimate was framed by me in March and sanctioned in June 1876. Almost all the works were finished in the following year. Rs. 442-3-3 have been expended during the current year. This road starts from the Mullapore railway station and terminates at the Jamui bazar. The road is now complete except the two largest openings, viz., the Koel and Auzam rivers, the bridging of which the road cess cannot afford to meet as the expenditure would be heavy. Two splendid boats have been constructed and they work during the rainy season. The road is of much importance and has heavy traffic over it. Some officials have been over this road, and I am glad to learn that they expressed a very favourable opinion of it.

Ghoreghât road.—This was commenced last year and has since been completed. This is a continuation of the Bhagulpore road and has heavy traffic all the year round and joins the Khurruckpore road. There are few wooden bridges, which I propose next year to pull down and build in bricks. Rs. 1,919-15-11 have been spent this year.

Raising Lukheeserai to Jamui road.—The raising was almost finished last year, but as there was sufficient saving in the estimate and some waterway having been found necessary, I have constructed them. This road is in a good state though it is kutcha. It connects the Luckheserai and Mullapore stations.

I have been over this road often and found it has a heavy foot passenger traffic. Rs. 793-3 have been spent on it this year.

Constructing office buildings.—Hitherto the road cess officers occupied the Government buildings, but at the request of the present Chairman a new building has been constructed at a cost of Rs. 2,370-6-2, and the road cess offices have removed to it in February 1878.

Bridging Secundra road.—This work was completed last year, and a sum of Rs. 12-8 has been charged this year on account of contingencies; the construction of the bridges have made the road passable throughout the year and the bridges have stood well.

Bridging Nowadah road.—This work has been let out to an energetic contractor, Mr. J. H. Floyd, who signed the agreement in September last.

There has been considerable delay in taking up the last three miles of land and on account of unexpected and untimely heavy rains the works have been much retarded. The completion of this road will join the Monghyr and Gya district and open up the traffic. I do not doubt that the road will be finally finished this year. The completion of this road will benefit the pilgrims to and from Gya to Monghyr, and there will be every facility in the import and export of pulses, &c. This estimate was framed at the special request of the Commissioner. Rs. 23,015-0-2 have been spent on this work, and the remaining amount will be expended this year.

Metalling Lukheeserai bazar road.—This is a portion of the Lukheeserai to Jamui road and it was metalled at the request of the Magistrate, who found the work necessary. The metalling of the road is finished. Rs. 1,198-11-1 have been spent on this work.

Glazed doors for office building.—The hot winds and dust made it impossible to work in the hot weather, so I applied for glass doors for the new office buildings, and sanction having been obtained the doors have been procured and fixed. The amount of expenditure is Rs. 281-4 including all charges.

Planting Trees.—Rs. 4,250-14-3 have been spent on this and the planting is progressing fairly.

Repair work.—I do not consider it necessary to report on road by road on repair works as I have previously reported on them, but submit a list of all which have been repaired, showing the amount expended on each road, viz.—

I beg to state that the above roads have been thoroughly repaired for the past year, and as most of them are kutcha yearly repair is necessary, for which estimates have been passed by the committees and work has been commenced this month. I have issued strict orders to my subordinates to open out all roads before the 15th proximo, and I have commenced my tour from the middle of the month. All the repair works have been let out to piece-workers, and I expect to get the work done quick. The metalled portions have been ordered to be done by task work. In conclusion I beg to report on the working of my establishment:—

Mr. H. S. Phillippe, Supervisor, is a hard-working man, but more practical experience would be beneficial to the works.

Munshi Moneeruddin, Overseer, is an energetic and painstaking officer, understands his work thoroughly, and I have seldom occasion to be displeased with him since he has been under me.

Baboo Avinash Chunder Champati, Sub-Overseer, has lately come out from college and has much to learn, but he is a willing officer.

Mohendro Nath Sen and Gopal Chunder Ghuttack.—The minor establishments have worked satisfactorily during the past road cess year.

Accountant is painstaking and has carried out his duties to my entire satisfaction, and the Deputy Controllers, on their annual inspection tours, have made very good reports on the working of my office, for which great credit is due to my Accountant, Baboo Mothoora Lall Shome.

No. 3RC, dated Begoosarai, the 22nd October 1878.

From—E. W. HARRIS, ESQ., Chairman of the Branch Road Cess Committee,

To—The Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Monghyr.

IN reply to your No. 6R. of the 14th October 1878, I have the honor to send herewith a report on the condition, construction and reparation of the roads and the workings of the Road Cess Committee, together with other particulars concerning it, during the cess year ending 30th September 1878.

I have also annexed four statements with regard to the members and the working of the Committee.

		Rs.	A.	P.
The balance of the last cess year in the hands of the Branch Road Cess Committee amounted to Rs. 1,322-4	...	1,322	4	0
The present allotment of the year 1877-78 was Rs. 10,000	...	10,000	0	0
Total	...	11,322	4	0
Rs. 5,543-1-3 were expended during the current cess year	...	5,543	1	3
The remaining Rs. 5,779-2-9 lapsed to Government	...	5,779	2	9
Total	...	11,322	4	0

During the current year 1877-78 under report Rs. 5,543-1-3 were expended in the reparation of the several undermentioned roads.

Rupees 1,040 was made over to Mr. L. J. Crowdy, of Majhoul factory, for repairing these roads by the late Deputy Collector, Moulvie Abdul Hye.

1. Majhoul to Basi,
2. Seorighat to Paktoul,
3. Pahsora to Parihara,
4. Manjhol to Gurpura,
5. Ditto to Sissoni,
6. Pahrora to Gameria.

Rupees 1,150 was advanced by Moulvie Abdul Hye to Mr. W. S. Crowdy, of Bhugwanpore factory, for repairing roads noted on the margin.

1. Paktoul Ghât to Rasidpore,
2. Bhugwanpore to Barriarpore,
3. Jagdispore to Rampore,
4. Paktoul Ghât to Simeria.
5. Bhugwanpore to Nunpore river,
6. Ditto to Paktoul,
7. Ditto to Narhurpore.
8. Paktoul to Hajipore.

Rupees 555 was made over to Mr. C. Crowdy of Begooserai, for repairing these roads.

1. Naoranga to Simeria Ghât,
2. Nagolli to Babhungawan,
3. Begooserai to Loop road,
4. Ditto to Pahsora.
5. Paspara to Bhawanipore. (Khurrumpore in the annual statement.)

2. The abovenamed European members voluntarily offered to undertake the reparation of the roads, and consequently the money was made over to them for the purpose.

3. I took charge of the sub-division a few months ago. I could not get sufficient time to supervise the road and scrutinize the works they had undertaken. I, however, think from the other facts that the money made over to them was properly spent, and that the works were duly carried out. I promise to superintend the roads already repaired during my cold-weather tour. I shall report the result of my supervision separately.

Phulbaria road.—Rupees 20-9-9 was advanced to Moulvie Abdul Wahab, Manager of Phulbaria Estate, for repairing the road. Of late a petition of the manager asking for Rs. 26-15-3, being the balance of amount for repairing half a mile of pucka road, was received, but the committee did not comply with his request as the members expressed that he had received more than enough.

Begooserai Bazar Road.—Rupees 2,777 was made over to contractor Ram Coomar Mitter for metalling Begooserai bazar road. The inhabitants, passengers as well as amlahs, felt much inconvenience on account of the bad state of the road during the rainy season. This was a work of great benefit to the public.

The amount of money incurred in the expenditure was properly spent.

Transaction of Committee's business.—There were four meetings in this cess year against two in the last year.

The average attendance and the number of meetings is more satisfactory than during the last year. The members have been little more regular during the year, particularly Europeans, who do take interest in the matter of public weal, but some of the native members never attended the meetings. However, I have at present sufficient number of able members for the efficient working of the road cess committee. I received much assistance from Assistant Surgeon Upendro Nath Sen in the transaction of the business, and I hope to be able to get the resident natives to take a little more interest in the matter. Mr. C. Crowdy, of Begooserai factory, has left the district, and his place has been taken by Mr. J. W. King (vide 8th August notification of Government of Bengal, No. 3676Ct., conveyed with your No. 362R of 20th August 1878).

Notice of Meetings.—The proviso of section 57 had been duly served in the execution of notices.

Quorum.—In two of the four meetings only were six members present, the number requisite to form a quorum.

E. W. HARRIS,
Chairman of the Begooserai Branch Road Committee.

No. 21R, dated Camp Mirzapore, the 20th November 1878.

From—S. C. HAMPTON, ESQ., Chairman, Branch Road Committee, Jamui,
To—The Chairman of the District Road Committee, Monghyr.

As desired in your No. 25C of the 31st October 1878, I have the honor to submit a report of the proceedings of the Branch Road Committee of Jamui.

2. There were four meetings of the branch committee held during the year 1877-78. The average attendance of the members was fifty per cent.; two members, Nawab Hadi Hossen Khan and Hakim Abdool Huq, attended no meeting; the former of these died in the latter part of the year after a long illness; the latter did not appear to care to attend and I would suggest that his name be removed from the list of members, and that Lalla Jugurnath Sahai be appointed in his stead. I beg to recommend the appointment of Nawab Mahomed Ally Khan, of Sheikpoorah, in place of Nawab Hadi Hossen Khan, deceased.

3. Four statements, showing particulars of meetings, &c., are herewith submitted.

4. The work on the Sheikpoorah to Hossenabad road is said to be nearly completed. A bridge has been made over the Hossenabad pyne. Rs. 1,500 have been expended by Diwan Shewsahai Lall on the road from Girhimdah to Hossenabad. This line of road has been disapproved by the Magistrate, as he does not consider it necessary when there is a road from Sheikpoorah to Hossenabad. I shall visit both lines of road when my camp reaches Sheikpoorah, and will report which of the two roads is in best condition, and which should be kept up. The earthwork of the Luchwar to Secundra road is laid down, but bridges are required, for which an estimate will be made and submitted.

Rupees 800 allowed last year for the Jamui to Khyrah road; only Rs. 100 has been expended. A dispute between the Rajah of Khyrah and Moharajah of Gidhour as to the line the road should take has delayed the work. I personally with Rajah Ramnarian Singh and Shewpershad Singh inspected the ground, and we settled upon a line of road.

The Canoongoe has been deputed to draw out an estimate of the probable cost, which estimate will be submitted when received.

5. At none of the meetings do any of the members represent that any sum should be allowed for petty village works, nor were any application received for allotment of such sums for such works. In my cold-weather tour I shall note any petty work that may be advantageously constructed by any zemindar or headman in any village, and report the same. At the last meeting I particularly asked the members to suggest any petty village works that might with advantage be taken up; but the members seemed to be unprepared to suggest any.

Rs. 500 has been advanced in September 1878, consequently there appears a large balance outstanding against this party.

Explanatory Memo. about the difference between the figures sanctioned in the budget estimate and the amount expended.

Establishment on control and collection.—The amount expended in paying the salaries of accountants clerks, mohurirs, &c., has exceeded the budgetted amount, and it was owing to September's salary having been drawn within that month on account of Dusserah vacation. In cases of cess collectors and peons the expenditure is less than the amount provided in the budget. These establishments being temporary, they are not always entertained, and consequently savings are effected in the budget estimate.

Contingencies on control and collection.—The expenditure on this head was in excess of the budget provision; but sanction has been obtained for extra allotment in the budget to meet the extra expenditure. The excess expenditure was incurred in paying to Government the value of stationery and forms, &c., cost for printing reports and returns in the Calcutta Gazette.

Original works.—Road No. 19.—Rupees 27,500 was budgetted for with a view to complete the work within the year; but for some unavoidable reasons stated in the administration report the work could not be finished, nor the total amount expended; hence saving effected in the budget.

Road No. 6, Luckeeserai Bazar road.—As the work was finished with the amount shown as expenditure in the annual return, there is saving in the estimate.

Road No. 29.—The direction of the road for which estimate was framed having been changed and the old line constructed, considerable savings were effected in the estimate.

Road No. 2.—The same remarks as in road No. 6 applies to this road.

Road No. 8.—The same remarks as in road No. 6 applies to this road.

Road No. 10.—The same remarks as in road No. 6 applies to this road.

Road No. 6.—The same remarks as in road No. 6 applies to this road.

Road No. 11.—The same remarks as in road No. 6 applies to this road.

Planting Trees.—There is excess expenditure on this work, which was owing to the salaries of mallees and peons employed on planting for September 1878 having been paid within that month, on account of Doorga Poojah holidays.

Repairs.—The amount annually budgetted for repairs of several district roads are merely approximate amount. The estimated amount put down in last year's budget was thought to be expended during the year in carrying out necessary repairs; but in the course of completion the total amount budgetted for each road was not found necessary in all cases, and consequently savings effected in certain roads.

In some roads the budget amount was exceeded, sanction was obtained for extra allotment by supplementary budget.

It cannot be always expected that the actual amount budgetted for should be spent, nor is it possible to frame an accurate estimate of the cost in cases of repair estimates.

Establishment.—The difference between the budget grants and the amount expended in paying the several establishments is on account of salary of all establishments for September 1878 having been paid within that month, and also the scale of establishment budgetted for not having been fully entertained.

C. A. SAMUELLS, Vice-Chairman, District Road Cess Committee, Monghyr.

No. 86R, dated Monghyr, the 16th January 1879.

From—C. A. SAMUELLS, Esq., Vice-Chairman of the District Road Committee, Monghyr,

To—The Commissioner of the Bhagulpore Division.

WITH reference to your No. 408PW of the 19th ultimo, I have the honor to submit herewith revised annual accounts, Parts I and II, as called for therein, and to explain as follows the discrepancies noticed by you.

2. Part I.—Receipts, sales of produce and stores, miscellaneous.—The discrepancies noticed against these heads are owing to transfer of amount from one heading to another. Rs. 10, sale proceeds of an old bungalow, was shown in the quarterly return against heading "Miscellaneous receipts," whereas in the annual accounts it was charged as "Sale of produce and stores."

3. The entries of half pies have been struck off from the return.

4. The revised return has been prepared according to the prescribed form of the Government.

5. Part II.—Receipts.—The receipts under the head "Miscellaneous, of produce stores" have been separated.

The increase of revenue under these heads, as compared with the amount put down in the budget, is thus explained. The receipt under these heads always being uncertain an imaginary amount of Rs. 150 was budgetted last year as probable receipt for the year; but there was much increase in the actual receipt owing to Rs. 3,634 having been remitted by the Collector as contribution from Government estates, and a considerable amount having been received as sale proceeds of grass, firewood, &c., as well as talabanna and searching fees of road cess collection office. There was increase in revenue against this head in comparison with the amount budgetted for. As the budget estimate of District Road Fund was framed long before the commencement of official year, consequently the actual amount to be collected as toll collection cannot possibly be put down in the budget, the toll bars being farmed according to official year. The average of previous years are therefore always shown in the budget.

6. Explanation as to the difference between these figures, budgetted for, and the amount expended under each head of expenditure, has been furnished in a separate sheet accompanying the return.

7. The salary of establishment for September 1878 was paid within the month of September on account of Dusserah vacation, consequently 13 months' pay has been exhibited in the annual return.

8. Rs. 1,621-12-10 and Rs. 112 respectively have been entered in the column of "budget amount" against headings "Establishment charges of Accountant-General's Office" and "Salary of boatmen on Anjum and Kul rivers."

9. Rates of salary drawn by the punkha pullers and duftries and sweepers, &c., have been furnished in the revised return.

10.—The distinguishing numbers of village roads are given; but the amount expended on each village road in the Begoosarai sub-division cannot be given now as the Chairman of the Branch Committee has not furnished this information.

The Chairman has been requested to supply this, and it will be forwarded to you when received.*

* Since been received and submitted.

11. The total of Rs. 33,061-0-6 as shown in the return, is correct. There was an omission of Re. 1 in one of the items which has been rectified.

12. The cost for planting trees on each road cannot be furnished for last year as no separate account was kept for this. From the present year it has been done so, and future returns will embody such details.

13. There is no such original work except "planting trees," the total estimated cost of which has been shown as double of the amount shown in the previous years' returns. Complete estimate for this work not having been framed, the amount budgetted last year and in previous years were summed up and shown as "total estimated cost of the work." Explanation as to the difference between the figures budgetted for and the actual amount expended in payment of several establishments has been furnished separately.

14. All other points noticed by you have been attended to in preparing the revised return.

No. 119, dated Bhagulpore, the 19th February 1879.

From—H. J. NEWBERY, ESQ., Chairman, District Road Fund Committee, Bhagulpore,
To—The Commissioner of the Bhagulpore Division.

I HAVE the honor to submit the following report of the operations of the district committee during the past year:—

Committee.—There was a slight alteration made in the constitution of the committee. In previous reports there had been occasion to point out that in consequence of this district being generally without a Joint Magistrate, and the District Superintendent of Police and Executive Engineer being unable to attend meetings very regularly, the official element was comparatively low at meetings. To remedy this the committee was recast by having five instead of four ex-officio members on it, the Deputy Collector in charge of road cess collections being added to the list.

Change of constitution.

Appointments.—There were four vacancies filled up during the year, and three of the gentlemen, who had already been on the committee for two years, were re-appointed under section 49. Their names will be found in the annexed table:—

NAMES OF MEMBERS.	Designation.	Date of reappointment.
H. J. Newbery, Esq.	Magistrate and Chairman	January 1877.
C. E. Marindin, Esq.	Senior Covenanted Officer under the Magistrate
Rajah Hurbullub Narain Singh	Zemindar

T. Griffith, Esq.	Manager, indigo concern
W. Connan	Executive Engineer
Major W. Hume	District Superintendent of Police and Vice-Chairman
Baboo Chunder Narain Singh	Road Cess Deputy Collector and Vice-Chairman
M. B. Morrison, Esq.	Landholder	1st February 1878.
Baboo Juddoo Nath Sircar	Ditto and Pleader
„ Tez Narain	Ditto ditto
T. Curtis, Esq.	Manager, indigo concern	Ditto ditto (1st appointment).
W. St. Clair Grant, Esq.	Ditto ditto
Roy Thakoor Man Sing	Zemindar

Meetings.—Only four meetings were held during the year, two of which were presided over by my locum tenens, Mr. Kemble. This apparently compares unfavourably with the previous year, but apart from the fact of their having been fewer questions of importance to require the more frequent convocation of meetings, a great deal of business was transacted by circulating papers for the consideration of the members at their leisure without unnecessarily trenching upon their time.

This was found to answer admirably. Each member read through the various propositions quietly at home, and recorded his written opinion. These written opinions were collected by the Chairman, and a much more definite result obtained than would have been at a dozen meetings, where, as a rule, discussion is liable to be very desultory.

The following table will show the attendance at each meeting :—

COMMISSIONERSHIP.	DISTRICT.	NUMBER OF MEMBERS FORMING THE COMMITTEE.			Number of meetings held.	Meetings at which there was no quorum.	Average attendance at meetings. BHAGULPORE ...	Bhagulpore ..	4	10	4	4	Nil	6·5	3	1	3	...	1	2	3	46·4

Roy Thakoor Man Sing, of Sookpore, was the only member who did not attend a single meeting, and though he took care to excuse himself by letter on the occasion of every meeting, yet I have been given to understand that age, ignorance of English, and the distance to be travelled are the real causes which make him unwilling to attend. I shall be prepared to recommend his removal as soon as he thinks proper to resign. He will be much more at home as member of the Soopole Branch Committee, where the proceedings are carried on in the vernacular especially as Soopole is but five miles from his home, all the other members, I am glad to say, have as usual evinced a lively and intelligent interest in the business of the committee, and I would especially offer my thanks to the following non-official members :—

Baboo Soorjee Narain Singh,
„ Juddoo Nath Sircar, „ Tez Narain.

Vice-Chairmanship.—The Vice-Chairman's office was held up to June by Major Hume, District Superintendent of Police. On his leaving the district, Baboo Chunder Narain Sing was elected to succeed him, and he held the office throughout the remainder of the year. Major Hume's particular line was to ride about the roads and give me every information about their condition ; Baboo Chunder Narain Sing's part was the accounts and internal regulation of the business. But we found that, in addition to both these excellent qualities, we wanted some professional knowledge to guide us in our dealings with our Engineer; we have consequently elected the Executive Engineer, Mr. Connan, as Vice-Chairman.

Review of the year.—The meeting, under section 70, for considering the estimate of income and expenditure for the year 1877-78, was held on the 30th July, and the following estimates were passed :—

The above estimate having received your sanction, the committee in their next meeting, held on the 30th August, declared the maximum rate of cess as leviable during the year 1877-78.

The actual balance on hand on the 1st October 1877 was Rs. 21,759-6-5 ; the receipts of the year amounted to Rs. 1,33,044-11-1, and the expenditure, as detailed below, amounted to Rs. 85,448-3-5, leaving a balance of Rs. 69,355-14-1 on the 30th September 1878 :—

The progress report of the District Engineer, a copy of which is herewith enclosed, will show in detail the present state of each road, and the amount of work that has been already done. I have in my cold-weather tour report had occasion to speak generally in favourable terms of the roads already traversed by me in the south of the district. But in the first place, as a non-professional, my opinion is of little value. A little temporary hatching up would easily deceive my unprofessional eye; and moreover, I did not see these roads last year, so I am unable to say if they have improved or retrograted since. I should have been glad if the District Engineer had favoured me with his views and experiences in a more succinct form than the tables and figured statements from which he has left me to glean them, and I should have called upon him to furnish the usual report*, but that it is now too late to wait for it any longer. The report of the Soopool Branch Committee is not yet to hand, and those from Banka and Mudehpoorah being as usual meagre, I am unable to make my own report as full and interesting as I could wish. I have only to remark that the portion of the district to the north of the Ganges is at present the one where the largest projects are awaiting to be carried out, the delay, as I have had occasion to explain in previous correspondence, being almost exclusively due to our schemes not receiving the Superintending Engineer's approval as soon as could be wished, and thus up to this time our establishments have generally been occupied with unimportant repairs and small original works, when their time could more usefully be devoted to more important undertakings. It would be premature to enter into this subject more fully here. I await the Executive Engineer's report on the roads, when something decisive must be done; I am in no way satisfied with things as they are. There appears to me to be an absence of design and general direction in everything, e.g., a grass-grown road, on 20 miles of which I met one cart and five foot passengers, is being provided with masonry bridges. The whole road will probably be swept away within two or three years by the Kossi, per contra, a road over which 500 carts a day were passing, and which is safe during inundation, is provided with tar tree bridges which perish every year.

* Since received and enclosed herewith.

The office was inspected in June last by the Deputy Examiner of Public Works Accounts, Bengal. A copy of his inspection report was submitted to you, and you will find from it that he was well satisfied with the manner in which the books and accounts of this office have been kept up.

Conduct of officers. District Engineer and his subordinates.—There is a great want of both energy and discipline in the department. He appears to me to spend all his time in paper work and to do little or nothing. Chaprassees are insolent to road sircars; road sircars are insolent to overseers; overseers are insubordinate to the District Engineer, and half their time is spent in long frothy letters of complaint and counter-complaint.

Committee clerk.—A useful, hard-working officer.

In my last report the question of the relative suitability of departmental and contract work system was barely mooted. Hitherto works were generally carried on by departmental agency, and the District Engineer was decidedly in favour of this system.

The Deputy Examiner of Public Works Accounts and the Executive Engineer, on the other hand, seemed to be in favour of the contract system, which has been under trial during the past year. But I do not consider it has had a fair trial. The District Engineer and his subordinates have been so bitterly hostile to it that it had no chance of success.

The committee are unanimously in favour of it, and the District Engineer must either change towards it, or the committee must change its Engineer.

In my last year's report I took notice of the fact that our collecting establishments have also the sole charge of collecting the Public Works cess, and that it would be but fair on the part of Government to contribute towards the cost. As no steps have as yet been taken in this direction, I take this oppoitunity of requesting you to urge the matter again on Government. Section 90 of the Road Cess Act distinctly lays down several items on which road cess money may be expended, and I doubt whether it is legal to devote any portion thereof towards maintaining an establishment for other than pure road cess work.

In conclusion I have to express my warmest thanks for the assistance which the committee generally have rendered me in this important branch of administration. The individuals deserving particular notice have been named elsewhere.

No. 374, dated Bhagulpore, the 6th February 1879.

From—BABOO RAM RUTTUN MOJEMDAR, B.C.E., District Engineer, Bhagulpore, To—The Chairman, District Road Committee, Bhagulpore.

IN submitting the annual progress report (submitted to the Chairman's office with my No. 342 of 22nd January 1879) on the road cess works carried on during the past year in this district, I have the honor to make the following general remarks on the state of communications, the operation of the year, and the general result of the working of the road cess system, as called for in your office No. 94 of 29th January 1879.

2. Under the system in force, the operations of the committee are carried on through two agencies, viz. the agency of the District Engineer, through whom the more important works are executed, and the agency of branch road committees presided over by Sub-divisional Magistrates, through whom the less important works are done. The district is intersected by various lines of roads and tracks described in statements prepared and submitted under sections 66 and 68 of the Road Cess Act X of 1871, aggregating 984 miles in length, of which 506¼ miles (vide statement following) were worked upon by the District Engineer under the two heads of original and repair works, leaving 477¾ miles provided for by a grant of

Rs. 13,000 under a general head of village roads. Now, many of those roads and tracks, forming 477¾ miles as aforesaid, are important lines of communication used by the general traffic of the district, and occasionally by district officers on tour, and therefore require some agency to make them passable after the rainy season; but at present no such agency exists, and the result is that complaints are now and then made regarding them which cannot be remedied by the District Engineer, because he has no funds at his disposal for such purpose. I therefore beg to refer here to what I have been already urging, viz., that there should be a definite understanding as to what roads the branch committees will work on, which being known it should be decided which of the other roads should be repaired by the District Engineer, and they will be accordingly included in the budget submitted by me.

3. In my last year's report, paragraph 8, I referred to the ferries maintained at the expense of the Road Cess Committees. Under the various causes of improvement of roads and the increased traffic on the roads, the necessity of maintaining efficient ferries where bridges have not been built, and of regulating such as may be let out either by zemindars and the Road Cess Committee, is daily becoming felt. The ferries to which attention is solicited are noted in the margin.

The last six miles are cut up by the Kosay, and are not capable of being raised, but Chilchal work should be done after every rains.

Fourth class ...	.....	....	.....	.....	Supposed to be kept up by Branch Road Committee.

5. The foregoing list shows first, second, and third class roads so far as maintained during the last year, the fourth class being supposed to be left to the branch road committees. The Ganges and Mudehpore road seems to require some particular notice. During the last three years, and particularly during my late tour, I have examined the whole question, which stands thus—Where the road was first constructed a large number of jheels, more or less deep, existed along the line, but the Kossy being then away the country looked dry enough for running an embanked road. Directly this road was made the Kossy began to come near, or rather to send a dhar (stream) as a sort of feeler, which has been swamping and submerging the country about Phoolut, and running along the deep ditches of the road, causing thereby scours and breaches, on which many reports have already been submitted. But simultaneously with this annual swamping and its destructive effects on the road a gradual silting up of the jheels and the road-side ditches has been going on, also the result of which is that all along the road from Phoolut to Karama the country has become quite high and dry, excepting one small stream which, coming from the east, crosses the road at Phoolut. So far, therefore, there has been a change for the better, and it is quite possible now to repair the embankment, leaving sufficient waterway in the breaches for the passage of the flood, and by keeping boats in these gaps during the flood, and providing small loop roads during the fair weather, the necessary means of communication can be afforded throughout the year.

6. With regard to the original works, several causes tended to retard their progress on the Mudehpore and Shapore road. Cholera raged so fearfully that no progress could be made in burning bricks, and therefore progress in brick works was retarded. The other original works were delayed for want of sanction to the estimates, each of which was submitted and returned on dates noted below:—

Estimate for constructing bridges on Protabgunge to Beerpore ...	Date of first submission, 30th January 1877. Date of first return, 14th April 1877. Date of second submission, 26th September 1877. Date of second return, 19th November 1877. Date of third submission, 7th May 1878. Date of third return, 28th October 1878.
Estimate for constructing bridges on Peyara to Protabgunge ...	Date of first submission, 30th January 1877. Date of first return, 12th May 1877. Date of second submission, 31st July 1878. Date of second return, 23rd October 1878.

7. The Kea nullah project being one of more magnitude, the committee were asked, in this office No. 754 of 25th April 1878, to reconsider its necessity or otherwise, so that it does not come within the ordinary causes of delay.

8. The Government, in its circular No. 607 of 6th July 1878. held that district road projects need not be so elaborate as public works projects, and as there was no establishment to prepare all the data necessary for elaborate projects, I used the data afforded by the existing temporary bridges for the settlement of waterway, but the Superintending Engineer held that such data are not sufficient: hence the cause of the great delay in getting the projects sanctioned. The projects have, however, been again got ready with further surveys and sections, and will be submitted shortly.

9. During the past year, under orders of the superior authorities, the contract system of work was more fully introduced. Hitherto all works were carried on either by daily labour and piece-workers paid by imprest holders, or by piece-workers paid by the Chairman on certificates passed by the District Engineer. The former method was what is called departmental system, which is more suited to all petty works requiring constant supervision and detailed management, but as it requires a certain sum of money in the hands of subordinates, objection was taken to allowing such cash being placed in their hands. Consequently the system has been generally abandoned, but the rates at which work was hitherto done were low, being rates at which men without much capital could work; but under the contract system the contractors have to wait long before they get payment, and therefore they require a working capital, the interest of which requires increased rates.

Last inspection report of Deputy Examiner—Chairman's No. 366, dated 16th July 1878.
Commissioner's No. 235 of 12th July 1878.

10. In regard to the experience of the working of the road cess system, it seems to work well in regard to all minor works and repairs within the power of sanction vested in the Commissioner and Chairman; but beyond this the system is not calculated to expedite business. From the nature of things the approval of larger projects involving important professional questions must rest with an Engineer of mature judgment, or in other words with the Superintending Engineer, and the final sanction with the Chief Engineer and the Government as at present; but such approvals and sanctions at present are performed by virtue of the controlling authority vested in the Government, and not as an executive function. In the old system (immediately preceding the present system) districts were organized with a view to place all executive management, including preparation of projects and estimates, in the hands of the Public Works Department, the committee and the Chairman having authority and power of interference only as critics and as a controlling agency watching their own interests. In many respects this system was better. The departmental character remained intact, while local influences were brought to check its exclusiveness. Now the departmental character is gone, giving place to stagnation, while the local agencies cannot supply the want. Two remedies seem to suggest themselves:—

(1) The more important works may be made over to the Public Works Department. In this remedy the local knowledge of the District Engineer will go for nothing, while a double set of agency would be working at the same place; (2) The preparation of larger projects may be made over to the Public Works Department with such suggestions from the District Engineer as his local knowledge would enable him to give. In such a case the estimate being sanctioned by Government, the execution of the work could be entrusted to the District Engineer, and the inspection of any such works as are thus sanctioned could be left to the Superintending Engineer, or other Engineer authorized by Government, which inspection would be a very simple one and would not involve much time or labour.

No. 319, dated Banka, the 4th November 1878.

To—The Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Bhagulpore.

I HAVE the honor to submit my report on the local improvement in connection with the village roads under the branch road cess committee for the past year as follows:—

2. There were five members on the roll of the committee, viz. first, Manager of the Doomraon Factory; second, Baboo Chutterdhari Singh; third, Munshi Mahomed Hossein; fourth, Baboo Kali Pershad Singh, Vice-Chairman; and fifth, Baboo Nund Lall Chowdhry; and five meetings were held on the dates noted on the margin, none of which was attended by the first mentioned member.

3. Of the works executed during the year under report, the most important is the construction of a wooden bridge over a deep nullah on the Munihari road, at a cost of Rs. 750, by a contractor, Mr. Lari Verre, as stated in paragraph 4 of my report No. 245 of 12th November 1877. This road was formerly impassable on account of this nullah becoming a deep stream in the rains. But this difficulty, which so greatly effected the utility of this important road, has now been removed.

Three masonry culverts have also been constructed on this road, for which Rs. 270, out of an estimated cost of Rs. 300, have been paid.
